Ohio Players

OBSERVATIONS

IN TIME

the Johnny Brantley/Vidalia productions

Formed in 1964 as The Players, and eventually The Ohio Players, the group was “doing Chicago and Blood, Sweat & Tears-type stuff long before they were. Our crowds at home were so big by 8:30 you couldn’t get anywhere, and this wasn’t blacks, this was whites!” according to founding member Clarence “Satch” Satchell. Meeting up with producer Johnny Brantley in 1966, the band began recording the following year. After a single on Ray Charles’ Tangerine label, they released two singles on the Compass label, and landed a contract with Capitol Records.

Observations In Time appeared in January 1969, containing a number of Ohio Players originals including “Here Today And Gone Tomorrow,” which David Bowie would make part of his Diamond Dogs tour and release it on 1974’s David Live. Covers include Allen Toussaint’s “Mother-In-Law,” the band’s take on “Over The Rainbow,” and a version of the immortal “Summertime” from Porgy And Bess. After the release of the Capitol album, the band parted ways with Brantley and re-emerged in 1971 with their LP Pain on Detroit’s Westbound Records. When they hit superstardom with the million-selling “Funky Worm” (1973) on Westbound and million seller “Fire” (1974) and Gold-single “Love Rollercoaster” (1975) on Mercury Records, Brantley repackaged the remainder of their original pre-Capitol sessions across various releases in 1976–1977.

Now, for the first time, all 24 tracks from this pivotal and influential period of their long and successful career are available on Observations In Time: The Johnny Brantley/Vidalia Productions. Containing the entire Observations In Time LP, their two Compass singles, and the material released afterward, Observations In Time: The Johnny Brantley/Vidalia Productions is the ultimate early look at a group that would transform modern R&B multiple times, eventually becoming part of the inaugural class inducted into the Rhythm and Blues Hall of Fame in 2013.

With packaging featuring new liner notes from Tim Dillinger-Curenton outlining the story, Observations In Time: The Johnny Brantley/Vidalia Productions is a perfect release to showcase a band that was always on the cutting edge of musical exploration and excellence.

BARTEES STRANGE

Magic Boy (red & white swirl color variant)

"It seems like the sky's the limit with him. He's got big things ahead..."
— Bryce Dessner of The National

Barteek Strange has been one of the most significant indie artists to break out in the post-pandemic era. He debuted with Say Goodbye to Pretty Boy, an album length collection of The National songs released in March 2020, on the cusp of the pandemic. Later that year came his first LP Mustang which was named to endless year end best lists including those from Pitchfork, Stereogum, Rolling Stone, and NPR Music. He quickly signed to 4AD and his debut for the label Farm To Table turned him into a club headliner and an arena-sized opening act with genre-defining artists such as The National, boygenius, Phoebe Bridgers and Courtney Barnett.

The vinyl-exclusive release Magic Boy represents the Barteek story before this story began — 33 1/2 minutes of recordings created before he entered the public eye, with 8 out of 10 never previously released. It finds his ever malleable sound touching on genres like coffee house folk ("IDK" - "Best Of You" - "You're Here"), emo troubadour ("Count It Back" - "Little Brother"), and wigged-out experimentation ("Eat Your Heart Out"). Appended with two tracks previously available only as digital b-sides from Say Goodbye ("HAGS" - "Going Going") it reads as a kind of "lost" album for someone shaping up to be a major voice in indie music.

Barteek's story is a fairy tale of independent community and a triumph of efforts to diversify what the word "indie rock" even means, reclaiming it for Black artists. The Magic Boy LP is a fine way to celebrate Barteek Strange's explosive trajectory and his recent run of dates opening for The National at arenas across Europe in autumn 2023.

RIYL: L'Rain, The National, Kara Jackson, boygenius, Bon Iver, The Beths, TV on the Radio, Alvvays

PLAYS WITH MERCURY

For fans of KISS, Angel, and Hanoi Rocks!

Initial Kick is the high-energy Philadelphia-based rock band helmed by Steve E. Ojane (Angel) on lead vocals and Frankie Schaffer (Hurricane Jane) on lead guitar. They formed with a collective passion for the theatrical anthem rock they had all grown up on. Driven by the influences of KISS, Mott The Hoople, Hanoi Rocks, Alice Cooper, T. Rex, and David Bowie, the boys bring their own original and dynamic voice to the genre of arena rock with their hook-laden sonic bombast. Their debut album Plays With Mercury is an inspired love letter to rock and roll.

Their debut album Plays With Mercury is an inspired love letter to rock and roll. Steve E. Ojane replaced bassist Felix Robinson in the legendary 70's glam band Angel in 2018 and has contributed to their Billboard charting comeback album Risen and latest release Once Upon A Time. Initial Kick's debut album Plays With Mercury features 12 tracks including a cover of The Archies "Sugar Sugar", and the single "Tranquilizer".

RIOT are the epitome of class, longevity and integrity: The New Yorkers play their high-class heavy metal with full fervour and have not let numerous strokes of fate (such as the death of guitarist Mark Reale, since when, out of respect, they are operating as "RIOT V") get them down. A lot of time has passed since their debut "Rock City" (1977), but RIOT V are still around and now delight their fans with an absolute masterpiece: More than five years after "Armor Of Light", which saw the band achieving chart success in numerous European countries for the first time ever, RIOT V now present "Mean Streets". From the ferocious opener "Hail To The Warriors" to the hypnotic hymn "Feel The Fire" and the up-tempo hit "High Noon," to the energetic title track, the band pulls out all the stops. Fast-paced, lively, melodic and heavy - "Mean Streets" is the full service for every heavy metal fan!

EIDOLA

EVISCERATE

SUMMARY

EIDOLA have returned to utterly defy expectations and reach exhilarating heights. The enigmatic existential post-hardcore band hailing from Salt Lake City, Utah is back once again to push the limits of the art form to its breaking point. Seeking to explore new territory with an ambitious follow up to their critically acclaimed album The Architect, the dynamically heavy and deeply sorrowful Eviscerate paves eclectically violent sonic ground while remaining true to the band's profound lyricism and meaning.

SELLING POINTS

- Latest album from existential post hardcore act
- Features the singles "No Weapon Formed Shall Prosper", "Who Of You Will Persevere" and "Fistful Of Hornets"
- Features members of Dance Gavin Dance
- New Music Available on request

QUOTE

Mike Sahm- "We spent our downtime completely immersed in our desire to push our own limitations. We wanted to take the concepts of this project and double down on the things we felt were most ambitious and exploratory. While keeping our core sound, we chose to experiment with a new producer, 7 string guitars, deep drop tunings, and lean into the violence and loss in our lyrical content."

I'm Never Gonna Die Again (2024 Remaster)

Street Date: 4/12/2024

Mute presents These Immortal Souls' second album, I'm Never Gonna Die Again, remastered on vinyl and CD.
