ALBUM FACTS

ARTIST & INFO

Hometown: Alberta, Canada; lives in Los Angeles, CA

The ultimate pleasure in witnessing musical icon k.d. lang perform on stage - besides basking in the beauty of her astonishing, incomparable voice - is the deep connection she shares with her audience. Their mutual admiration and affection is undeniable, and it has arguably been the fuel propelling lang from one remarkable recording to the next.

"You have to respect your audience," lang asserts. "Without them, you're essentially standing alone, singing to yourself. That's not particularly appealing to an artist who craves the communal experience of sharing new ideas and sounds. The ideal scenario is to have an audience; to build and nurture a bond with them."

Genre: Rock

Description: Peace Trail features all new songs that Young wrote since the release of his album EARTH, this past June. This new album is primarily acoustic and reflects an intimate, sparse approach to each of the ten songs within: "Neil Young matches the fire in his belly to the poetry from his pen for one of the most gripping outings of his long career. This riveting collection, a spare acoustic-electric hybrid, seethes with righteous indignation over a plethora of social and political injustices, but also soothes with deeply felt empathy for those on the receiving end of iniquity." -- Los Angeles Times / Randy Lewis

Peace Trail was recorded at Rick Rubin's Shangri-la Studios and features Young on vocals and guitar, Jim Keltner on drums, and Paul Bushnell on bass. It was produced by Young and John Hanlon, mixed by John Hanlon. Most recently Young previewed five songs from the album during his performances during the Desert Trip Festival, in Indio, CA. last week which both Rolling Stone and Entertainment Weekly summed up as simply "explosive." "Neil slashed and bashed at his guitar, the sound intense and nearly out of control." -- Rolling Stone The Los Angeles Times called Young's performance "intensely powerful," "furious" and concluded, "combining passion, energy and stinging content, Young served up a deeply rewarding performance."

ARTIST & INFO

Hometown: Toronto, Ontario

One of the most influential artists of all time, Neil Young has set a standard of artistic integrity and iconoclastic creativity. Before starting his multi-platinum solo career, he was a founding member of the folk-rock band Buffalo Springfield and worked with the groups Crazy Horse and Crosby, Stills and Nash. The Canadian singer-songwriter was recognized by the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 1995 for his work as a solo artist and was inducted into the Canadian Music Hall of Fame in 1982. Young's philanthropic work is as renowned as his musical legacy. His famous Bridge School Benefit Concert has become a yearly tradition since 1986 and continues to boast an incredible line-up of high-profile artists. Each year, Young donates all of the proceeds to the Bay Area's Bridge School, which assists children with severe physical impairments and complex communication needs. He was also one of the original founders of Farm Aid in 1985, and continues to be an active member on the organization's board of directors.

Genre: Rock

Description: While Kid Rock was unquestionably the rock 'n' roll story of 1999 with the explosive success of his Top Dog/Lava/Atlantic debut, DEVIL WITHOUT A CAUSE, it's important to remember that this envelope-pushing artist comes equipped with a vital history. That said, 2000 marks the release of this specially assembled Kid Rock compilation, comprised of dramatically reworked tracks from the artist's THE POLYFUZE METHOD (1993) and EARLY MORNIN' STONED PIMP (1996) albums - along with a previously unreleased, rafter-rattling recording "American Bad Ass" featuring samples of Metallica's "Sad But True." From these kick ass archives come such gems as the Superfly-flavored "E.M.S.P.," the cool-flowing "Paid," and the gangsta-styled "Ya' Keep On" - all remixed, revamped and unrelenting. It's here that Detroit's Pimp of The Nation is found mastering his verbal skills as well as laying down the genre-busting jams that would soon blow the doors open when brought to bear on his break-out, RIAA seven-times-platinum DEVIL WITHOUT A CAUSE. Hear where it all began!

Certified at 2 million units by the RIAA. (2/01)

Genre: Country

Description: From the cutlery in the blender indictment of surface beauty "Paper Doll" to the Lone Star drive of "Just To Be With You" and the tumbledown melody of "Sit Here and Cry," this is a high energy box cutter of emotion: 14 songs marked by the bite and punch of smart girls who know there's more to life than a cold beer and cut-offs. "I tell people there's not a lot of happy songs," the Texas/Nashville hybrid cautions. "But they're not unhappy songs, either. It's life... the way it is, and what's wrong with that?" There's a definite viscerality to New City Blues. From the yearning title track to the slow-building "Loveless Rolling Stone," the sense of displacement marking so many young people uncertain about the future tempers the pools of guitar lines, the way her voice has just the slightest ache when she finds a note's center. "

ARTIST & INFO

Hometown:

Nashville TN

Austin TX

In this world of pretty little girls who are seen and not heard and reality stars who are famous for nothing, the 24 year old songwriter ain't buying in. Laughing, she continues, "I'd rather my music be polarizing than everyone like it, because they rarely do. I think passion is a lot deeper than that. I want to go deeper, and be honest that life isn't just some party and going out. I mean, don't people feel anything?"

