BMG is thrilled to announce the release of IRON MAIDEN's 17th studio album SENJUTSU, their first in six years, on September 3rd. It was recorded in Paris with longstanding producer Kevin Shirley and co-produced by Steve Harris. For SENJUTSU—loosely translated as “tactics & strategy,” the band once again enlisted the services of Mark Wilkinson to create the spectacular Samurai themed cover artwork, based on an idea by Steve Harris. With a running time of a little under 82 minutes, SENJUTSU, like their previous record The Book Of Souls, will be a double CD/Triple vinyl album.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Chris Renzema, affectionately known as Renz to his friends, is the textbook definition of unassuming. With kind eyes and a soft-spoken voice, he's immediately warm and friendly, at ease in himself in a quiet way that's a little bit mystery, a little bit careful observer. While many artists have to work at giving off the same affable vibe, Renzema comes by it honest, which is perhaps the key to his simmering success.

After teaching himself to play guitar and write songs while in high school, Renzema got the opportunity to record some of his music at a hometown studio in Grand Rapids, MI. That first EP, Age to Age, quickly took on a life of its own as his song "You're the Only One" was chosen for a feature in Worship Leader magazine. He followed up that EP by recording a full album, I'll Be the Branches, which included "How to Be Yours" and "You're the Only One," both of which have racked up over 5 million streams. All of Renzema's current success has happened without any radio play or major marketing campaigns. It's been through organic word of mouth, person to person, exactly in line with who Renzema is, both as an artist and a person.

After releasing a debut record from Centricity Music, Renzema's songs are acoustic at heart, shifting seamlessly from indie rock to folk worship to Americana; gritty but accessible, profound but infinitely listenable with a voice that yearns like a desert island man singing for a cup of water. It's bone deep, an echoing of the universality of pain and praise.

Renzema's early groundswell continues to surprise as he's selling out shows and tipping the streaming scales with over 1,000,000 monthly listeners. Fans are flocking to his unwavering authenticity, to his message of real-life hope. This second release (and first from Centricity) "Get Out of the Way of Your Own Heart" gives fans exactly what they've come to expect from Renzema - soul-stirring music with an earnest, drowning-man vocal singing about a hope that cuts through life's inevitability.

SUPER FURRY ANIMALS

Rings Around The World (20th Anniversary Edition)

Release Date: 9/3/21

The fifth studio album from Welsh quintet SUPER FURRY ANIMALS was their most commercially successful to date. A musically eclectic record, incorporating pop, prog, punk, jungle, electronica, techno and death metal, the album was shortlisted for the Mercury Music Prize in 2001 and named as Mojo's best album in the same year. Their major label debut album peaked at #3 on the UK album chart on release, supported by singles "(Running) Rings Around The World," "It's Not The End of the World" and "Juxtapozed With You." Paul McCartney and John Cale make cameo appearances on the album too.

This 20th anniversary reissued has been remastered from the original master tapes. The double-LP format is on heavyweight vinyl, while the 3CD set boasts 33 previously unreleased tracks including remixes, demos, other curios, as well as sleeve notes from Keith Cameron.

Nocturnes: Music For 2 Pianos was written during 2020 and 2021.

There are 14 compositions, written mostly at night in lockdown. The decision to compose for two pianos gave me the ability to write more abstract compositions, blurring the melodies and harmonies to make a diffused sound. Other Nocturnes are purer and focus on delicate melodic fragments, revealing their compositional process as they develop. Each short piece should stand on its own however the atmosphere and intention of each movement work together as a whole. Writing the work, which was composed and recorded at home was in a way therapeutic amidst the pandemic. I would like to think the beauty of the sound and reflectiveness of the music communicates and in turn perhaps might help the listener find some solace in these strange times. I wanted Nocturnes to be an acoustic album, playable by any two pianists who might want to perform them.

