Moon Taxi will release their sixth full-length album, Silver Dream, on January 22, 2021. Guitarist Spencer Thomson commented, "We hope we're giving people something to look forward to. We're really excited and proud of the album and can't wait to share the experience of it."

The band initially set the stage for Silver Dream with the Top 20 Triple A radio hit "Hometown Heroes." The song was heralded by Uproxx as "an alt-rock track that sounds like it was made for the radio," while AltPress said, "the celebratory nature of the song is so enriching, it practically promises you'll make it through the day." They followed with the inspiring track "Light Up" which Alternative Press called "the uplifting track everyone needs to hear right now" and "One Step Away." "Light Up" was also notably synced in the Jeep End of Summer campaign and ESPN's SEC Network adopted "One Step Away" as an anthem for the 2020 college football season's televised games, playing on various promos, spots, broadcasts, and more.

While Moon Taxi has undoubtedly earned its place as hometown heroes in Nashville – selling out two consecutive nights at famed Ryman Auditorium and earning praise from the Tennessean ("Moon Taxi evolves from 'college project' to rock stars") – the band has also built an enormous national following. The five-piece has released five studio albums, including 2018's Let The Record Play. "Two High," the first single from Let The Record Play, catapulted Moon Taxi to new heights, amassing over 130 million streams on Spotify to date, topping the AAA radio airplay chart and becoming a Top 10 hit at the Alternative format.

The band has thrived on the touring circuit, with electrifying performances at festivals such as Coachella, Austin City Limits and Bonnaroo and sold-out headline shows across North America. Moon Taxi's television performances include "TODAY," "Jimmy Kimmel Live," "Late Night with Seth Meyers" and "Conan." The band's inspiring, inclusive songs have been tapped for numerous ad campaigns, including JEEP, Microsoft Surface Pro, McDonald's and BMW, as well as for landmark sporting events like the Olympics, MLB, NFL and NHL.

Rolling Stone observed, "Over the last few years, Nashville's Moon Taxi have worked their way up from Bonnaroo buzz-band to something approaching Kings of Leon country, playing a pleasingly cross-bred rock - a little indie, a little proggy, kinda poppy." NPR's World Cafe praised the band's "strong pop sense expressed through the soulful vocals of Trevor Terndrup and an experimental edge that connects it to synth pop and electronic dance music." PopMatters said, "Moon Taxi's offering of optimistic pop rock serves well as an energy and mood booster..."

Moon Taxi is Trevor Terndrup (vocals, guitarist), Spencer Thomson (lead guitarist and producer), Wes Bailey (keyboardist), Tommy Putnam (bassist) and Tyler Ritter (drummer).

Sky Eats Airplane

Everything Perfect On The Wrong Day

Talk about leaving things up in the air. Not since November of 2012 has Sky Eats Airplane addressed their fans in any way, and to this day, they still don't know what happened (though all would agree it ended far too early).

For years now, Tragic Hero Records has heard time and again how influential and meaningful Everything Perfect on the Wrong Day by Sky Eats Airplane has been for both artists and fans. So, nearly 14 years later, and after a multitude of fan requests, Tragic and SEA have decided to press and release the album on vinyl.

When the record originally came out, it had the exact polarizing reaction among critics that often makes musicians the stuff of legends. At first glance, EPOTWD is indicative of the macabre-neon presentation of the so-called "Myspace era," but throughout the last decade this album has proved to be tremendously ahead of its time, even influencing modern popular artists like Zedd and Post Malone.

Sky Eats Airplane's Everything Perfect On The Wrong Day finally sees it's first pressing to vinyl. With a retail limit of 500 units only you can expect Everything Perfect On The Wrong Day to hit stores 01/22/2021 via Tragic Hero Records.

