MACEO PARKER

SOUL FOOD

Cooking
-WITH-Maceo

GENERAL INFORMATION

ARTIST: Maceo Parker
 TITLE: Soul Food – Cooking with Maceo
 HOMETOWN: Kingston, North Carolina
 GENRE: R&B Soul / Jazz
 PARENTAL ADVISORY STICKERED: No

BIO

Maceo Parker, American funk and soul jazz saxophonist best known for his work with James Brown in the 1960's, as well as Parliament-Funkadelic in the 1970's, returns with his first solo album in 8 years.

Recorded at House of 1000hz in New Orleans, this new album features Parker's signature punchy saxophone sound, as well as an ensemble from New Orleans multi-instrumentalist Ivan Neville (keyboards), Nikki Glaspie (drums) and Tony Hall (bass) that mix together to create a fresh selection of soul-funk infused Jazz classics, as well as a few Parker originals.

Produced by Eli Wolf (Norah Jones, Madlib, Al Green), the rich flavors and sounds of New Orleans weave their way through the album and his band take on iconic songs of the Mississippi masters such as Dr. John's 'Right Place, Wrong Time', The Meters 'Just Kissed My Baby,' and Allen Toussaint's 'Yes, We Can Can'. Additionally, this album features takes on unique covers of Aretha Franklin's 'Rock Steady', Prince's 'The Other Side of the Pillow' and David "Fathead" Newman's 'Hard Times'. We also get funky workouts from Parkers own back catalogue on 'Maceo' and 'Cross The Tracks'.

'Soul Food - Cooking with Maceo' will be released on June 26th and will be the first album on the Mascot Label Group's new imprint, The Funk Garage.

The Staples / Unlock Your Mind

Grammy® Lifetime Achievement Award Recipients and Rock & Roll and Gospel Hall of Fame Inductees, The Staple Singers are an American music treasure.

In the 50s they were among the greatest of the post-war gospel groups. The 60s found them recording for a variety of labels like Vee-Jay, Riverside, Epic and ultimately Stax, pioneering the 'soul folk' sound. By the end of the decade, they were becoming the soul music superstars they're most widely known as now.

During the '70s, they placed 13 singles on the U.S. Pop Chart and 20 on the U.S. R&B Chart. Besides recording, touring and chasing songs up the charts, the group also found time to not only appear in music-related motion pictures like Wattstax (1972) and The Bands' The Last Waltz (1976), but they also contributed to the Sidney Poitier-directed film soundtrack, Let's Do It Again with music produced by Curtis Mayfield. This, their first post-Stax effort, sent the title track, "Let's Do It Again" to the number one spot on both the Pop and R&B charts.

While Curtis Mayfield produced Let's Do It Again and 1976's Pass It On, The Staples switched it up on 1977's Family Tree opting to work with another Chicago-based producer Eugene Record who had experienced his own chart success co-writing and singing lead on a number of hits with his band the Chi-Lites. For their last Warner Bros. effort, The Staples once again moved to a new producer, this time enlisting the legendary Jerry Wexler to helm alongside Muscle Shoals keyboard great, Barry Beckett. The sessions also reunited The Staples with guitarist Eddie Hinton who had contributed lead to Staples Stax sessions in the early '70s. The first single, the title track, "Unlock Your Mind" was their best showing on the charts since "Let's Do It Again" landing at #16 on the R&B charts. However, its follow up, "Chica Boom" only climbed as high as #82.

Though the hits slowed after the mid-'70s, they did have a number 5 dance chart hit with a cover of the Talking Heads song, "Slippery People" in 1984. Mavis Staples had been releasing solo albums dating back to 1969's self-titled effort on Stax, but started to pick up the release tempo and carry the family business forward with a pair of albums for the Paisley Park label under the direction of Prince in 1989 and 1993. She continues performing and releasing albums to this day, working with artists and producers like Ry Cooder, Jeff Tweedy, Arcade Fire, Gorillaz, and Ben Harper, among others.

The album spun off two singles. The first, "See A Little Further (Than My Bed)" only made it to #77 on the R&B chart, but the second, a cover of "I Honestly Love You" made popular by Olivia Newton-John was a seven minute plus epic. Sadly, it too didn't do much on the charts, making it only as high as the #68 notch, but it is among Mavis Staples' greatest recordings.

Though the hits slowed after the mid-'70s, they did have a number 5 dance chart hit with a cover of the Talking Heads song, "Slippery People" in 1984. MIKE LEPOND'S SILENT ASSASSINS TO RELEASE THIRD SOLO ALBUM, WHORE OF BABYLON, THROUGH SILVER LINING MUSIC ON JUNE 26TH 2020.

