DEAR AMERICA

ERIC BIBB

GENERAL INFORMATION

ARTIST: ERIC BIBB
TITLE: DEAR AMERICA
HOMETOWN: NEW YORK, NEW YORK
GENRE: BLUES
PARENTAL ADVISORY STICKERED: NO

BIO

If you could call out to your country, what would you say? When Eric Bibb embarked on the title song that would galvanize his latest album, 'Dear America', the songwriter found himself unpacking a seven-decade relationship with a partner of dramatic extremes. Bibb has known many different Americas, the good, the bad and the ugly. Born in New York City on August 16th, 1951, the thunderbolt of the Sixties folk revival remains an era so alive in the 69-year-old's memory. Yet just as vivid are the dark societal flashpoints of the last year, when protesters highlighted the open wound of US race relations while a bitter Presidential election scrawled jagged battlelines. "This album is a love letter," Bibb explains of the record's root concept, "because America, for all of its associations with pain and its bloody history, has always been a place of incredible hope and optimism. You see young people now and it's amazing, with the whole Black Lives Matter movement. All of those things let me know that there is a kind of reverberation from that Sixties energy. You can't keep a good thing down."

Recorded before the pandemic shuttered the world's recording studios, the chemistry on 'Dear America' is palpable, with each musician playing with the emotional commitment demanded by the material. In November 2019, the bandleader hit Brooklyn's Studio G to track the album with producer/co-writer Glen Scott, along with a studio band featuring the talismanic drummer Steve Jordan and Memphis guitar sensation Eric Gales. What resulted is a thoughtful record that brings Bibb full circle, taking the pulse of these febrile times while returning the songwriter to his proud roots in New York. "My home now is Sweden," says Bibb, "But New York City was where I came of age. So to be there, recording this album that had so much to do with my whole journey – it was really inspiring."

And yet, just as the history of the United States has both light and shade, so does 'Dear America'. It's a record that laces its exploration of the nation's most poisonous issues with hope, love and a brighter road ahead. All is not lost, stresses Bibb, and neither are we. Bibb leaves no doubt that the future is ours to write.

'Dear America' is available everywhere September 10th through Provogue Records.

SONGS OF LOSS AND SEPARATION

Songs Of Loss and Separation, the sprawling second album from TIMES OF GRACE is insistent in its bluesiness, bleeding distortion and emotion, weaving effortlessly between pensive, heavy, midtempo rock riffs and atmosphere. The band's sophomore effort and first since 2011 channels a haunting romanticism and deep spiritual yearning that collide in beautiful melancholy. The vocal interplay of Adam Dutkiewicz and Jesse Leach makes for a rich, dense, and enthralling concoction, powering through various trips through dark nights of the soul and mind-expanding excursions into the wild.

DESCRIPTION:

WARKINGS Warriors beware! The mighty warriors return to the battlefield, armed with glorious weapons made of pure Heavy Metal - the time for Revolution has come! The third part of the WARKINGS saga will be unleashed on August 20 via Napalm Records. Sharpen your weapons and join the WARKINGS Revolution! The four ancient kings – a roman Tribune, a wild Viking, a noble Crusader and a martial Spartan –gathered in the golden halls of Valhalla, escaped from the realms of obscurity and fought the Monarchs of the dusk. Back on Earth, the kings forged new battle hymns, and are ready to gather their warriors again for Revolution! Thundering drums, riffs made of steel, and powerful vocals pave their way right from the start of Revolution. The fanfares are set and album opener "We Are The Fire" bursts in with full power, taking their warriors with them back to the ancient battlegrounds of Sparta, Rome, or side by side with the glorious Ragnar. The WARKINGS formed an alliance with the dark Lord Chris Harms (Lord Of The Lost) to tell about the heroic times of Spartacus. The re-interpretation of one of the most famous old protest melodies on „Fight“ will be stuck in the head of every true revolutionary forever! Forging their musical steel in the tradition of Powerwolf, Sabaton, HammerFall and Running Wild, the WARKINGS burst onto the battlefields in 2018. They gathered their Warriors around the world, beyond others on the legendary battlefields of Wacken, and entered the German album charts at #29 with Revenge. Revolution will be available in different formats, including a special strictly limited boxset and multiple vinyl versions.

