JIM CROCE

YOU DON'T MESS AROUND WITH JIM

(2023 MIX)

Release Date: 5/17/2024

★ New Stereo Mix by Paul Hicks (George Harrison, John Lennon) sourced from the original multitrack tapes

Produced by Terry Cashman and Tommy West, and featuring the brilliant guitar interplay of Maury Muehleisen, YOU DON'T MESS AROUND WITH JIM catapulted the seasoned songwriter into the public consciousness and spent 93 weeks on the charts. Over the last 50 years, the tracks "You Don't Mess Around With Jim," "Operator (That's Not the Way It Feels)," "Time In a Bottle," and "Photographs and Memories" have become staples of the contemporary folk canon.

The album posthumously went to Number 1 on the Billboard 200 in 1974 and has been certified Gold.

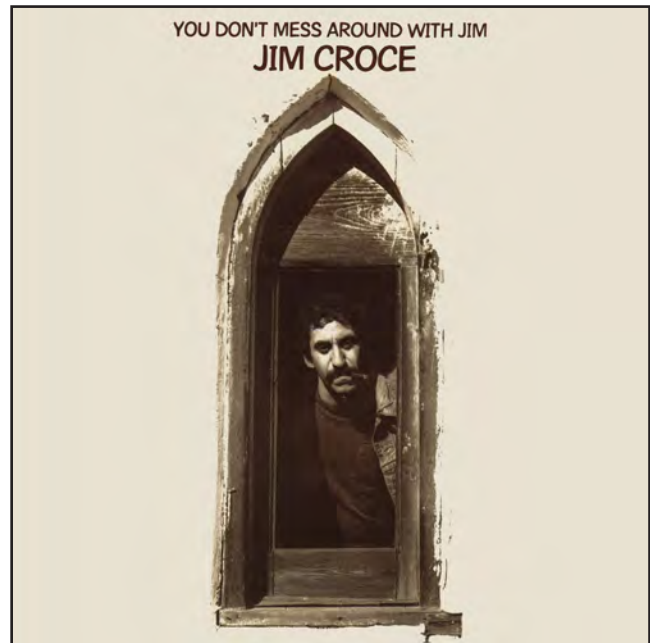

Tracklist:

CHARLIE WATTS

ANTHOLOGY

US Release Date: 05/17/24

2CD 1500 UNITS N. AMERICA

★ Re-packaged from its original Mediabook format to 2CD Digisleeve

Charlie Watts "Anthology" is an affectionate retrospective and a reflection of just how frequently Watts was able to exercise his jazz muscles between Rolling Stones commitments to create a bespoke discography of his own.

The names of Charlie's jazz heroes fell from his lips like a superfan turning the pages of a personal scrapbook. Charlie Parker, Gerry Mulligan, Chico Hamilton, Dave Green, Stan Tracey, Peter King, Courtney Pine, Gail Thompson, Brian Lemon, Gerard Presencer, the Red Rodney group and collaborator Jim Keltner. He knew every player, every session, every album, every outfit they wore on the cover, and he spoke about them with a deep and genuine reverence. He may have been a globally loved hero in the biggest band in the world, but he swatted away any compliment or comparison with his musical favourites. He counted himself their admirer, never their equal.

The Anthology includes an extended essay by Paul Sexton which documents Charlie Watts' jazz career and the essential albums covered in the collection.

WAITING ON MONGO FROM THE TOP

For fans of Lettuce, The Motet, and Tauk!

A power funk septet, Waiting on Mongo is an immersive experience that can only be described as a soulful journey that pushes the limits in the 4th dimension of psychedelic grooves. With strutting guitar riffs, transcendent horns, and heady organ depth, the live performances take you on a cathartic journey where you shed the weight of the world with everyone in attendance. Traversing the inner workings of the human soul, everything seems to be in its right place when the Mongo party hits full throttle.

Waiting on Mongo has relentlessly displayed a level of musicianship that continues to impress both music critics and fans alike, winning awards in their hometown of Asbury Park for consecutive years. With a permeating aura of soulful energy, that illuminates every venue, the band is on a collision course for new locations to spread the love that is their music.

