"The house lights are still up, stage lights down, as musicians stroll through the shadows, taking a seat on the drum riser or dropping to the floor in a circle. There is chatting and laughter amid drinks and smokes. Then a single, white spotlight hits the leader from behind: KEITH RICHARDS of THE ROLLING STONES, now on his feet, assuming the position as he fires up the first riff of the night, the clanging-guitar call to jubilant disorder in "Take It So Hard."

From the all new essay, "The Loosest Tight Band You Ever Heard" by renowned rock writer David Fricke. Featured exclusively in the reissue of KEITH RICHARDS & THE X-PENSIVE WINOS LIVE AT THE HOLLYWOOD PALLADIUM, December 15, 1988 from BMG and Mindless Records. The restoration and reissuing of the storied catalog from Keith Richards continues with this set featuring the solo hit "Take It So Hard," Richards-led Stones classic "Happy" and previously unreleased performances of "You Don't Move Me," "Little T&A" and the Lennon/McCartney-penned "I Wanna Be Your Man."

GEORGE BENSON

WEEKEND IN LONDON

STEREO SOUND
Provogue Records
33 1/3 Microgroove

GENERAL INFORMATION

ARTIST: George Benson
TITLE: Weekend In London
HOMETOWN: Pittsburgh, PA
GENRE: Jazz / R&B
PARENTAL ADVISORY STICKERED: No

BIO

At a time when most living legends would step back, slow down, and bask in their royalties, there's a creative curiosity about George Benson that has kept the veteran jazzman active and forging ahead. 'Weekend In London', a new live album set for release on November 13th through Provogue Records, brings Benson full circle. The 77-year-old estimates that almost a half-century has passed since he last performed at the fabled Ronnie Scott's Jazz Club in London. This live recording, taken from Benson's historic return to the Soho club in 2019, is another chapter in the venue's prestigious lore. It's a rare treat to find this megastar going nose-to-nose with the breathless 250 capacity club, since fans are used to seeing Benson on the big stages that befit his sky-high status. "I like that kind of intimacy," says Benson. "I can feel the love when it's up close and personal." "It was very crowded," he continues. "I'm always happy to be in those surroundings. It was a fantastic night."

This hard-bitten jazzman might prefer spontaneity to his set lists, but this latest live album nods to many of his countless career hits. Whether he's opening with the deathless groove of "Give Me The Night", revisiting fan favorites like "Love X Love" and "In Your Eyes", or breathing fresh mojo into classic covers like Dave Bartholomew's "I Hear You Knocking" and Donny Hathaway's "The Ghetto", fans will undoubtedly love every minute of this performance.

It's been a long and winding road for George Benson. Now, on 'Weekend In London', the same club that hosted that young hotshot back in the early-'70s welcomes back the older, wiser legend to burn down the house.

"A sonic masterpiece ten years ahead of its time." – John Bush/AllMusic

"Morbidly fascinating, unaccountably beautiful, and their best album yet."
– Jon Selzer/Melody Maker

Last Rights is the seventh studio album by Canadian electro-industrial band Skinny Puppy originally released in March 1992. Last Rights was well received and named by Alternative Press as one of the best albums of the 1990s and was the band's first release to chart on the Billboard 200.

Last Rights saw the band experimenting with two opposite extremes: cacophonous heavy music and gloomy melodies, resulting in moments of industrial weight as well as moments of uncharacteristic softness. The album incorporates some of the band's most impenetrable walls of sound and an eleven-minute track composed almost entirely of manipulated and distorted samples. It spawned two singles, "Inquisition" and "Left Handshake" which was distributed under the title "Track 10".

BIO

Seattle, the sprawling metropolis perched on the edge of the West Coast of the United States, is sandwiched between an arm of the Pacific Ocean to the west and Lake Washington to the east. It's the fastest-growing city in the U.S., thanks to its giant tech industry, which pulses through its veins. "We're excited about being from Seattle. Even with all of its faults, it's a great place to be," says Dragged Under vocalist, Tony Cappocchi. "I think that a lot of the lack of culture stems from the large corporations that employ the majority of the city. Most people that grow up here are on the Amazon, Microsoft, and Boeing, express. They desire to work for these big companies because it's 'what you do'. As a band we want to question that notion by doing what we want, and writing what's in our hearts"

Dragged Under have the conviction to question both themselves as well as others – which can be a heavy tool to wield. The band's debut album, "The World Is In Your Way", covers a wide range of topics including self-reflection, introspection, class barriers, mental health issues, government overreach and self-accountability. "Our main mission is to shed light on some of the issues that people find uncomfortable," Cappocchi claims. "Including responsibility and accountability. We don't subscribe to the theory that an invisible hand holds us down and keeps us low. We strive to push through that."