Brooklyn's Bad Luck is swinging for the fences on their second LP entitled "Summer of Pain". Don't expect a sophomore slump from these pop-punk heavy hitters, with lead single "ROY" a masterclass in explosive, pulse pounding song writing and a jaw-dropping full band version of "Gwendolyn" reimagined from their acoustic EP "Friends (again)", this album is packed with bops to get you through the dog days of summer.

"Bad Luck's got distinct vocals, a fun, melodic sound that builds up, and the drummer needs to be appreciated more...it's good to see that pop punk is still alive and well." - Stereogum

"New York outfit Bad Luck represents what the future of the genre might sound like, with fun and catchy melodies anchored by massive drums and distinct vocals. "ROY" is a song about pushing through peer-induced stagnancy and trying to find a path that truly makes you happy. No one else matters." Indie Mix Tape

DIANE WARREN

THE CAVE SESSIONS VOL. 1

DIANE WARREN is one of music's most celebrated songwriters. She has written nine Number One hits and scored 32 Top 10 songs on the Billboard Hot 100. She is a member of the Songwriters Hall of Fame, an 12-time Academy Award nominee with songs featured in more than 100 motion pictures, and has been honored with a Grammy (from her 15 nominations), an Emmy, and is a 2-time Golden Globe Award winner. She has been named ASCAP's Songwriter of the Year six times and Billboard's Songwriter of the Year four times, won the coveted Ivor Novello International Award, and received a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

The endless list of hits that Warren has written includes "Because You Loved Me" (Céline Dion), "Can't Fight The Moonlight" (LeAnn Rimes), "How Do I Live" (by both LeAnn Rimes and Trisha Yearwood), "I Didn't Know My Own Strength" (Whitney Houston), "I Learned From The Best" (Whitney Houston), "Love Can Move Mountains" (Celine Dion), "Can't Take That Away" (Mariah Carey), "Look Away" (Chicago), "Have You Ever" (Brandy), "I Don't Want To Miss A Thing" (Aerosmith), and dozens more.

It's also a contemporary approach to putting out new music, as much a playlist as an album, which numerous DJs and producers have embraced, but hasn't been attempted around a single writer's work.

DESCRIPTION:

Through their relentless hard work, non-stop touring and critically acclaimed/chart-topping releases gaining them over 250 million cross-platform streams/views – JINJER are inarguably one of modern metal's hottest and most exciting bands active today. The band has become synonymous with doing things their own way and breaking every rule in the heavy metal handbook, which is keenly evident on their highly anticipated fourth studio album and follow up to the groundbreaking Macro album, Wallflowers. The new album not only presents a methodical and premeditated next step in the band's already imposing career, but moreover, it mirrors the personal adversities they've faced due to the worldwide events over the last year. Wallflowers is not only an upgrade to the progressive groove metal sound that all JINJER fans crave, but also a sonic pressure cooker of technical musicianship, emotional fury and an intense soundtrack befitting the harrowing state of the world today. Hailing from the conflict-ridden Ukrainian region of Donetsk but now calling Kiev their home base, JINJER truly do not mince words – or riffs – on Wallflowers. Their exceptional precision of modern metal paired with tough as nails attitude has earned them a fiercely loyal, rabid fanbase and massive critical acclaim, making JINJER one of the most talked about bands today and garnering them many sold out performances across the globe. With nearly all of JINJER's releases composed between vans, backstage rooms and constant touring, Wallflowers continues where its predecessor Macro left off, only this time with less distraction and more time to focus on songwriting. Once again produced together with longtime friend and mastermind Max Morton, Wallflowers is fueled by the pressure and frustration of real life and embodies a core theme, which JINJER approach from multiple perspectives, including their own. These are subjects that are often kept quiet in society, especially in times of crisis at a collective and individual level - from the antithesis of expectations, ideologies and self-determination, to the personal pressure of self-discovery, recharging batteries and the courage to assert oneself, to cry out and stand up to the suffocating honesty of reality. From the blast beat laden banger "Colossus", 90s grunge vibe of "Disclosure!" and dynamically blazing "Vortex" and "As I Boil Ice" – the unbridled heaviness and personality of Wallflowers is sure to overwhelm hardcore fans while winning over new ones as well. The album proves another standout addition to JINJER's already widely celebrated catalog, and a new standard for creativity in modern heavy metal as a whole.