DESCRIPTION:

Hailing from Trondheim, Norway, hard rock trio BOKASSA have recently made a name for themselves with their brand of hard-hitting, melodic, catchy punk and stoner rock. After the release of their debut album, Divide & Conquer (2017) legendary drummer Lars Ulrich crowned them his "new favorite band" and invited them on METALLICA's "Worldwired Tour". During the tour, the band released the critically acclaimed Crimson Riders (2019). On top, the Norwegians got nominated for the prestigious Spellemann-Award as Breakthrough of the Year in 2020. BOKASSA are fully charged up and ready to set everything ablaze on their upcoming album, Molotov Rocktail (out September 3 via Napalm Records), displaying their stoner punk at its best on 11 powerful new songs. Vocalist and guitarist Jørn Kaarstad's unmistakably raspy voice and crushing guitar riffs hit satisfyingly hard with the snappy drumming and fat bass tone of drummer Olav Dowkes and bassist Bård Linga. Songs like "Hereticules" effortlessly pull off the transition between melodic choruses and punishing breakdowns, while the title track "Molotov Rocktail" is two minutes of pure stoner punk paradise reminiscent of THE BRONX, RED FANG, BILLY TALENT and QUEENS OF THE STONE AGE with its dense songwriting and dynamic production. The album closer's intro riff ("Immortal Space Pirate 3 Too Old For This Sith"), meanwhile, could be lifted straight off a classic BEHEMOTH album. BOKASSA's daring but cohesive tightrope act of singalongs and neck breaking grooves on Molotov Rocktail is highly contagious – mixed and mastered by Machine (CLUTCH, THE BRONX, EVERY TIME I DIE) the powerhouse from Trondheim misses no chance to entrance the listener with every second of runtime!

If Grizfolk, the band, are a study in dichotomy and contrast, then Grizfolk, the album, is the bridge where it all connects. With the release of their self-titled third full-length record, the band creates a place where folk stompers and electronic synths cozy up to the same driving backbeat and golden riffs in a pertinent and perfect way.

And just as we all were forced to adjust our ways of working—and existing—during the pandemic, the band, too, learned to adapt their own methods and evolve with the era. The band embraced the benefits this brave new style of working afforded them while also keying in on the sound's similarities to both their previous albums, calling the process both nostalgic and new. From the emotional charge of "Fumes" and its "voice for the voiceless" sense of overcoming fears to find confidence, to the ferociously catchy riff that begins the upbeat lament of "Now That I Know," the new tracks work together with their Rich Costey-sessions material (including "The Ripple") to present a band firing on all cylinders by revisiting everything they have done before in order to put forward the best current version of themselves.

ROBERT AMES

CHANGE RINGING

As a conductor, curator and arranger, Robert Ames has been a key exchange agent between the classical tradition and contemporary music. co-Founding the London Contemporary Orchestra fresh out of the Royal Academy of Music, Robert went on to work like; conducting Jonny Greenwood's Oscar Nominated score for the film Phantom Thread, strings for Frank Ocean's Blonde, arranging and conducting shows for Little Simz and Sigur Rós frontman Jónsi, as well as a longstanding relationship with composer Actress, producing and writing on on his 2020 album Karma & Desire. He's also had collaborations with Thom Yorke, Jamie XX, Olafur Arnalds, Owen Pallet, Labrinth and Radiohead.

It's with this deep apprehension and wide practice that Robert turned his focus to writing his debut record; a breathtaking, seemingly infinitely generative stream of sonic consciousness, made for a meditative mental gaze. Robert's unique use of 20th c. electronic techniques and Western tradition annotation saw him slow down recordings, annotate the slow-motion versions, then re-recorded them. This way he formed layers of audio and written music, a geological contouring of the soundscape. This addition of manual information evolution counter-intuitively found a royal road to the unconscious.

The record has features from LCO Lead Violinist and One Little Independent signed composer Galya Bisengalieva as well as the Steam Down affiliated harpist and composer Nala Sinephro. At a time when worldly activity is minimal, Change Ringing is a sublime inner flight, an impossible object, in flux and focus at the same moment.

