BIOGRAPHY: A bizarre cosmic collision propelled Alaska Thunderfuck 5000 to Earth in March 1966... and on to the fifth season of Logo TV's RuPaul's Drag Race in January 2013. Still radioactive, no one knows who or what she is yet, but no one cares, as long as she never returns to her native planet. Her age and species remain unknown to the public, but a few of her enemies claim to hold copies of her spawning record and universal passport.

Alexandra Hamilton-Ayres - Play Echoes

ARTWORK

BIO

Alexandra Hamilton-Ayres is a British-Belgian film composer, rising in the neoclassical scene as one of the UK's upcoming artists. Her work blends sound worlds with her love for the piano, orchestrated into a rich palette of electronica and classical music. Her musical roots are no less byzantine. It was her mother who first inspired her love of piano, playing Debussy, Satie and Chopin for her while she sat on her lap "until curiosity took over to play myself," and later she took up clarinet, partially, she says, because "I really liked the chrome and black aesthetic of it". But though her love of music like Prokofiev's Peter & The Wolf and Saint-Saens' Carnival of the Animals instilled an enduring love of storytelling – "Something I noticed talking through the tracks as we were recording Play Echoes," she recalls, "was the level of pictorial detail that came through for me in recounting the elements in each one" – her family were just as likely to enjoy the sounds of their own 1960s youth as opera. Childhood summers in a French chateau meanwhile added American country music and 50s rock 'n' roll to the mix, and Hamilton-Ayres then broadened her horizons as a teenager, developing a love for minimalist contemporary classical as much as electronic music like The Prodigy, Fatboy Slim and Moby. "Even now that's still my go-to escapism music to play loudly on repeat," she smiles.

Play Echoes is a deeply meditative, beguiling collection combining classical instrumentation with electronic and electro-mechanical elements.

SALES & MARKETING

- On November 18, LEITER, the label founded by Nils Frahm and his manager Felix Grimm, will release composer Alexandra Hamilton-Ayres' striking new album, Play Echoes, a collaboration with Her Ensemble, the UK's first women and non-binary orchestra, which formed during the pandemic.
- The follow-up to 2 Years Stranger, her 2020 debut – described as "hauntingly beautiful" by BBC Radio 6 Music's Mary Anne Hobbs and The Guardian as having a "devastating emotional effect – it was largely recorded at LEITER's studio in Berlin's Funkhaus complex
- She has been nominated for 'best score' for three of her soundtracks, winning an award for 'best music' for the surreal art and dance film Divided We Scroll (commissioned by the Barbican, London). Alexandra has an ongoing collaborative relationship with Her Ensemble, releasing an arrangement of Coma to celebrate International Women's Day, joining them on stage and working on soundtrack and solo releases together.
- Her love of collaboration has also led to projects with artists such as violinist and composer Anna Phoebe on film score Until We Touch. Alexandra is known for reworking other artists tracks including a rework for Vanbur releasing on Human Reworked alongside Mogwai and Katie Gately and Hector Plimmer's Next to Nothing - remixed alongside artists such as Matthew Herbert.
- Her first collaboration EP Ciara released at the end of 2022 with producing

ALBUM INFO:

Tiny Viper's full-length debut album Hands Across the Void was first released in July 2007 by Sub Pop Records and was reissued digitally by LEITER in 2021. The already legendary album is out now on vinyl for the very first time in a limited edition.

SALES & MARKETING:

Being a solo acoustic female singer songwriter comes with its share of conspicuous baggage. And Seattle's Jesy Fortino, who records and performs as Tiny Vipers, has been spared little of it: she's played coffee shops, on mismatched bills with by-the-book folkies, and fielded far too many questions that address her gender rather than her music. Fortunately for us (and, we can only imagine, even more so for her) these things all fall away when she plays. Inhabiting the space carved out by minimal guitar, gentle textures and stark, immediate vocals, Tiny Vipers' music evokes the contrast and quiet, empty beauty of a grey northwest landscape. Jesy has spent two and a half years exploring these landscapes, locally releasing a few artfully-packaged CDRs and playing shows all over the Northwest, before she finally recorded her first full-length record Hands Across the Void in Seattle at Red Room Studios in late fall of 2006. Enlisting the help of engineer Chris Commons and friend, musician, and Austin music-scene expat Ben Cissner, Jesy used this opportunity to explore new textures, instruments and harmonies. The result is a uniquely striking record that's as fully realized as it is spare and beautiful.

Dark metal masters AMORPHIS finally reissue a gem from their early years – “Far From The Sun” is available on marbled vinyl and CD again!