DESCRIPTION:

Thrash metal powerhouse NERVOSA attacks with inexorable full femme power, leaving the world in Perpetual Chaos. The newly staffed quartet showcases their ability for impetuously feral, pungently sharp riffs and aggressive vocals on 13 massive tracks. The new line up – featuring founding guitarist Prika Amaral and talented new members Diva Satanica on vocals, Mia Wallace on bass and Eleni Nota on drums – delivers a massive punch of thrash spliced with remarkable death metal assaults. The powerful new formation of NERVOSA adds a contemporary touch to this already thrashing institution of metal. Since their formation in 2010 and leading up to their latest full-length surge, 2018's groundbreaking Downfall of Mankind, NERVOSA has delivered pure brute records in consistent intervals. Their fourth full-length, Perpetual Chaos, builds upon the turbulence – adding diverse musical elements to create an infallible new standout. Guided by a marvelous force of uncompromising thrash and death metal, their raw power has its finger on the pulse of time: lyrically, the four piece does not hesitate to tackle issues that impact the very core of society as we know it. From political grievances and amplifying the voices of minorities to protesting against factory farming, capitalism and succumbing to the ill-informed musings of social elites - these commanding women do not mince words. Tracks like the airtight opener "Venomous", the fast-twitching "Until The Very End" and "Time To Fight" prove that NERVOSA's revitalized identity experiments with both fresh new elements and crucial auditory foundations without succumbing to any clichés. "Genocidal Command" perks ears with Diva Satanica's vocal eloquence, accented by the outstanding range of Schmier (DESTRUCTION) whilst mirroring a rousing thrash metal manifest. On Perpetual Chaos, the four-piece once again joins forces with producer Martin Furia, recognized for producing Downfall of Mankind, in addition to working with EVIL INVADERS, SISTERS OF SUFFOCATION, etc. in studio, DESTRUCTION, FLOTSAM AND JETSAM, etc. live and many more. A tremendous outcome awaits with brawl-brushed guitar lines, blisteringly fast drums and critical lyricism – striking the listener in a way only NERVOSA could. Viva Perpetual Chaos!"

DESCRIPTION:

EKTOMORF return to their musical roots and are Reborn under the sign of thrash metal after 26 years of existence. With their debut on Napalm Records, the Hungarian power machine transports the genre into a promising, modern era and sets itself free from any pigeonholes. Songs like the opening „Ebullition“, the furious menace „Fear Me“ or the energetic, angsty wrecking ball „Smashing The Past“ spark off with complete power, always pulling straight forward with no distraction by detaining side scenes. Without making any compromises, EKTOMORF shred their way through eight numbers, pushing each other even further while keeping the usual in-your-face-mentality pervasive at all times. Since their debut, Hangok (1994), the four-piece around singer/guitarist Zoltán „Zoli“ Farkas has been regularly delivering new power to their devotees. Only three years after the release of their chart-breaking full-length, Fury, Reborn ignites a blazing fire with its heavy sound and harsh lyrics that will burn any genre limitation to the ground. Their 15th studio album breathes the spirit of the “Big Four” - Metallica, Slayer, Anthrax and Megadeth – while at the same time, beginning of a completely independent new chapter of EKTOMORF. Be prepared for this thunderous onslaught! With Reborn, EKTOMORF confidently kicks off a new chapter, taking along anyone who crosses the path of this thrash metal bullet with them!

KIWI JR. COOLER RETURNS

SUB
POP

CD / LP / CS / DIGITAL

SP 1400

RELEASE DATE: JANUARY 22ND, 2021

NON-EXPORTABLE
OUTSIDE OF THE US.

Kiwi Jr. is a phenomenal “rock” and/or “punk” and/or “indie-rock” (whichever you like more) band from Canada, made up of Jeremy Gaudet (mic, guitar), Brohan Moore (drums), Mike Walker (bass), and Brian Murphy (guitar). Cooler Returns is their second album, and their first for Sub Pop. Despite being a snapshot of the pandemic-infused beginnings of this decade, Cooler Returns is truly a whole lot of fun. R.I.Y.L indie-pop from down under, things that are smart/exuberant/catchy all at once.