The band's blend of hardcore is interlaced with sublime and infectious punk-pop undertones, which stems from the music they grew up on. There is an undeniable melodic heartbeat to every song, which makes them sit front and centre of your brain upon listening. They combine massive choruses and crushing riffs recalling moments of Beartooth, Stray From The Path, While She Sleeps, Four Year Strong and A Day To Remember. After self releasing the debut album digitally, it smashed its way into the Top 10 iTunes Alternative Chart and stormed into the Billboard Charts, reaching #18 Top Alternative New Artist and #45 Top Current Hard Music which then saw them embark on a 20 date U.S. tour with The Used. That groundswell of support has seen them amass an incredible 4.5m streams in 6 months. All of this has been done following their own rules, their vision and their D.I.Y. attitude. This is a band that connects and speaks directly with their exploding fan base.

Available for the first time on physical formats, Mascot Records and Dragged Under are teaming up to releasing a deluxe version of 'The World Is In Your Way' November 13th that features two bonus songs, 'Just Like Me' and 'Feel It.'

DESCRIPTION:

WARFECT is one of the most convincing yet underrated acts in the Swedish metal scene. Straight from the Gothenburg underground, the three-piece carries their full potential to the next level with their fourth full length album Spectre of Devastation! Their debut on Napalm Records lifts the curtain and unveils a true thrash metal engine. Straight away the first notes of "Pestilence" state clear that this wrecking machine has not come to take prisoners. The Swedish artillery strikes in the tradition of Kreator, Legion Of The Damned and old school American thrash metal and paves its way with uncompromisingly driving blasts and smashing drums. "Left To Rot" mixes a blackened attitude to the Thrash outfit, while "Into The Fray" leads back to the origins of the genre by implementing fast screaming guitar tunes. The eight songs of Spectre of Devastation convince with on point production and the great mastering skills of Grammy winning producer Flemming Rasmussen, who burst onto the scene by working on Rainbow's Difficult To Cure and Metallica's all time genre classics Ride The Lightning, Masters Of Puppets and ...And Justice For All, before he won the Grammy for his work on the legendary song "One". The exceptional cover artwork is illustrated by leading German cover artwork designer Andreas Marschall, known for his work for bands like King Diamond, Kreator, Sodom, Obituary or Blind Guardian, to just name a few. This Thrash Metal powerhouse pushes itself through spheres of pure heaviness directly into your core!

Daniel Avery

Love + Light

Street Date: 11/13/20

Daniel Avery returns with the surprise album Love + Light, his third full-length record. Love + Light will be released on Mute on November 13 on limited edition milky clear vinyl and CD (digital release June 26). The ethereal artwork is taken from an image by Avery's tour photographer, Keffer.

Love + Light arrives unexpectedly following Avery's recent collaborations with Alessandro Cortini on the critically acclaimed Illusion of Time LP and alongside Roman Flügel under the alias of Noun. Pitchfork described Illusion of Time as "expansive in scope, charmingly rough around the edges, and brimming with possibility...a beautiful record that takes wonder as its defining characteristic," while Loud & Quiet hailed it as "a record that suggests Godspeed You! Black Emperor in drone mode, reimagining Music For Airports as if the runways were covered in gravel and air traffic control was on strike." Avery's previous solo album Song For Alpha was released in 2018 to similar acclaim.