Forging a union between the mighty worlds of heavy metal and ancient history, Mike LePond's Silent Assassins are on a mission. Whore of Babylon, their third album, is a no-holds barred, gauntlet-thrown, real heavy metal mission lead by LePond (known worldwide as one of the foremost bass virtuosos in heavy metal music and a member of progressive metal band Symphony X). If you never knew what it was like to experience the might of metal from the old school, Whore of Babylon will riotously teach you.

From the scintillating fury of "Dracul Son" to the baroque mystery of the title track, LePond has written and produced the sort of album that old school metalheads dream of, with the likes of "Ironborn"'s steel-clad riffs swinging like battle swords, no concessions accepted and full-cranial impact guaranteed. Ranging from looking into Julius Caesar on "Ides of March" to the Countess Báthory on "Lady Bathory", and with each exploration thunderously scored by LePond, you can be certain that the Silent Assassins' classic metal mission is richer than ever.

DESCRIPTION:

Ever since the band's founding in late 2004, AHAB have been exploring the deep dark sea, while becoming the true masters of solemn melancholy. Not only did the four-piece create their very own sub-genre, Nautic Funeral Doom, but never has pessimism sounded so beautiful. AHAB's impressive live show at Death Row Fest 2017 in Jena, Germany was recorded by the festival's in-house sound engineer, who handed the band their footage on a USB-stick after their intense and memorable gig. Now, and as a special highlight in the band's history mastered by Role Wiegner at Tonmeistererei, AHAB have chosen a finest selection of live tracks, originally released on their pathbreaking, 2006 album, The Call of the Wretched Sea! Live Prey, the first live release by the nautical doom heavyweights, is gracefully nestled in between slow-motion grooves, big riffs, and haunting melodies accented by the angelic but guttural vocals of Daniel Droste, in an apocalyptic live sound as you would experience it only from the front row at an AHAB show. Featuring five blackened doom anthems such as "Below the Sun", the majestic beast "Old Thunder", or the almost 17-minute long magnum opus "The Hunt", Live Prey is the ultimate live record by the undisputed sailors of slow heaviness! An indispensable must-have album that belongs in every well-sorted Doom, Black Metal, and especially AHAB record collection.

BLACK ARK VOL. 2

Catalog #: VP2711

VINYL TRACK LISTING

5. Let Love Touch Us Now - Bunny Rugs

7. Got To Be Irie - The Originals
8. Double Wine - The Upsetters

OVERVIEW

Black Ark Vol. 2 is another piece of Lee ‘Scratch’ Perry’s limitless musical puzzle. It’s a bedrock of deep and heavy rhythms recorded around Jamaica just before the demise of Perry’s famed Black Ark Studio.

Black Ark Vol. 2 is the follow up album to the acclaimed Black Ark In Dub that unsurprisingly for an Upsetter release, took a different path. More vocal oriented, the album features extended dubwise cuts of (former wife and co-producer) Carol Cole’s ‘Ethiopia’, The Originals ‘Got To Be Irie’, Junior Byles ‘Mumbling & Grumbling and The Inamans remake of the Bee Gees hit ‘How Deep Is your Love’, along with an alternate take of the Silvertones roots classic ‘Give Thanks’ with flute overdub and a couple of solid covers from Third World lead vocalist Bunny Rugs.

Originally released in 1981 the hard to find Black Ark Vol. 2 remains a frozen sonic timepiece, captured at the beginning of the end of one era and poised at the start of another.

OVERVIEW

Black Ark In Dub is another piece of Lee 'Scratch' Perry's limitless musical puzzle. Featuring a bedrock of deep and heavy rhythms recorded at the Black Ark studio just before its demise.

Black Ark In Dub features bass heavy, spooky dub deconstructions of 'Jah Love Is Sweeter', 'Ethiopia', 'Lion A De Winner', 'Open The Gate', 'Guideline,' and 'Mr Money Man', along with an embellished dub version of Ras Keatus I 'Dreadlocks I' and the much sought after 'Guidance' a longtime Jah Shaka Sound System killer exclusive (to this set).

Originally released in 1981, the hard to find Black Ark In Dub remains a frozen sonic timepiece, captured at the beginning of the end of one era and poised at the start of another. Black Ark Vol. 2 (the follow up to this classic set) will be released simultaneously, which is a treat for dub and Scratch Perry fans.

MEET YOUR MAKER

COMEBACK ALBUM FROM THE FOUNDERS OF DANISH MELO-DEATH.

Swedish melodic death metal, the so-called melo-death, got its breakthrough in the mid-1990s with especially bands from Gothenburg such as In Flames, At The Gates and Dark Tranquillity. Withering Surface from Næstved, Denmark quickly captured the new special genre and since then marked the band as the most successful Danish melodic death metal band since its foundation in 1994 and until the band took a break in 2005. Four albums and additional EP / single / demo releases made it into the bands career.

