FOREVER FIFTEEN

ABOUT

Growing up in Oklahoma, MOTHICA found openly talking about mental health struggles to be taboo and looked to the internet for a sense of community. Though MOTHICA has been writing music since she was a kid, she did not pursue music until she was 18, producing and releasing her songs independently online. Embarking on a journey of self-expression and exploration through music, MOTHICA has since released a handful of EPs, countless singles, and her 2020 debut record Blue Hour.

Making catchy alt-pop about her difficult subject matter, MOTHICA has racked up 200 million global streams and has collaborated with artists like nothing.nowhere., Royal & the Serpent, and Kailee Morgue. She has built a passionate fanbase that connects with her openness on past traumas, battle with depression, and sobriety. MOTHICA seeks to challenge stigmas surrounding mental health with her inspiring message, using music as an outlet to depict a shared experience that anyone could relate to.

One Man's Treasure / Two Of Diamonds (Limited Edition Gold & Red Vinyl)

Street Date: 10/28/2022

Mute is excited to announce the reissue of Mick Harvey's first two solo albums One Man's Treasure & Two Of Diamonds together on limited edition double color vinyl (Disc 1: Gold, Disc 2: Red), out October 28th. Packaged in a gatefold sleeve and includes a high definition audio download code.

Mick Harvey's acclaimed One Man's Treasure, originally released in 2005, is a collection of original tracks alongside covers of tracks chosen for Mick's personal connection with each track. These covers include First St. Blues by country-pop singer Lee Hazelwood, Tim Buckley's The River, and Mother Of Earth by Jeffrey Lee Pierce of The Gun Club.

The second album included is Harvey's Two Of Diamonds, released in 2007. Following the positive reaction to One Man's Treasure, Harvey was reinvigorated to record a new album. This time his band accompanied Harvey: Rosie Westbrook (double bass) and fellow Bad Seeds James Johnston (organ and guitar) and Thomas Wydler (drums), along with guest musicians Rob Ellis from P.J. Harvey's band (piano/drums) and Julitha Ryan (piano) of Melbourne's Silver Ray. In true Mick Harvey fashion, Two Of Diamonds is an eclectic collection of songs: obscure classics combined with original Harvey compositions, including 'Out of Time Man' which featured prominently in various TV Series including Breaking Bad, Orphan Black and The Tourist.

Sketches From The Book Of The Dead (Limited Edition Gold Vinyl)

Street Date: 1/13/2023

Mute is excited to announce the reissue of Mick Harvey's fifth studio album Sketches From The Book Of The Dead on limited edition gold vinyl, out January 13th. Packaged in a gatefold sleeve and limited to 1,000 copies worldwide.

Originally released on May 2nd 2011, Sketches From The Book Of The Dead is Mick Harvey's first fully self-penned album; the 11-track album was recorded and mixed with David McCluney at Atlantis Sound, Port Melbourne with additional recording at Harvey's own Grace Lane music room. The record sees Mick Harvey (playing most of the instruments) joined by Rosie Westbrook on double bass and J.P. Shilo on accordion and violin, with Xanthe Waite contributing occasional ethereal backing vocals. Containing an extraordinary investigation into a rarely scrutinized area of the human condition, Sketches From The Book Of The Dead is a truly unique piece of work.

PRAISE FOR SKETCHES:

"It's a tantalizing glimpse of how great solo Harvey can be..." - Pitchfork

"Harvey's direct production style - sparse, dusty and frequently drum-free - draws attention to the lyrics, a collection of outback eulogies and austere Australiana, which are frequently astonishing..." - The Line of Best Fit

WILCO CRUEL COUNTRY

street date: 20 January 2023

Cruel Country—Wilco’s universally-acclaimed 12th studio album will be available for the first time on vinyl and in a standard retail CD format via dBpm Records and Alternative Distribution Alliance on January 20. The double-disc packages are comprised of 21 Country Music inspired tracks, recorded at the band’s Chicago studio—The Loft.

The LP gatefold package—created by Grammy winning designer Lawrence Azerrad—includes band photos and a unique panel of postcards. Originally released in May 2022 (digital only) and in a limited “pre-release” CD edition for the June RSD drop, lead tracks “Falling Apart (Right Now)” and “Tired Of Taking It Out On You” have already become staples on non-commercial, public and AAA radio. Cruel Country songs and graphics have been featured throughout the band’s June European tour and August/September/October North American tour.

Red and White color Vinyl LPs will be available in a limited indie-store only run of 5000 units. Standard black vinyl is also available. A new music video for “A Lifetime To Find” will be released in conjunction with the pre-order announcement.

Bandleader Jeff Tweedy has commented a length on the concept and recording process of Cruel Country in numerous podcasts, online interviews and print articles:

“There have been elements of Country Music in everything we’ve ever done. We’ve never been particularly comfortable with accepting that definition, the idea that I was making Country Music. But now, having been around the block a few times, we’re finding it exhilarating to free ourselves within the form, and embrace the simple limitation of calling the music we’re making Country.”

Jon Pareles in The New York Times wrote: “Wilco makes an understated magnum opus. Its tone is naturalistic and understated; the album was recorded largely with Wilco playing live in the studio as a six-man band, quietly savoring the chance to make music together after pandemic isolation.”

Jon Dolan in Rolling Stone wrote: “Their latest is a beautifully rootsy album with a broken sense of patriotic concern.” ★★★★★

Tagged in multiple publications’ mid-summer Best of Albums of 2022 (so far) Lists including Variety, Rolling Stone, Spin, Uproxx and Paste.