"I prefer to create friction because if you're not pushing buttons, you're just making something pleasant, it's probably been done before... and it's not making anyone feel anything." -AUBRIESELLERS

My influences are all over the place: the Kinks, Screaming Jay Hawkins, Buddy and Julie Miller, Creedence, even Ricky Skaggs. Patty Griffin, Neil Young and Bob Dylan, some acoustic things. Led Zeppelin is my biggest rock influence – and that goes right straight, for me, to Ralph Stanley. That raw bluegrass, the banjo, that's the same energy and intensity you get in punk. It's all music that's driven, that's haunted, that cuts and moves."

ARTIST & INFO

With book, music and lyrics by Lin-Manuel Miranda, direction by Thomas Kail, choreography by Andy Blankenbuehler, music direction/orchestrations by Alex Lacamoire, HAMILTON is based on Ron Chernow's biography of Founding Father Alexander Hamilton. The musical won eleven 2016 Tony Awards including Best Musical, Score, Book of a Musical, Direction of a Musical, Choreography and Orchestrations. Mr. Miranda received the Pulitzer Prize for Drama for HAMILTON. HAMILTON is the story of America's Founding Father Alexander Hamilton, an immigrant from the West Indies who became George Washington's right-hand man during the Revolutionary War, and was the new nation's first Treasury Secretary. Featuring a score that blends hip-hop, jazz, blues, rap, R&B and Broadway, HAMILTON is the story of America then, told by America now. HAMILTON is among the most honored works of our time, including a record-setting 16 nominations at the 70th Annual Tony Awards, winning 11, among them "Best Musical." This year also saw the original cast making indelible performances at both the 70th Annual Tony Awards and the 58th Annual GRAMMY® Awards, where it was named "Best Musical Theatre Album." In addition, HAMILTON'S AMERICA, a new documentary film exploring both the Broadway musical and the man who inspired it, recently premiered on PBS' Great Performances as part of the 2016 PBS Arts Fall Festival, earning a remarkable viewership of 3.6 million. Other awards include the 2016 Pulitzer Prize for Drama, 10 Lucille Lortel Awards, eight Drama Desk Awards, three Outer Critics Circle Awards, the 2015 New York Drama Critics Circle Award for "Best Musical," and the prestigious 2015 Obie Award for "Best New American Theatre Work." In addition, HAMILTON is also now playing at Chicago's PrivateBank Theatre, with additional openings in San Francisco, Los Angeles, and London scheduled for next year.

ARTIST & INFO

Hometown: Madrid, Spain Band Members:

As the lead singer of Héroes del Silencio, Enrique Bunbury helped turn Spanish rock & roll into a global phenomenon during the 1990s. Héroes del Silencio developed a large audience that extended into Switzerland, America, France, Germany, and even Serbia, thanks to a heavy tour schedule that often took the band around the world. The group hit its creative peak with 1995's Avalancha and broke up one year later, giving Bunbury the chance to launch a solo career. As a solo artist, Bunbury reinvented his sound regularly, beginning with the electro-rock music that filled his solo debut, Radical Sonora. Although he rejoined Héroes del Silencio for a reunion tour in 2007, he continued releasing his own music too, exploring everything from industrial rock to Latin music in the process. Last year, Bunbury had one of the most successful Latin tours in the U.S. selling out venues in every major city in the country.

These are workw made up of songs not available in other Bunbury albums. It is a compendium of years of work and creative freedom, of songs that are now only collected for your complete enjoyment with the best of presentations. Years of freedom that had to be ordered and inserted in his discography for posterity, with pride and class.

Sixteen additional songs from a newly released third volume, along with five bonus tracks ("Feels Like Home," "A Wedding in Cherokee County," "Family Album: Homage to Alfred, Emil and Lionel Newman," "I'm Dreaming," and "Wandering Boy"), join those first two volumes to create this new complete Songbook box set. Mitchell Froom produced The Randy Newman Songbook, Vol. 1 and was joined on Vol. 2 and Vol. 3 by Newman's lifelong friend and colleague Lenny Waronker. The Randy Newman Songbook box set was released on vinyl in a limited edition 4-LP set earlier in 2016.