BIO

F.S.Blumm and Nils Frahm have confirmed details of their fourth collaborative album, 2X1=4, which will be released on September 3, 2021, by LEITER, the new label formed by Frahm and his manager, Felix Grimm in cooperation with BMG. The seven-track album finds the duo unexpectedly exploring a dub-influenced universe, though in truth it's one already familiar to both. F.S.Blumm, for instance, is co-founder of Quasi Dub Development, whose 2014 album, Little-Twister vs Stiff-Neck, featured Lady Ann and Lee Scratch Perry, while Frahm's music – not least 2018's All Melody – has occasionally betrayed a fondness for the form's associated studio techniques, though he concedes wryly that his approach has always been “a little bit more German” than his influences.

SALES & MARKETING

- Nils Frahm is a truly global artist with a strong and sustainable fan base as well as an impressive touring history.
- Following on from his first solo piano works Wintermusik and The Bells in 2009, and 2010's 7fingers in collaboration with cellist Anne Müller, 2011 saw his break-through album Felt on Erased Tapes.
- 2013 saw Nils return with his new album Spaces to critical acclaim, expressing his love for experimentation and answering the call from his fans for a record that truly reflects what they have witnessed during his live shows.
- In 2015 Nils launched Piano Day, an official global body created with his closest friends to celebrate the piano via various innovative, piano-related projects and concerts around the world.
- During the same year, Nils' first film score release Music For The Motion Picture Victoria written for the one-take feature film by Sebastian Schipper won the esteemed German Film Prize for Best Soundtrack; the soundtrack opens with an edit of Burn With Me by German producer DJ Koze.
- Following a Nils Frahm-curated Weekend Festival at London's Barbican Centre and the release of his second published music book Sheets Zwei, 2016 saw a collaborative score with Woodkid for Ellis, a short film by French artist JR, starring and featuring spoken words by Robert De Niro.
- Following the highly acclaimed album release of All Melody in 2018, Nils brought his spectacular live show all around the world with over 180 sold out performances including the Hammersmith Apollo in London, L.A.'s Disney Hall, Brooklyn Steel, Le Trianon in Paris and the Sydney Opera House.
- In December 2020, Frahm released the concert film Tripping with Nils Frahm, accompanied by a live album out on Erased Tapes Records.
- Continuing his annual celebration of Piano Day, Nils shared a previously unreleased nine-track piano album in March 2021. Graz dates back to 2009, recorded on grand piano at the University of Music and Performing Arts Graz as part of the thesis Conversations for Piano and Room which received an award in the Classical Surround Recording category at the 127th AES Convention in New York.

DESCRIPTION:

Internationally acclaimed hard rock musician and God of Partying, ANDREW W.K., marks another extraordinarily intense chapter in his fabled and perplexing tenure as a pop culture icon, with his fifth full-length rock album, God Is Partying, out on September 10, 2021, via Napalm Records. Hovering in the fluorescent spotlight of his legendary party power, God Is Partying sees ANDREW W.K. ransack the corners of the human psyche, reaching a triumphant apex in his catalog nearly 20 years after the release of his chart-topping 2001 full-length debut, I Get Wet. Showcasing his indisputable musical chops, God Is Partying features ANDREW W.K. performing all the album's instruments, in addition to co-producing the album with Grammy Award-winning engineer, Ted Young. Channeling the manic euphoria that has compelled ANDREW W.K.'s auditory insignia for decades, God Is Partying is comprised of nine exhilarating exaltations soaked with a flood of epic energy – often traversing nearly impenetrable lyrical themes while remaining refreshingly relatable, inspiring, and vital for survival. From sinister metallic bastions like the buzzing single “Babalon”, to the timeless story telling of “Remember Your Oath”, the album will have fans of embracing their own party power and reveling in the depths of musical euphoria. God Is Partying opens triumphantly with ANDREW W.K.'s hyper-melodic keyboard stylings introducing the menacing and magical music of “Everybody Sins”, setting the stage for the dramatic immensity to follow. Tracks like the poetic, “No One To Know”, and the soaring tension of “Stay True To Your Heart”, transport the listener to the precipice of a sonic horizon – rising into synthesizer-infused epics of maximalist rock, each track showcasing another example of ANDREW W.K.'s expanding abilities as a vocalist and songwriter. Only halfway through the album is the listener driven directly into fiery depths with the massive track, “I’m In Heaven”, before ascending into the sonic stratosphere with the tracks, “My Tower” and the album closer, “And Then We Blew Apart”. The album is a true ode to the quiddity of ANDREW W.K. Emotional yet steadfast, ominous yet invigorating, God Is Partying embraces both the break-ups and break-downs of life, and ANDREW W.K. once again provides his audience with the perfect soundtrack to celebrate all the intensity life has to offer.