Avery shares, "This record has been a real positive force of energy in my life, to the point where it almost formed itself in front of me. In that same spirit, I wanted to share it with you now, as soon as it was finished. As I started to collect the pieces together, it was apparent that the album would be split into two distinct halves but halves that were inexorably tied together. One could not have existed without the other. Music has always been a source of personal strength for me yet I remain fascinated by the power it can possess of its own volition. Releasing the record in this way, just a couple of weeks after the final note had fallen, felt like a decision made by an outside force yet one I agreed with entirely. Stay safe, friends and I'll see you on the other side soon. DA xxx"

THE BRONX CASKET CO.

THE COMPLETE COLLECTION (BOX SET)

For fans of Type O Negative, Danzig, Overkill, Bronx Casket Co. & Gothic Metal!

If you ever hoped that Type O Negative would just break out and be metal, you just discovered your new favorite band. The Bronx Casket Co. was founded by Overkill bassist and main songwriter DD Verni. The first self-titled "Bronx Casket Co." was originally released in Europe by Massacre Records in 1999, and followed up by "Sweet Home Transylvania" in 2001, "Hellectric" in 2005 and "Antihero" in 2011.

Verni's clear groove oriented bass drives the entire band along with drummer Tim Mallare (Overkill, M.O.D.) on the first 3 releases and Rob Pallota (25 ta Life) on the later. Along with keyboardist Charlie Calv (Angel, Shotgun Symphony) offering everything from a chiller thriller sound to dramatic sorrow laden atmospheric sounds. Guitars provide by Jack Frost (Savatage, Seven Witches, Lizzy Borden) remain chunky, heavy and when the solo opportunities arrive, rip. Lyrics and melodies express a dark, disturbing and satirical sliver of Verni's personality that Overkill's thrash style never could. The Bronx Casket Company just raised the benchmark for doom and goth. Originally fronted by Myke Hideous (The Misfits, Empire Hideous) on the first 3 albums with DD taking over vocals full time on Antihero.

This release is completely re-mastered by Alan Douches (The Misfits, Mastodon, etc...) and includes a bonus disc of early demos, unreleased remixes, a cover of The Misfits classic "Ghouls Night Out". Plus a brand newly recorded mash up of the classic Black Sabbath tracks "The Writ/Megalomania" entitled "Sabatage-d". Put together just for this Limited Edition (500 copies) Box Set "The Complete Collection".

THE dirty knobs

While 2020's Wreckless Abandon is their first official release, The Dirty Knobs first came together 15 years ago after Mike Campbell met guitarist Jason Sinay at a session and liked the way their guitars sounded together. After adding the acclaimed rhythm section of bassist Lance Morrison and drummer Matt Laug, The Dirty Knobs became an outlet for Campbell to work on some of the other songs he was writing between Tom Petty and The Heartbreakers records and touring.

They got together when schedules permitted, playing music without an agenda, expectations or deadlines, without worrying about outcome or hits, pushing boundaries of taste, imagination, and genres and creating some of the most brutally confident yet psychically dangerous rock and roll since sonic-renegade juggernauts the Yardbirds first sauntered onto a London stage and ripped into "For Your Love."

As the years went on the Knobs played out here and there, almost incognito, in little clubs in Southern California. Finally, it became clear they should take what they did to the next level. Campbell's long-time compatriot, friend and bandmate, Tom Petty, had passed away, and after the numbing grief abated some, the guitarist knew the only way to heal some of the pain was to throw himself wholeheartedly back into his music.

They recorded the album at Campbell's home studio, Hocus Pocus Recorders, in just three weeks' time, before the guitarist went out on the road in 2018 as a member of Fleetwood Mac. The Knobs tapped legendary producer George Drakoulias, who had also produced Tom Petty and The Heartbreakers' 2002 LP The Last DJ, to co-produce, with all songs written by Campbell.

The album features further contributions from Grammy-winning singer, songwriter and guitarist Chris Stapleton as well as fellow Tom Petty and The Heartbreakers founding-member, Benmont Tench. Additionally, Klaus Voormann, who is best known for doing the art for The Beatles' Revolver, created the album artwork.