ARTIST & INFO

Hometown: Los Angeles, CA

After starting his songwriting career as a teenager, Randy Newman began recording as a singer and pianist in 1968 with his self-titled album. Throughout the 1970s he released several other acclaimed albums such as: 12 Songs, Sail Away, and Good Old Boys. In addition to his solo recordings and regular international touring, Newman began composing and scoring for films in the 1980s. The list of movies he has worked on since then includes The Natural, Awakenings, Ragtime, all three Toy Story pictures, Seabiscuit, James and the Giant Peach, A Bug's Life, and most recently, Disney/Pixar's Monsters University, the prequel to Monsters Inc. (which he also scored).

Randy Newman's many honors include six Grammys, three Emmys, and two Academy Awards. He was inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame in 2002 and the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 2013—the same year he was given an Ivor Novello PRS for Music Special International Award. Mostly recently, Newman was presented with a PEN New England Song Lyrics of Literary Excellence Award in June 2014.

The highly praised 2008 Harpers and Angels was Newman's first album of new material since 1999. The Austin Chronicle wrote "the characters are memorable, the satire sharp, the music luxurious, and the arrangements maybe the most gorgeous in all pop music." It was followed in 2011 by Vol. 2 of the Songbook series and a live CD and DVD recorded at London's intimate LSO St. Luke's, where he was accompanied by the BBC Concert Orchestra conducted by Robert Ziegler. Newman is currently working on his next album of new material, which Nonesuch will release in 2017.

Genre: Rock

Description: Peace Trail features all new songs that Young wrote since the release of his album EARTH, this past June. This new album is primarily acoustic and reflects an intimate, sparse approach to each of the ten songs within: "Neil Young matches the fire in his belly to the poetry from his pen for one of the most gripping outings of his long career. This riveting collection, a spare acoustic-electric hybrid, seethes with righteous indignation over a plethora of social and political injustices, but also soothes with deeply felt empathy for those on the receiving end of iniquity." -- Los Angeles Times / Randy Lewis

Peace Trail was recorded at Rick Rubin's Shangri-la Studios and features Young on vocals and guitar, Jim Keltner on drums, and Paul Bushnell on bass. It was produced by Young and John Hanlon, mixed by John Hanlon. Most recently Young previewed five songs from the album during his performances during the Desert Trip Festival, in Indio, CA. last week which both Rolling Stone and Entertainment Weekly summed up as simply "explosive." "Neil slashed and bashed at his guitar, the sound intense and nearly out of control." -- Rolling Stone
The Los Angeles Times called Young's performance "intensely powerful," "furious" and concluded, "combining passion, energy and stinging content, Young served up a deeply rewarding performance."

ARTIST & INFO

Hometown: Toronto, Ontario

One of the most influential artists of all time, Neil Young has set a standard of artistic integrity and iconoclastic creativity. Before starting his multi-platinum solo career, he was a founding member of the folk-rock band Buffalo Springfield and worked with the groups Crazy Horse and Crosby, Stills and Nash. The Canadian singer-songwriter was recognized by the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 1995 for his work as a solo artist and was inducted into the Canadian Music Hall of Fame in 1982. Young's philanthropic work is as renowned as his musical legacy. His famous Bridge School Benefit Concert has become a yearly tradition since 1986 and continues to boast an incredible line-up of high-profile artists. Each year, Young donates all of the proceeds to the Bay Area's Bridge School, which assists children with severe physical impairments and complex communication needs. He was also one of the original founders of Farm Aid in 1985, and continues to be an active member on the organization's board of directors.

Genre: Country

Description: "El Rio" is Frankie Ballard's third studio album release. On the heels of his breakthrough sophomore album "Sunshine & Whiskey", which featured 3 #1 singles and 2 gold certified tracks, Frankie returns with this amazing collection of songs, mostly recorded at a remote Texas studio on the Mexican border. El Rio is as close to "live in the studio" as an album can be, and the idea of a band all creating it together is the central theme of the project. The first single "It All Started With A Beer" is already Top 20 at country radio, and looks to be Frankie's next #1.