Southern Avenue

Be The Love You Want

BMG

RELEASE DATE: AUGUST 27, 2021

BIO

Abounding with musical creativity, confident songcraft, and deeply felt emotion, BE THE LOVE YOU WANT marks the GRAMMY® nominated SOUTHERN AVENUE's most ingenious and personal effort thus far, marrying soul power and jam band liberation, gospel blues and righteous R&B, to craft their own timeless brand of American music.

BE THE LOVE YOU WANT, produced by multi-GRAMMY® winner Steve Berlin (Los Lobos, Deer Tick, Jackie Greene) and co-Produced by Ori Nattaly, showcases an exhilarating, and deeply emotional collection of songs that captures all of the shared experiences that bring us together—joy and sorrow, unity and separation, love and hate.

The Memphis, TN-based band's third studio recording sees SOUTHERN AVENUE pushing themselves towards bold new ideas of what it means to be a blues band in the modern world, bending and reshaping their musical heritage with electrifying performance, vivid production, and a remarkably clear vision. Operating from their distinctively international vantage point, SOUTHERN AVENUE has produced a wide-ranging collection of original music—predominantly co-written by Israeli-born guitarist Ori Nattaly and powerhouse lead vocalist Tierinii Jackson—that links them to their home city's glorious past while at the same time, demonstrates their ambitious intent to evolve Memphis music to contemporary effect.

Perhaps the album's most surprising collaboration is "MOVE INTO THE LIGHT," a churning, funk-blasted burner co-written with 2X GRAMMY® Award-winning pop superstar Jason Mraz and producer/songwriter/musician Michael Goldwasser (Easy Star All-Stars).

With BE THE LOVE YOU WANT, SOUTHERN AVENUE continue driving the Southern soul legacy into the 21st century, preserving its glory and tradition while striving towards something diverse, universal and altogether their own.

QUOTES

"The expressive front person who hinted at Beyoncé's athleticism and the pedigree of a singer with the name Franklin... easy to imagine SOUTHERN AVENUE as a house band in their native Memphis or Muscle Shoals, sent back to the future to save us from inauthenticity and our collective hurt." —NO DEPRESSION

"...a deeply soulful Memphis blues band that's turning the scene on its head... fiery guitar-led soul rock, with punchy horns, hard-shuffling beats, sparkling ballads and barroom throwdowns." —RELIX

"They do the Stax legacy proud." —CHICAGO READER

"Booker T. & the M.G.'s, Sam & Dave, Otis Redding—A bit of that gritty, funky mojo lives again in the music of SOUTHERN AVENUE." —STEREOPHILE

DESCRIPTION:

Four years after the release of their highly anticipated album The Immortal Wars (2017), Juno Award-nominated EX DEO returns with more massive, brutal soundscapes than ever! The Roman Empire inspired death metal band's newest release, The Thirteen Years Of Nero, transports the listener back to Ancient Rome with 10 cinematic masterpieces that tell the emotional, conceptual story of the reign of Emperor Nero. Accented by sounds of ancient instruments like lyra and harp and detailing the harrowing stories of Nero's surroundings, close allies and enemies, listeners will connect with intense psychological tones of political turmoil and paranoia. As always, the Canadian unit is led by founding frontman Maurizio Iacono (Kataklysm) and producer/guitarist Jean-François Dagenais (Kataklysm, Misery Index, Despised Icon), but this time, features the stylings of Jeramie Kling (Venom Inc.) on drums and Clemens Wijers (Carach Angren, Lindemann) manning the album's intense orchestral score. The Thirteen Years Of Nero pierces through the silence with its first auditory spear, "The Fall Of Claudius", immediately drawing the listener in with a savagely heavy, grooving riff, ground-shaking swells and warning strings and horns. Discordant harmonies collide as a mosh-worthy battle riff chugs and pinches through the center of the song, showcasing the ruthlessness to come. Second track "Imperator" connects with a colossal, threatening introduction with lyra-laced accents, before slithering into its verses with low guitars, trudging isolated drums and haunting, multi-layered vocal passages. Merciless "The Head Of The Snake" and unforgivingly immense "Britannia: The 9th At Camulodonum" balance sinister, spectral-like channels with up-tempo elements, racing like a chariot of symphonic death metal influences that careen the listener back to a sonic dimension of time forgotten. Standout opus "Boudicca (Queen Of The Icenii)" features the deft vocal stylings of Unleash The Archers frontwoman Brittney Slayes, the album's weightiest thunderous percussion work and a glistening guitar solo, while the embers of pulsing "The Fiddle & The Fire" spark as the track traverses methodically yet steadfastly, like an iron striking a blade. "Son Of The Deified" and "What Artist Dies In Me..." bestow some of the album's most strikingly dynamic guitar work, as well as ominous instrumentals, orchestral and choral pathways, before closing with the superb epic "The Revolt Of Galba". The track ebbs and flows between grooving, eerie piano-laden riffs and crystal-clear flourishes bestrewn with soaring strings. With The Thirteen Years Of Nero, EX DEO have released their finest work yet while telling a timeless story of political intrigue, suspicion, evil and tyranny!

YANN TIERSEN

Kerber

Street Date: 8/27/21

Mute are delighted to announce the release of Yann Tiersen's new album Kerber. Out August 27th on black vinyl, CD, and digital formats.

Kerber is a beautifully textured, highly immersive and thoughtfully constructed piano based album fused with electronic music. Piercing piano keys merge with swirling soundscapes, as Tiersen explores the possibilities of infinite smallness.

There is a clear tonal coherence to the album but also one that remains impossible to predict where it may go next. Tiersen took a lot from the creative process. "I had a really amazing time messing around with my modular system... it was sort of a meditation diving into all the geeky technical stuff."

The album was created and recorded at The Eskal, the studio he built on Ushant (the island where he lives). 'Kerber' is named after a chapel in a small village on the island while each track sonically maps to the landscapes that surround Tiersen's home.

Kerber follows the 2019 release of Portrait which featured 25 newly recorded songs from throughout Tiersen's career. With that chapter now behind him, Kerber is very much a new one in his career. One that begins with his most overtly electronic material to date.

An extensive North American tour is scheduled for the Fall of 2021.

Nils Petter Molvær is one of the most prominent performers within an electroacoustic, improvised/composed musical hybrid that has become a genre of its own, and where he is both a pioneer and a veteran.

In addition to being an acclaimed trumpeter and composer, Molvær is also a seasoned band leader with a talent for choosing the best team possible, providing a well designed framework for them to work within, and leaving room for them to enhance his vision.

On Stitches, Molvær collaborates with drummer Erland Dahlen, bassist Jo Berger Myhre and guitarist Johan Lindstrøm. The recording process started at Ocean Sound Recordings on the island of Giske, but then the pandemic forced the musicians to exchange further ideas over the Internet, until the album was sewn together and mixed by Molvær and Jon Marius Aareskjold at Kysten Studio in Tromsø. The musicians were given full artistic freedom, so the album is very much about trusting other people, and giving room to let people shine.

The result is breathtaking. From the poetic, tender "Median" via the dramatic "A Sudden Rash" to the three powerful pieces taken from "Frameworks." Molvær's commissioned work for the 2021 Kongsberg Jazz Festival, the album showcases the trumpeter's distinct musical language – a language that is appreciated by listeners all over the world.

Although large portions of the album were composed and recorded during lockdown, Stitches sounds seamless and organic, proving that collaboration and artistic vision can overcome both isolation and distance. And despite the album's darker moments, with references to disorder and disease, Stitches comes across as a cathartic experience. After listening to the closing track, a beautiful version of Radiohead's "True Love Waits," that title seems prophetic: After turbulent times, the wounds will heal.