DESCRIPTION:

On March 5, 2020, Ukrainian modern metal juggernauts JINJER played one of their last shows before the world went on a global lockdown due to the Covid-19 pandemic, making it a historical event in the band's successful career, just as they intended to take the world by storm by supporting their critically acclaimed new album, Macro, on their extensive world tour, starting in Australia. "It was a time when we all thought things will be alright. Plans were set! Heads full of hopes! Just a few days before everything came crumbling down and to a screeching halt... It was one of the last metal shows on the planet. It was one of the first and sadly one the last shows of the Macro World Tour - so we were extremely lucky to have this on record and film alike", comments the band. Having recently been streamed in its entirety as part of the Slipknot founded Knotfest.com weekly concert streaming series, the ferocious live performance screamed for an audio release as well, documenting what club culture had been just a few months ago, aching to come back as soon as possible. Including hits such as "Teacher, Teacher!", "On the Top" and "Pisces", Alive In Melbourne will be available digitally as well as on CD, various Vinyl colors and as a deluxe edition.

LIGHTNING TO THE NATIONS 2020: HEAVY METAL RE-BORN AND RE-ENERGISED AS DIAMOND HEAD RELEASE 40th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION OF DEBUT ALBUM

Re-imagined, re-recorded and re-born, Diamond Head's forthcoming 40-year celebration of their genre-defining debut album Lightning To The Nations is a scintillating shot of fresh metal energy. Taking the material which spawned the ground-breaking New Wave of British Heavy Metal (NWOBHM), Diamond Head utilise all their skill, experience and revitalised energy to breathe so much new life into these freshly recorded takes that it feels like experiencing the earth shaking all over again.

The levels of fresh energy in these celebration sessions will blow doors and socks off all who hear them, and the potency of timeless riffage such as "It's Electric" and "The Prince" literally scream at the listener. Founder member, lead guitarist/songsmith Brian Tatler and rhythm guitarist Andy Abberley give the guitars a new razor edge, Karl Wilcox on drums and Dean Ashton on bass are a buoyant bombastic platform, while vocalist Rasmus Bom Andersen brings a brilliant new take on the vocals.

Anderson also produced and mixed the album with a freshness and attack which will thrill fans old and new. As if that wasn't enough, Diamond Head add four covers to the album, Judas Priest's "Sinner", Led Zeppelin's "Immigrant Song", Deep Purple's "Rat Bat Blue" and a stunning take of Metallica's "No Remorse", which is a tribute's tribute to the band who openly formed under enormous influence from Diamond Head, and covered several of the songs on Lightning To The Nations, decades ago. Diamond Head's debut was a classic once already; it is about to be a stone cold classic once more. Available as a CD Digipak, Double Black Vinyl Album housed in Gatefold and digital formats.

THE SUITCASE JUNKET THE END IS NEW

RELEASE DATE November 20, 2020

Matt Lorenz's vision, manifest in The Suitcase Junket, has always existed in the tension between the grand and the solitary. Grand in its imagery and staging. Solitary in its thrift and self-reliance. What instruments he requires, Lorenz builds from scratch and salvage. What parts five players would perform, he plays alone. The spectacle of his one-man set bears constant comparison to icons of showmanship, genius, madness, and invention.

While audiences are initially captivated by that solitary form and skill, Lorenz is most serious about the writing. With this 2020 release, The End is New, his attention to the song and the sound overrides the how of it. Produced by trusted friend, producer and Los Lobos saxophonist Steve Berlin, and released by BMG's new Americana label Renew Records, The End is New is an artist expanding, collaborating, matching his lyric power over eleven tracks with the epic range and narratives of his imagination.

"I told Steve I wanted to make a doom-folk record. That's what I'd started calling my music when people asked," says Lorenz. "Neither of us knew quite what that meant at the time, but I think we found out with The End is New. There's a heavy mix of hope and desperation in the sound and lyrically I was trying to be a mirror to society using truth, myth, confessions and stories."

Lorenz and Berlin polished off the record during the pandemic of 2020, recording and mixing from home studios over months of isolation. Berlin laid keys on several tracks, and sax on "When the Battle is Won." J Mascis (Dinosaur Jr.) makes a ripping appearance on "Light a Candle." Studio musicians brought bass, percussion, vocals, clavinet, organ, drums. From the romp of "Jesus! King of the Dinosaurs" to the roar of "Can't Look Away" the sound is bigger than ever. "The things I value are under attack and writing songs and making art are the methods I have for responding," says Lorenz. "I have tried to use my observations and reflections of the world bent through my fun-house-mirror mind to show what I see. We can do better."