Buildings burning in every direction; macabre unknowns in your friendly neighbor’s basement; undecided voters sharpening their pencils: under pressure we could call Kiwi Jr.’s Cooler Returns “timely.” But what year is it, again? On Cooler Returns, Kiwi Jr. cycle through the recent zigs & looming zags of the new decade, squinting anew at New Year’s parties forgotten and under-investigated small town diner fires, piecing together low-stakes conspiracy theories on what’s coming down the pike in 2021. Put together like a thousand-piece puzzle, assembled in flow state through the first dull stretch of quarantine, sanitized singer shuffling to sanitized studio by streetcar, masked like it’s the kind of work where getting recognized means getting killed, Cooler Returns materializes as a sprawling survey from the first few bites of the terrible twenties, an investigative exposé of recent history buried under the headlines & ancient kings buried under parking lots.

Not so long since their debut Football Money in archaeological time, unending gray eons later in the dog years of quaran-time, spiritually antipodean Canadians Kiwi Jr return to disseminate this year’s annual report to the shareholders, burying the incriminating numbers in the endless appendices of a longform narrative record, a 3,000 word tract for stakeholders to pore over. These stories - memories of Augusts past, unrepressed & transcribed fast - go down easier thanks to meaningful changes enacted in 2019’s KiwiCares Pledge: delivering on a promise to transition from Crunchy to Smooth by 2021, the caveman chug of Football Money has been steamed & pressed with the purifying air of a saloon piano - operated with bow-tie untied - and a spring green side-salad of tentatively up-tempo organ taps & freshly fluted harmonica.

A chronically detuned spin of the dial through swivel-chair distractions & WFH daydreams, an immersive ctrl-tab deluge cycling through popular listicle distractions like the unentombing of Richard III, or the deja vu destruction of the Glasgow School of Art, Kiwi Jr. sing this song to an indoor audience, crisscrossing canceled, every other prestige distraction source wrung dry, only songwriting remaining to deliver engrossing tales to the populace, just how I imagine it worked in the old days. Fixing loose ingredients into a sturdy whip, Kiwi Jr. beam in live from the 9-5, striding into 2021 with a mastered brainwave that comes equally from the back room of the record store as the penalty box. And how do we, left holding this box of deliberate entanglements, sign off to those as yet uninitiated, undecided, uncertain, unseen, absent return coordinates - Best Wishes, Warm Regards, Good Luck? Cooler Returns, Cooler Returns, Cooler Returns!

Cooler Returns was produced by Kiwi Jr., mixed and engineered by Graham Walsh (METZ, Bully) in Toronto, and mastered by Phillip Shaw Bova at Bova Labs in Ottawa, Ontario.

SOEN TO RELEASE FIFTH ALBUM, IMPERIAL WITH SILVER LINING MUSIC ON JANUARY 29th 2021

The provocative, challenging, imperious and entertaining Swedish-based progressive metal group Soen will unveil their fifth album, IMPERIAL, via Silver Lining Music on January 29th 2021. Founder members Joel Ekelöf (vocals) and Martin Lopez (drums), along with Lars Åhlund (keys and guitar), Cody Ford (lead guitar) and Oleksii 'Zlatoyar' Kobel (bass) have never shied away from challenging our perceptions of life and humanity, and IMPERIAL continues Soen's unique journey through the psyche of our species and the conundrum of our times, complicated yet further by the COVID-19 pandemic crisis.

Lead single "Antagonist" storms through the gates with a massive heavy riff of intent, followed by an epic blend of strength, beauty and defiance which will excite old school Soen-ers and new fans alike. With the sleeve art's beautiful yet deadly dark snake further informing a deep and twisted series of tales within, IMPERIAL stands to be another outstanding chapter in Soen's ever-expanding legacy.

THE THIRD CHIMPANZEE

Street Date: 1/29/21

Mute are excited to announce the release of Martin Gore's EP The Third Chimpanzee on January 29. It will be available on limited azure blue vinyl packaged in a debossed sleeve with an art print, CD packaged in a spined wallet with inner sleeve and debossing, and all digital platforms.

The Third Chimpanzee is the brand new EP from Martin Gore, one of the founding members and primary songwriter of Depeche Mode. Over five brand new tracks Gore explores euphoric modular sounds and develops his career long relationship with electronic music. The EP follows his eponymous album MG in 2015 and SSSS, his collaboration with Erasure's Vince Clarke for their VCMG project. The artwork was created by Pockets Warhol, a capuchin monkey based in Canada who paints for charity.