Artist: AMORPHIS
Title: Far From The Sun
Original release date: 05/26/2003
Re-release Date: 12/2/2022
Label: ATOMIC FIRE
File Under: METAL

Originally released in 2003, AMORPHIS’ “Far From The Sun” has been sold out for many year and is finally available in its original version again on CD and marbled vinyl.

This was the last full-length release featuring the band’s previous singer Pasi Koskinen and marked the end of an era in Amorphis’ 30 year long band history.

Mixed by Hiili Hiilesmaa at Finnvox Studios, Finland and mastered by Thomas Eberger at Cutting Room in Stockholm, “Far From The Sun” showed the band’s psychedelic rock side and charted on #7 in their homecountry Finland back in 2003.

ARTWORK

INFO

It's been an incredible journey: 5 singles with music videos, the "Nobody Is Not Loved" album, its own festival in Amsterdam with over 17.000 visitors, 7 remix EPs with 16 different remixes, numerous Beatport #1 and multiple Essential New Tunes honorations. And with the release of the complete Remix Collection, the NINL journey is coming to an end. What started with the release of the first album single „Home“ in October 2020 is now culminating in a 4 LP Vinyl Box with 16 remixes of Solomun's „Nobody Is Not Loved“ album, more than two years later.

The album tracks, originally on a very wide genre spectrum, have been hauled back onto the dance floor by 16 widely respected producers:

Âme, Boys Noize, Carl Craig, DJ Koze, Jackmaster & Skream, Keinemusik, Kim Ann Foxman, Lena Willikens, Maceo Plex, Michael Mayer, Pantha Du Prince, Stimming & Johannes Brecht and Trance Wax

Each of them delivered in their own style, but aimed at the club. The collection comes in a special carton box, pressed on 4 translucent vinyls, of which two are in red and two in white hue.

Short before the Vinyl Box release comes the still outstanding music video for "Night Travel (feat. Tom Smith)" and the final third part of the NINL interview by Solomun, to be published on 19h of October. The fifth and last video of the album concludes the five acts of the journey and tells at the end what Nobody is not Loved means, namely: music loves everyone equally.

SALES & MARKETING

- Gained worldwide recognition with over 50 remixes for artists like Depeche Mode, Leonard Cohen, Jon Hopkins, Jamiroquai, Moderat, Interpol, Editors, Foals, Lana Del Rey
- played the most relevant festivals (including Coachella, Tomorrowland, Time Warp, etc.), hosted his own headline shows and festivals, has his Ibiza residency "Solomun +1" at Pacha, the most important on the island.
- his iconic Boiler Room Set also created one of the most streamed DJ sets in history.
- Won various awards as best DJ, Best producer, DJ of the year, best international DJ, Remix of the year and more

Know Where To Run

(Limited Edition Silver Vinyl)

Street Date: 12/2/2022

Mute is excited to announce the reissue of Barry Adamson's Know Where To Run, out December 2nd on limited edition silver vinyl and CD. The vinyl includes a 36 page large format booklet of Barry's photos and a high definition download code.

Barry's 2016 album, Know Where To Run, was produced by Barry himself and recorded in Brighton with Paul Pascoe, whilst WTNS mixed and provided additional production at the legendary Dean Street Studios. The concept behind the album emerged when Barry started taking photos during a Nick Cave and the Bad Seeds North American tour, playing with the idea of traversing different states of the human condition and different states across America. The result was an audio/visual project inspired by these pictures, with the record being presented alongside a curated photobook.

The release of Know Where To Run follows the limited edition reissues of Stranger On The Sofa and Back To The Cat.

PRAISE FOR KNOW WHERE TO RUN:

"It's brassy, vivid, edgy, dramatic and propulsive – in short, highly cinematic." - Northern Soul

"The album spans everything from prog rock to psychedelia to crooning, but if there is a thread throughout [Barry's] work, it's an outsidersness – documenting desperate characters" - The Guardian

I Will Set You Free

(Limited Edition Curacao Vinyl)

Street Date: 12/2/2022

Mute is excited to announce the reissue of Barry Adamson's I Will Set You Free, out December 2nd on limited edition curacao vinyl and CD. The vinyl includes a high definition download code.

Initially released in 2012, I Will Set You Free amalgamated elements of Barry's previous work, resulting in an album that is unmistakably Barry Adamson. Like many of Adamson's records, the album is a genre odyssey that jumps from garage rock, to blues, to new-wave pop, with the adventurous brass section injecting an acid jazz touch. His overwhelming desire to examine cultural shifts and embrace them within the quest to improve oneself that often centres in Adamson's art is clearly present in I Will Set You Free. This subsequently makes it a quintessential Barry Adamson record that fits right in with the back catalog.