Raised in Cavendish, Vermont, Matt Lorenz began playing piano at age five, and later took up violin, saxophone, and guitar. He now homesteads with chickens and rescue dogs in rural Western Massachusetts. 'The Suitcase Junket' is a nod to his longtime love of collecting old suitcases, including the one that serves as his bass drum, and to a secondary definition of junket, i.e. "a pleasure excursion."

QUOTES

- "The Suitcase Junket is a master of musical imagination" — NPR World Cafe
- "The overall sound lands somewhere between the Avett Brothers and early, dirty Black Keys. There's a Tom Waits-vibe in the fuzzy-megaphone reverb mic, and something ancient, near tribal, in his whistles and moans." — The Boston Globe
- "This guy's a maniac — a one-man band, dumpster-guitar-playing maniac. Strumming a salvaged guitar, banging on a box of cutlery, and releasing a dynamite voice, The Suitcase Junket is the real deal — and one of the most electric souls we've ever seen on stage." — MASS MoCA's FreshGrass
- "Most of the time making records for a living is both fun and edifying, but every once and a while I get rewarded with a simply superlative experience, and making The End Is New was certainly one of those. We had a blast building these ideas into songs, and Matt's endless inventiveness made each workday a genuine pleasure. His talent is a unique gift, and I'm honored to be part of the story of this record." — Steve Berlin, Producer

CABARET VOLTAIRE

SHADOW OF FEAR

Street Date: 11/20/20

Mute are excited to announce the release of Cabaret Voltaire's new album Shadow of Fear, to be released November 20 on CD, limited edition double purple vinyl, and all digital platforms.

Shadow of Fear is Cabaret Voltaire's first studio album in 26 years. A live performance at Berlin's Atonal was the band's first show since November 1992 and began a new era for the pioneering Sheffield outfit, whose influence across electronic, post-punk and industrial music remains untouchable. Originally active between 1973-1994 - featuring Chris Watson until 1981 and Stephen Mallinder until 1994 - the group remained inactive for 20 years. Richard H. Kirk is the sole remaining member, having taken a break to pursue various other projects, releasing countless acclaimed solo albums, as well as under other monikers such as Sandoz. He'd also already invented bleep techno along the way via his groundbreaking work in Sweet Exorcist.

Whilst most artists may take the conventional route and write material to be able to tour, Kirk took the unique approach and began to form a new album plucked from a series of pulverising live shows. The result is an album that defies categorisation. The tone and personality of Cabaret Voltaire is ingrained into its core as it dances across techno, dub, house, 1970s Germany, and general esoteric explorations coupled with mangled vocal samples.

With three UK Top 10 hits, three Grammy nominations and a succession of classics such as 'Superstylin', 'Song 4 Mutya (Out of Control)', 'I See You Baby', 'Paper Romance' and 'At The River', Groove Armada are one of the most influential forces in dance music. Now the duo – Tom Findlay and Andy Cato – add a new chapter to their storied history with the release of the new album 'Edge of the Horizon'.

It's been ten years since Groove Armada released their landmark album 'Black Light'. They've been active in recent years - DJ sets, select live shows and the 'Twenty One Years' compilation - yet the prospect of a new album seemed unlikely. That all changed when they stepped out at the Boomtown Festival and saw the reaction from long-term fans and newcomers alike.

"We walked on stage to a young crowd, there were 40,000 people there," smiles Cato. "We had the most amazing Hollywood Bowl type view from the stage and it just felt so fresh and relevant."

Initially they planned to complete some half-finished ideas that remained from the 'Black Light' era. Elements of the title track and 'Holding Strong' both remain from that original plan, but ultimately their creative connection resulted in their upcoming seventh album.

The album's lead single 'Get Out On The Dancefloor' puts an esoteric slant on their sound. The track features key 'Black Light' collaborator Nick Littlemore (Empire Of The Sun, Pnau), whose stream-of-consciousness vocals merge with Groove Armada's slick grooves to feel like a motorik twist on Talking Heads. The duo had accumulated hundreds of extracts of Littlemore's vocals and painstakingly edited them together into something fresh and vibrant.
