FLIGHT OF THE CONCHORDS

FLIGHT OF THE CONCHORDS

Apparel from the New Zealand musical comedy duo's HBO series. What makes Flight Of The Conchords better than either the average television soundtrack or musical comedy album is that, aside from the sharp wit and often hilarious lyrics, (such as "A Kiss Is Not A Contract" and "Ladies of the World"), singers and multi-instrumentalists Bret McKenzie and Jemaine Clement are genuinely gifted pop songwriters able to craft tuneful, memorable songs in a variety of styles. The genre parodies here, from the gibberish bossa nova "Foux du Fafa" and the deadpan rap cliché "Hipopotamus Vs. Rhymenoceros" to the note-perfect impersonations of the Pet Shop Boys "Inner City Pressure" and David Bowie ("Bowie"), are more than catchy enough to stand on their own. If amazing, delightful, and hilarious is your idea of funny, then prepare for undisappointment.

ALLIGATOR RECORDS

Back in 1971, Bruce Iglauer, a 23-year old blues fan, used his meager savings to record and produce his favorite band, Hound Dog Taylor & The House Rockers. Following his heart, he quit his day job with Delmark Records and began promoting Hound Dog Taylor and his new record company full-time. Decades later, that company, Alligator Records, is home to some of the world's premier blues and roots rock talent and is regarded by fans and the media alike as the top contemporary blues record label in the world.

See page 7 for additional merchandise from Alligator Records artists Hound Dog Taylor and Koko Taylor.

NOMO

NOMO

Ghost Rock is the new album from the Michigan-based collective NOMO. This is not the Afrobeat of Fela, nor the revivalist funk of a forgotten decade. This record owes as much to Can, Eno, and MIA as it does to Kuti, Francis Bebey, and Funkadelic. On Ghost Rock, NOMO arrives in a new place, incorporating new influences with a matured and developed sound that is fully their own. Produced by Warn Defever.

OF MONTREAL

of Montreal is one of the stalwarts of the Athens, Georgia pop scene. It is the recording and performing project of Mr. Kevin Barnes. And it is one of the many bands still in operation with a tie to the loose Elephant Six collective of the late '90s; a group of like-minded bands centered around that incredibly fertile Southern college town. of Montreal is many things. It is not, however, predictable.

SOUNDSCREEN DESIGN ReFRAME

Quite simply, the best designed, most convenient, glassless poster framing solution you have ever seen. ReFRAME is practically an essential product a highly affordable solution for those who are aesthetically inclined, but don't want to pay $200 to frame each poster they buy. First introduced in 2004 by product designers Todd Seldman and Paul Galli, ReFRAME enjoyed rapid success in design and museum shops in New York City. However, when the product designers were unable to keep up with the distribution requirements, they sold through their first run and opted to move on to new directions, leaving their innovative, compelling poster framing solution without a manufacturer or distributor until now. Soundscreen Design has taken the original product, enhanced its design and functionality, and is eager to offer to poster collectors everywhere! ReFrame requires almost no assembly and is an unbelievably simple product, made from basic materials wood, steel, and magnets. ReFRAME is lightweight, sturdy, and designed to enhance any room in which hung.

SOUNSCREEN DESIGN
SUMMER 2009 COLLECTION

Soundscreen Design is curating and manufacturing an exclusive line of t-shirts, hoodies and tote bags featuring original designs from three studios for nine prominent indie-rock artists. Simply put, we're putting the art back into band merchandise.

Driven by the desire for impeccably designed band merchandise produced in an eco-friendly manner on high quality garments, Soundscreen Design approached three highly regarded design studios and asked them to create designs for musical artists that inspire them. The introductory collection (Summer 2009) will feature designs from Brian Roettinger/Hand Held Heart, Seripop, and Jay Ryan/The Bird Machine.

Rather than being sold exclusively on tour, or on the band/label website, Soundscreen Design's collections will be distributed to retail accounts.

HANDSOME FURS

Husband and wife team Dan Boeckner and Alexei Perry comprise this Montreal-based duo. Signed to Sub Pop in late 2006, their first album, Plague Park, was released the following year. Dan, also a member of Wolf Parade, claims the inspiration behind the recently released sophomore effort, Face Control, involves a peculiar aspect of club culture they observed while on tour in Eastern Europe. The album's juxtaposition of cold, metronomic, electronic beats with jagged, dissonant, and frail guitars convey what it is to be human in the 21st Century. At the same time, it provides the means to opt out.

SOUNDSCREEN DESIGN VINYL IS FOREVER

Soundscreen Design is curating, manufacturing, and distributing a line of t-shirts, hoodies and tote bags featuring artists' iconic interpretations of the phrase 'Vinyl Is Forever'. The series is intended to be the definitive merch series for vinyl junkies, differentiating itself from previous, poorly designed, cheaply produced, nostalgic attempts.

Inspired by iconic visual slogans such as 'I (heart) NY' and 'Virginia Is For Lovers', and referencing music obsessives' everlasting love of vinyl records, the series will appeal to music, art, and fashion fans alike. For avid music fans, vinyl has become both the format of preference as well as a badge of honor. The wearables are designed to be a badge they can wear proudly.

On the heels of the successful first edition (designed by Human Empire), the second installment features the design of renowned Swedish designer and illustrator Andreas Samuelsson. Known for working with cut paper collage mixed with watercolor and computer graphics, his ideas tend to turn into geometric forms, stylistic symbols, and handwritten letters.