The release of I Will Set You Free follows the limited edition reissues of Stranger On The Sofa and Back To The Cat.

PRAISE FOR I WILL SET YOU FREE:

"Utterly fearless in his exploration of everything from bluesy soul to full-on, swampy psychedelia, Adamson is one of the most fascinating figures in current British rock." - Express

"He feels comfortable in his skin on this wonderfully sequenced collection of songs that makes no attempt to hide his past; if anything, he celebrates it as he moves ever forward." - AllMusic

Limited Edition 5-CD BOX SET

TWO COMPLETE CLASSIC SHOWS WITH FRESHLY MIXED & MASTERED AUDIO

'The Gorge '98' is a two show, 5-CD audio box set from 7/16/98 and 7/17/98 at The Gorge Amphitheatre in George, WA – a natural open-air venue with stunning views of the Columbia River Gorge, and onsite camping under the stars. Capturing the band at a summertime peak at this storied high desert venue, 'The Gorge '98' celebrates this idyllic two-night stand across 30 songs on the band's first archival CD release since 'St. Louis '93' (2017) and 'The Baker's Dozen' (2018). Recorded live by Paul Languedoc, mixed from multitrack by Jon Altschiller, and mastered by Fred Kevorkian, 'The Gorge '98' is must-hear Phish.

MICK HARVEY

One Man's Treasure / Two Of Diamonds (Limited Edition Gold & Red Vinyl)

Street Date: 10/28/2022

Mute is excited to announce the reissue of Mick Harvey's first two solo albums One Man's Treasure & Two Of Diamonds together on limited edition double color vinyl (Disc 1: Gold, Disc 2: Red), out October 28th. Packaged in a gatefold sleeve and includes a high definition audio download code.

Mick Harvey's acclaimed One Man's Treasure, originally released in 2005, is a collection of original tracks alongside covers of tracks chosen for Mick's personal connection with each track. These covers include First St. Blues by country-pop singer Lee Hazelwood, Tim Buckley's The River, and Mother Of Earth by Jeffrey Lee Pierce of The Gun Club.

The second album included is Harvey's Two Of Diamonds, released in 2007. Following the positive reaction to One Man's Treasure, Harvey was reinvigorated to record a new album. This time his band accompanied Harvey: Rosie Westbrook (double bass) and fellow Bad Seeds James Johnston (organ and guitar) and Thomas Wydler (drums), along with guest musicians Rob Ellis from P.J. Harvey's band (piano/drums) and Julitha Ryan (piano) of Melbourne's Silver Ray. In true Mick Harvey fashion, Two Of Diamonds is an eclectic collection of songs: obscure classics combined with original Harvey compositions, including 'Out of Time Man' which featured prominently in various TV Series including Breaking Bad, Orphan Black and The Tourist.

BIRD STREETS

LAGOON

Acclaimed Brooklyn artist Bird Streets has returned with Lagoon, an album about separation, rumination, regret, and recurrence. For his second album under the Bird Streets name, John Brodeur has widely expanded on the project's collaborative foundation, enlisting production by Patrick Sansone (Wilco), Michael Lockwood (Aimee Mann, Fiona Apple), and Zach Jones (Sting) and Oscar Albis Rodriguez (A Great Big World), plus guest appearances from the likes of Aimee Mann, Ed Harcourt, John Davis (Superdrag), Jody Stephens (Big Star), and an array of top-shelf session players. With mixing split between Sansone and Grammy winner Michael Brauer (Coldplay, John Mayer), and mastering by Grammy nominee Pete Lyman (Brandi Carlile, Chris Stapleton), Lagoon is an enormous step forward from an artist who has been hailed for his evocative storytelling and keen attention to craft.

Producer and multi-instrumentalist Patrick Sansone helmed sessions in Nashville ("Burnout", "Leave No Trace", the bossa-flavored "The Document") and later in Memphis, where he and Brodeur were joined by John Davis on guitar and Jody Stephens on drums, forming a power-pop fantasy band of sorts. ("Machine", "Go Free", and wistful "SF 1993" come from the Memphis dates.) Back in Brooklyn, Brodeur cut several tracks with the production team of Zach Jones and Oscar Albis Rodriguez, including "Ambulance," the catchy AM Gold of "Let You Down," and the Last Waltz-styled soul-rock of "Disappearing Act." When the pandemic threw a wrench in the works, Brodeur turned to Los Angeles-based producer Michael Lockwood to remotely helm Lagoon's final stretch.