THE HEAVY HOURS

The debut album featuring the singles "Don't Walk Away," "Wildfire" and "You Say My Name"

Release Date: January 20, 2023

"A purely American blend of folk, rock and good feelings"
—American Songwriter

OVERVIEW

Having made an acclaimed debut in the midst of a worldwide crisis, THE HEAVY HOURS are now set to release their self-titled debut album, a collection that exemplifies their distinctive strain of warm-hearted, open-armed alternative rock. The Cincinnati, OH-based band—consisting of Michael Marcagi (vocals), AJ Yorio (guitar), Jonathan Moon (bass) and Flint McCallum (drums)—infuse well-crafted powerful songs with uncommon honesty and a radiant energy that converts subtle strokes into an altogether different kind of volume. The Heavy Hours packs an emotional punch from the very first chord, fusing larger-than-life melodies and epic choruses with soulful, sophisticated songcraft and remarkably universal lyrical spirit.

Fueled by support from such Ohio heroes as The Black Keys' Dan Auerbach (a co-writer on their first single "Don't Walk Away"), The Heavy Hours made their way to Sun Mountain Studios in bucolic Boiceville, NY to record with renowned producer Simon Felice (The Lumineers, Matt Maeson, The Avett Brothers) along with his longtime studio collaborator Dave Baron (Vance Joy, Matt Maeson).

Refreshingly authentic and impossible to ignore, the debut album further spotlights the spirited versatility and simple elegance that The Heavy Hours have cultivated since day one. Songs like "Wildfire" and "You Say My Name" masterfully defines The Heavy Hours' overall approach, melding heart-wrenching, impressionistic lyrics with cinematic scope and joyous musicality.

SALSOU RECORDS

Established in 1974 by the Cayre Brothers, Salsoul Records quickly earned a reputation for releasing & producing everlasting dance classics. Names such as Joe Bataan, First Choice, and Instant Funk gave the label it's signature sound—a vibrant combination of salsa, soul & disco music engineered for the dancefloor.

Salsoul had many hits in the 1970s but is historically best-known for releasing the first commercially available 12" (Giant) Single: Double Exposure's 'Ten Percent'. Revered by DJs & remixers alike, Salsoul's catalog became the soundtrack of an emerging—and diverse—scene that embraced technical creativity.

Many of these records have resurfaced in modern samples & remixes: proof of Salsoul's enduring legacy and it's crucial role in shaping the sound of dance music.

SKYY - SKYY LINE

Released in 1981, 'Skyy Line' is the fourth album by the Brooklyn, NY-based R&B / funk / disco octet SKYY.

'Skyy Line' was a high note in the group's tenure with Salsoul Records, the label having released a total of seven of the group's albums.

The album, co-produced by group member Solomon Roberts and Randy Muller of Brass Construction fame, climbed to the top of the R&B charts with its cheeky hit "Call Me", which was written and arranged by Muller. Both the single and the album were certified gold by the RIAA.

Showcasing the signature vocal harmonies of sisters Denise, Dolores, and Bonné Dunning, coupled with the crisp guitar licks of Solomon Roberts, the funk and rock-inspired guitars of Anibal "Booche" Sierra, Gerald Lebon's classic R&B base thumps, Tommy McConnell's pulsating drum riffs and Larry Greenberg's synth and keyboard runs, this fourth LP crystallizes the group's magic. 'Skyy Line' delivers 40 minutes of impeccable party music: equal parts irreverent and unforgettable.

During the early 1960's, the sound of ska exploded upon Jamaica's musical landscape, with the driving dynamic sound championed by arguably the greatest ensemble of musicians ever to have performed and recorded on the island.

Fronted by legendary saxophonist Tommy McCook, the Skatalites also comprised a veritable who's who of Kingston-based performers, their number including trombonist Don Drummond, tenor saxman Roland Alphonso, drumming supremo Lloyd Knibb and keyboard prodigy Jackie Mittoo.

Following their creation in the summer of '64, this powerhouse instrumental combo dominated the island's music industry for 18 glorious months, the very best of their work produced by famed Treasure Isle Records boss, Arthur 'Duke' Reid.

The best of their output for the celebrated producer is showcased on the 'Essential Artist Collection', which sees issue on both as a 2LP vinyl set and a double CD collection, both of which provide the best introduction yet to the music of the incredible, multi-talented and hugely influential Skatalites.

Led by the dynamic Frederick 'Toots' Hibbert, the Maytals are rightly regarded as one of the greatest singing trios in the history of Jamaican music. During an incredible recording career that spanned six decades, the group scored hit after hit on the island's music charts, with their inimitable, unique blend of fervent gospel and downhome country seemingly impervious to changes in styles and fashion.

The best of their work, however, is widely regarded to be their rock steady and early reggae recordings for Leslie Kong's revered Beverly's Records during the late Sixties and early Seventies; a period that spawned groundbreaking work such as '54 46', 'Monkey Man' and 'Do the Reggay', to name but a few.

The Essential Artist Collection brings together the very best of their output from this period, including the above tracks, along with numerous other classics, such as 'Sweet And Dandy', 'Pressure Drop' and 'Night And Day'.

Available as a 28 track double vinyl LP and a comprehensive 2CD compilation (plus digital album), both collections superbly demonstrate just why the unforgettable music of the Maytals will continued to be loved and revered for many years to come.