BÉLA FLECK

MY BLUEGRASS HEART

BMG

RELEASE DATE: SEPTEMBER 10, 2021

BIO

MY BLUEGRASS HEART, out September 10, 2021 on Renew Records, is that return the 15-time Grammy winner is talking about – the third chapter in a decades-spanning trilogy which, by his counting, started with 1988's Drive and continued with The Bluegrass Sessions, released eleven years later. Over the long and lauded course of his unique creative run, BÉLA FLECK—the world's premier banjo virtuoso and a celebrated musical adventurer—has both dug deep into his instrument's complex global history and unlocked the breadth of its possibilities. MY BLUEGRASS HEART is a homecoming in sound, to be sure.

Born in New York City and named for the classical giants Bartok, Webern, and Janacek, Fleck first tuned into his musical soul through TV, radio and a lucky encounter on a train ride with a banjo player. A move to Kentucky some years later immersed him in the sound's heartland, and led to a spot in the acclaimed progressive bluegrass band New Grass Revival. That stint, in turn, led to the Drive album (now often considered a classic) and the collection of Fleck's core group of bluegrass comrades, including mandolinist and fellow New Grass Revivalist Sam Bush, guitarist Tony Rice, fiddle player Stuart Duncan, bassist Mark Schatz and dobro player Jerry Douglas, who all (except for Rice, who passed away in 2020) appear on Drive, Bluegrass Sessions, and now, MY BLUEGRASS HEART.

More than anything, it was this group of musicians that drew Fleck home to bluegrass the third time. As the years since Bluegrass Sessions stretched into decades, compositions that seemed earmarked—consciously and unconsciously—for that gang began to pile up. He was hesitant to begin but he didn't want the songs to disappear, either. So, he started looking closer at the bluegrass scene and discovered, to his delight, a new generation of players had been flourishing, some of whom he knew—like mandolinist and MacArthur fellow Chris Thile, or multi-instrumentalist Sierra Hull, whose Grammy-nominated 2016 album Weighted Mind Fleck had produced—and some he didn't, like rising star Billy Strings and fiddle avant-gardist Billy Contreras, who Thile introduced him to. Old friends made new ones, and together they made a record—one that bridges musical generations. And what started as a single album became a double album.

The intricate, slow-creeping "Charm School," with its wide-open, jazz-style jam and energetic interplay between soloists showed off the individuality within the group. "Vertigo," first written and performed for what Fleck calls the Telluride "House Band," including Sam Bush and Jerry Douglas, plays rhythmic tricks that mimic its loopy title.

In seriousness, though, MY BLUEGRASS HEART is vividly collaborative, and part of Fleck's talent as a leader is encouraging his bandmates to shine. If the band is an amalgamation of generations, ideas and style, the songs are maybe even more so. It's not a straight bluegrass album, but it's written for a bluegrass band.

QUOTES

"BÉLA FLECK is my hero...I felt like a young Jedi who's just gotten the rare opportunity to go train with master Yoda." —BILLY STRINGS

"BÉLA is a continuous fountain of creativity. He always maintains a spirit of inquiry and high-level musical judgment. His work ethic is impeccable. That's always inspiring to me." —CHICK COREA

"BÉLA FLECK has taken banjo playing to some very unlikely places—not just bluegrass and country and "newgrass," but also into classical concertos, jazz and a documentary about the banjo's deep African roots, not to mention the time he toured with throat singers from Tuva. He's also baffled the Grammy awards, winning for country and jazz in the same year and also winning in pop, world music, classical crossover and, yes, folk. That's a lot of territory for five strings." —JON PARELES, The New York Times