ARTIST & INFO

Hometown: Battle Creek, MI

Hailing from Battle Creek, MI, Frankie Ballard may be a newcomer to Nashville, but his edgy, country rock sounds like the work of someone deeply at home in Music City. The fleet-fingered Ballard got his start singing Elvis songs with his dad at the age of five and jokes that he shot his first music video in the family basement when he was seven. Obsessed with baseball and intent on becoming a professional athlete, Ballard didn't learn to play guitar until he was 18, but once he did, it was full-steam ahead as he locked himself in his room for hours a day to master the instrument. He began playing in blues bands, juggling weeknight gigs with his weekend college baseball commitments. Eventually, music won out, and in the summer of 2008, Ballard won Kenny Chesney's "Next Big Star" regional competition in Michigan. He opened for Chesney at the Van Andel Arena in Grand Rapids and at Ford Field in Detroit, which led to a publishing deal with Sony ATV, and a recording contract with Warner Bros. Records.

Genre: Rock

Description: For Panic At The Disco's sophomore follow-up to their Decaydance/Fueled By Ramen break-through debut, 2005's "A Fever You Can't Sweat Out," the band holed up in a Las Vegas studio with renowned producer Rob Mathes. What they created is nothing short of a masterpiece, the '60s pop-inspired "Pretty. Odd." This time around, the band opted for real instruments and live tracking over Pro Tools software, citing influences as The Beach Boys, Bob Dylan, and The Beatles

ARTIST & INFO

Hometown: Las Vegas

Panic! At The Disco's roots coming of age in Las Vegas loom large on the band's fourth album Too Weird To Live, Too Rare To Die!. From its glittery synth-based, drum-heavy sound, to its playful, celebratory subject matter, to the Rat Pack-inspired imagery on the cover, to the title itself (a line from Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas author Hunter S. Thompson), the album finds the band, for the first time in its nearly 10-year career, owning up to loving their hometown.

"Before I started demoing any of the songs on the album, I was in Vegas and went to a club," says the band's frontman and songwriter Brendon Urie. "I was listening to the driving beats and watching all these people dance and have a good time. And I thought, 'I want to make music like this. These people are celebrating life.' It made me stop being cynical and see how beautiful it actually was. We left Vegas when we were 17, because at that age, Vegas sucks. You're not 21. You can't go anywhere; you can't play in bars. We never played live shows. So we were really bitter for a lot of years. But this last time I realized that people go there to drop their guard and let loose, and that inspired me. It was a real moment of clarity. Now I'm in love with Vegas. I even wrote an anthem about it, 'Vegas Lights.'"

Urie's inspiration is reflected in the sound of the new album, which was recorded largely on a collection of Arturia and Moog synthesizers that he and drummer Spencer Smith had collected over the years. "I hadn't really delved into it all because I didn't know how to use the technology," Urie says. "A huge part of the process for me is that I wanted to be a producer. I had the sounds in my head, I just had to figure out how to get them out. Our producer Butch Walker [who co-produced Panic! At The Disco's 2011 album Vices & Virtues] and engineer Jake Sinclair were both mentors and taught me how to use the computer. I would explain what I was hearing and they'd say, 'Well, this is how you do it.' It was validating to get positive feedback from Butch, but I still wanted more. So I just kept writing, writing, and writing." Eventually Urie came up with the album's anthemic core: "Vegas Lights," "This Is Gospel," "Nicotine," "Girls/Girls/Boys," and the new single "Miss Jackson." "We had all these songs and I was like, 'This is it; this is the record I want to make,'" Urie says. "I knew it would happen, but finally it's here."

The lyrics sprang from Urie wanting to tell his own story. Though he sometimes masked the ideas in a fictional way, his overall goal was to be as honest as possible. "This album is more confessional than anything I've done before," he says. He found himself writing about his relationships. He describes the final song on the album, "The End of All Things," as the most revealing in terms of opening his heart. "When I was writing it, I was tearing up because I was feeling a lot of emotion."

Urie strikes a more playful note on "Girls/Girls/Boys" - a racy song about women who like girls and guys. Along similar lines is "Nicotine," which compares a girl to a bad habit you just can't kick. Says Urie: "She calls you for a booty call. You think, 'I'm not going to see this girl; it's not going to happen. Twenty minutes later you're at her house. I've been through it; where you know it's so stupid and that nothing good can come of it."

Too Weird To Live, Too Rare to Die! takes a darker lyrical turn on the first single "Miss Jackson," for which Urie drew on the personal experience of being cheated on years ago. "It was very cathartic to write," he says. "I had been through something where I had slept with a girl one night and then her friend the next, but nothing like that had ever been done to me. When it did, it flipped it around for me. Once I felt how it felt, it made me change. Taking something so serious and putting a fun melody to it made me feel less dark and that I'd really overcome it