The new album „Meet Your Maker“ will be released internationally on the 19th June. „Meet Your Maker“ is partly recorded by Jakob Gundel and mixed by Jacob Hansen in Hansen Studios. The artwork is made by Niklas Sundin, best known as guitarist in Dark Tranquillity, who, in addition to his own band, also have made artwork for e.g. In Flames and Arch Enemy.

“Meet Your Maker” is the name of the album and consists of 9 brand new songs. The songs draw inspiration from the band’s back catalogue all the way from the ’97 debut album “Scarlet Silhouettes” but also sound fresh and new while keeping the signature sound of the band.

SALES ARGUMENTS

- First new album in 15 years by Danish melo death band Withering Surface.
- Mixed and mastered by Jacob Hansen at Hansen Studio (Volbeat, Epica & Amaranthe)
- Artwork done by Niklas Sundin (Dark Tranquillity).

Deantoni Parks (born November 2, 1977) is an American new wave/avant-garde/experimental drummer, songwriter, actor and record producer. He is the founder, producer and drummer of the New York band KUDU, and one half of the writing duo We Are Dark Angels with composer, producer and keyboardist Nicci Kasper, also a member of KUDU. He was a member of progressive rock band the Mars Volta, and is currently a member (together with Kasper) of the alternative rock band Bosnian Rainbows.

The "... Live at Clouds Hill" series has been around for several years now. Everything started in 2011 with an improvised "Krautrock" performance of extra class. Faust & Omar Rodriguez-Lopez. Jean-Hervé Perón fell backwards with a running chainsaw and slit Rodriguez-Lopez' jeans and only with luck not his leg open. Since then, great bands like Le Butcherettes (US), Nissennenmondai (JP), Bosnian Rainbows (US), Wargirl (US), Dillon (D), Kolars (US) or Peter Doherty (UK) have been guests and honoured the holy halls of Clouds Hill Studios with grandiose live performances. These performances in front of fans and friends are recorded on tape and mixed live. With the last played tone the recording is finished and can be cut on vinyl. Imperfection as a concept. As a carrier of emotions. And exactly such a magical evening fans and friends could experience with Deantoni Parks at the Clouds Hill Festival 2019. Everything recorded on 24 track tape.

ROBOT KOCH

THE NEXT BILLION YEARS

OVERVIEW

ROBOT KOCH is an award winning artist/producer/composer from Berlin, living in Los Angeles. He has become well known for his cinematic compositions that have been used in numerous Films, TV Show, Movie Trailers and Games. His immersive audio visual show Sphere, designed especially for Planetariums keeps winning awards at Film Festivals and has been licensed to Domes from Las Vegas to Berlin. Apart from pursuing his artist career, Koch can be found working as a producer and composer for both indie and major artists worldwide, gaining gold and platinum records for his productions. He is also invited as a speaker at tech and music conferences like SXSW. He's played major US Festivals including Coachella and Lightning in a Bottle.

The album is themed around the future of mankind on this planet, inspired by a cassette which Koch found in a 2nd hand store in LA, which contained a previously unknown speech from marine biologist Jacques Yves Cousteau. On this tape Cousteau speaks about the next billion years and how our actions today determine the survival of our species. This inspired Koch to write a whole album based on the idea of the far distant future.

Written in LA, recorded with an orchestra in Estonia (conducted by renowned conductor Kristjan Järvi) and mixed in Berlin, the album is an orchestral/electronic hybrid that expands Koch's forward thinking compositions even more.

SELF-PROCLAIMED VAGABOND CONTINUES HIS 12-YEAR JOURNEY AROUND THE GLOBE WITH A 2020 WORLD TOUR THAT WILL INCLUDE NORTH AMERICA, AUS/NZ AND EUROPE

180 GRAM VINYL

Stu Larsen has no fixed residence...all he owns is a suitcase. You can find him in his native Australia, in Spain, Japan or South America before he picks up and leaves for his next destination. The Queensland, Australia-born singer, songwriter, and narrator packed up his life in a suitcase and circled the globe on a near twelve-year and five-continent international trip, as chronicled in photography, music and his latest full-length Marigold.

The eleven tracks on Marigold produced by Tim Hart [Boy & Bear] and engineer Simon Berckelman [Philadelphia Grand Jury] speak to Larsen's external and internal progression. He has now toured the globe numerous times over, cultivating fans with sold-out concerts around the world. As a result, fan favorites like "San Francisco" and "Thirteen Sad Farewells" have earned 100 million+ combined streams across digital platforms. In addition to documenting his travels through photos, Stu has lived numerous adventures, including an emergency appendectomy in Indonesia and being surprised by a jaguar at a party in Mexico City.