Martin Gore was inducted into The Rock & Roll Hall of Fame as a member of Depeche Mode in 2020.

SHELTER

"Pristine, solemn and somehow consoling" New York Times      "comforting" NPR

Shelter is a collection of eight disarmingly beautiful piano nocturnes recorded over two days following lockdown in New York City. It is a love letter to his partner from who he has been separated as well as well as a love letter to New York City itself – Bartlett's home for the last 21 years. Traditionally inspired by the night, the nocturne offers an entry into what is understood in the heart rather than the head; it is a way of assimilating what can't be put into words.

Thomas Bartlett aka Doveman is an American pianist, producer and singer. He has released four albums as Doveman, four albums as a member of the Gloaming and duo albums with the composer Nico Muhly and hardanger d'amore player Caoimhin O' Raghallaigh. As a producer he has worked with a range of notable artists including The National, Sufjan Stevens, St. Vincent, Florence & the Machine, Yoko Ono among many others. His work with Sufjan Stevens for the Soundtrack Call Me By Your Name was nominated for both an Academy Award and Grammy.

The Sonder Bombs have doubled down on their second record. 2018's debut MODERN FEMALE ROCKSTAR was their first bet: an all-caps attack against a male-dominated scene brandishing a ukulele and dry wit as chosen weapons. A year and some change passed, where the Cleveland band's relentless touring ethic and tough love caused a homegrown fan base to explode worldwide. Clothbound, like the title suggests, weaves a different narrative—one of loss, letting go, and losing patience with losers. If the first record introduced unapologetic sensitivity, Clothbound searches for the root causes of other key elements.

Produced in Philadelphia during quarantine with Joe Reinhart (Hop Along, Beach Bunny), Clothbound captures a band burning at both ends. Fans of vocalist/ukulele/guitarist Willow Hawks' exasperated kiss-offs will have plenty to unpack here, from the frantic goodbyes spat through "Swing on Sight" or "What Are Friends For," where Hawks entertains this question while the background smolders around the punctuation—a ukulele strum here, Willow Hawks' vocal line trailing like an asteroid collision there. As this is the second volume in the Sondie songbook, evolved moments, like the acoustic-electric elegy "Scattered," sit near the band at their most sloganeering and effective. "Crying is Cool," a live staple eagerly awaiting its reveal, teaches listeners of all ages that it's okay to hole up with your feelings as long as you give them room to grow. The band's also not afraid of taking their own advice, letting their emotions run wild on "K.," an absolute barnstormer of a track where the Bombs fire off all cylinders while winking to hardcore and metal. The chips are down and the deck is stacked here. The band's all in. Are you?

Clothbound hits stores on CD and Vinyl January 29th, 2021.

MIRAGES

For fans of Ryuichi Sakamoto, Boards of Canada, Linda May Han Oh, Supersilent, Nels Cline, Makaya McCraven, and Haruka Nakamura!

Born in Pinsk, Belarus in 1984 and immigrating to Canada in 1992 with the collapse of the USSR; Alexei Orechin has been actively shaping musical environments with his current projects No Seas, a solo project for guitar and tape, and leading his own ensemble incorporating jazz, chamber, and experimental elements into his compositional work.

A diverse talent that is reflected in the company he has shared the stage with: Nas, Akae Beka, Rana Mansour, Shad, Yaadcore, and Sina Bathaie. He has played in USA, Mexico, Europe, and Russia. Performances include the TD and Montreal Jazz Festivals, Caribana, Irie Music Festival, Tirgan Festival, and Pride Toronto. His music for film has been featured at TIFF, CFC, NFB and the Warsaw Jewish Film Festival. He has been featured on CBC, Noisey, Global News, The Star, Dub Rockers, Huffpost, Afropunk, and Relix magazine.

2020 saw the premier of '1992 Ambient', a 45-minute long composition that is a 'therapeutic experiment in slowly melting sound and colour; representing the acculturation and restructuring oneself through emigrating from Russia to Canada in 1992'.

2020 will also see the release of his debut full length album Mirages; an album that showcases his diverse and ever evolving style of composition, ranging from moments of melodic solitude to fractal experimentalism.
