THE POP GROUP

Y IN DUB

Street Date: 4/8/2022

Mute is excited to announce the release of The Pop Group's Y in Dub, out April 8th on double black vinyl. This follows the October 29th CD and digital release.

The Pop Group's seminal album Y has been given a complete dub reworking by the album's original producer and British reggae legend Dennis "Blackbeard" Bovell. Bovell has produced for a wide variety of artists including Fela Kuti, Bananarama and Linton Kwesi Johnson. This new version of the album features reimagined arrangements of the original album's tracks with mind-bending space echoes and a plethora of other studio effects.

Originally released in 1979, Y represents a stunning culmination of The Pop Group's crucial nonconformity. Preceded by a meteoric rise in recognition, Y firmly realized the latent potential of the group's early years. From playing Bristol youth clubs to early gigs supporting Pere Ubu and Patti Smith to gracing the front covers of NME and Melody Maker, The Pop Group's progression to the forefront had been swift.

Y is ranked by The Wire as one of the 100 Most Important Records Ever Made and by Pitchfork as one of the Best Albums of the '70s.

First thing's first: No, they're not from Utah. This Texas metalcore band, formed in 2008, found a statistic that indicated the death rate in Utah usurped all other states at one point, and called themselves "Everyone Dies In Utah" as a joke. As you can see, the joke stuck.

Everyone Dies In Utah may have started with a joke, but their music's fun and sincerity has attracted a loyal fanbase over the years. The band take pride in being accessible to their fans and tour extensively so they can create deeper connections with them. They've shared the stage with and have toured with well-known names like Memphis May Fire, The Color Morale, labelmates Alesana and Suicide Silence.

Everyone Dies In Utah's debut Tragic Hero Records full-length Seeing Clearly has withstood the test of time, remaining a fan-favorite since its 2011 release. Bearing that in mind, for the record's 10th anniversary, Tragic Hero Records pressed the album on vinyl for the first time. A first-revealed orchid color variant sold out within an hour, prompting the release of a second, translucent blue variant to satiate demand.

Now, Tragic Hero is debuting a black vinyl variant exclusively for retail distribution.

Hurry Up, We're Dreaming (10th Anniversary Edition)

Street Date: 4/15/2022

Mute is excited to announce the 10th anniversary edition vinyl release of M83's seminal album Hurry Up, We're Dreaming, out April 15th. This one time pressing, limited edition double orange vinyl features the same children from the first pressing, now 10 years older, creating another iconic cover to expand upon the original.

Originally released in 2011, Hurry Up, We're Dreaming remains one of the definitive indie-pop records of its decade. The double album spans 22 tracks including "Wait," "My Tears Are Becoming A Sea," and the Platinum hit single "Midnight City" (which Pitchfork named the #1 Song of 2011). Hurry Up, We're Dreaming debuted at #15 on the US Billboard 200 chart and was GRAMMY nominated in 2013 for Best Alternative Music Album.

PRAISE FOR HURRY UP, WE'RE DREAMING:

"...an album so deep and expansive it could house weather systems within weather systems." - PITCHFORK

"A mélange of 1980s-influenced styles, it's a shimmering album that wears its thrill on its sleeve, unashamed of aiming for something grand, but savvy enough to get there in a way that's textured and not just literal." - NEW YORK TIMES

"That pervasive dedication to heart-swelling drama is M83's gift: No one is better, or more single-minded, when it comes to evoking dream-pop awe." - SPIN

"You're constantly climbing, soaring, shimmying, and crawling — even if you haven't moved an inch." - CONSEQUENCE

FREQUENCY

RELEASE DATE: APRIL 15TH, 2022

The last two years since his first release via Deutsche Grammophon have been turbulent for the Berlin native piano virtuoso, producer, and singer Dario Lessing: with an eclectic mix of beautiful piano pieces (DNA I), collaborations with other producers (Robot Koch, Andrew Applepie, AK and more) and alternative pop projects (Better Days EP with Rezar premiered on COMPLEX), his online following grew from zero to almost one million monthly listeners. Besides his constant output, the classically trained pianist started releasing sheet music of his magical pieces due to high demand on Instagram by fans from all over the world. He composed scores for fashion outlets (Tings Magazine), commercials (Bertelsmann) and is now preparing his collab-filled album Frequency with guest vocalists featured on every one of the eleven tracks. In short – Lessing represents a new breed of self-made artists and producers that collaborate without musical or geographical borders. His capability to catch the very core of other artists' creativity leads to uniquely direct and intuitive records with a spiritual, often mystical character.

Freshly signed on the prestigious Modern Recordings (Pat Metheny, Sebastian Knauer, Robot Koch...), the album is also Lessing's first to be released on vinyl.