Now they are set to release their brand new album From The Top featuring the first single "Take Our Time" and other stand out tracks like "Do What you Want" and "Sick of the Woods".

JEFF KOLLMAN

2023 A.D.

For fans of Gary Moore, Jeff Beck, Eric Johnson, and Fusion Rock!

Jeff Kollman is best known for his heavy, melodic electric guitar playing, fusing elements of Jazz harmony and creating his own brand of Rock with his long running prog fusion trio, Cosmosquad. Jeff wrote and recorded two albums with UFO Singer Phil Mogg including Mogg/Way Chocolate Box and Dancing With St. Peter.

Jeff has been involved with Glenn Hughes (Deep Purple, Trapeze), as an on-and-off studio and road liaison and a member of Chad Smith's Bombastic Meatbats. As a session player, Jeff has recorded and played with a diverse list of artists including Jill Scott, Patti Labelle, Miranda Lambert, Lyle Lovett, and Alan Parsons (Pink Floyd, Beatles).

Now Jeff is set to release his latest 2023 A.D. which features a guest appearance by Red Hot Chili Peppers drummer Chad Smith on the first single "Tongs & Thongs". The album also features Shane Gaalaas (MSG, Yngwie Malmsteen), Jimmy Johnson (Allan Holdsworth, James Taylor), Guy Allison (Doobie Brothers), and Ed Roth (Robbie Krieger).

SALES & MARKETING

Timeless. Explosive. Romantic. Inspiring. How else to characterize Blue Electric Light, Lenny Kravitz's 12th studio album? Kravitz's mastery of deep-soul rock 'n roll is a long-established fact. As a relentless creative force—musician, writer, producer, actor, author, designer—he continues to be a global dynamic presence throughout music, art and culture. Blue Electric Light is an impassioned suite of songs, that broadens this distinction and is the latest contribution of a man whose music—not to mention his singular style—continues to inspire millions the world over. On the album, Kravitz's talents as a writer, producer and multi-instrumentalist resonate as he wrote and played most of the instruments himself, with longtime guitarist Craig Ross. Lenny Kravitz has won four GRAMMY® Awards and sold 40 million worldwide. He has recently been recognised with the Music Icon Award at the People's Choice Awards.

Double Colour LP - Black/Gold Galaxy

Description:

Obsidian, Jónsi's third studio album, originally released to coincide with his installation of the same name at the Tanya Bonakdar Gallery in NYC, is now available on vinyl for the first time. Co-produced and mixed by Paul Corley (Yves Tumor, Oneohtrix Point Never, Ben Frost, Koreless) and Nathan Salon, Obsidian follows a darker path than its predecessor, Shiver.

After lying dormant for nearly eight hundred years, the eruption of the Fagradalsfjall volcano in Iceland served as the inspiration for both the record and the exhibition. Recorded and produced in tandem, the parallel formats inform one another and interweave through their embodiment of volcanic energies. Over the course of 10 tracks, each with evocative titles referencing sights, textures, and aromas of the ashen terrain, Jónsi takes his listeners through narrative arcs between erupting flares. Through an instinctual sensibility for layering vocals over orchestral passages, Jónsi masterfully collapses the boundaries between the senses. Velvety, musky notes of amber translate through deep, sustained progressions of the double bass. Similarly, sharp, tapered edges of obsidian glass register through piercing and frenetic digital bursts. And finally, in the manner of falling ashes, sounds of rushing winds and water cascade steadily over listeners, signalling a return to serenity, stillness, and recovery.

Anyone familiar with the name Jónsi associates it with disciplines of all forms. A founding member of Sigur Rós, he has also made music for film, as a solo artist, and as a duo, Jónsi and Alex Somers. His artistic talents span further than just music, from creating his own custom scents to wood-carving to formulating anti-anxiety CBD tinctures. Never limiting himself to a singular focus, Jónsi encapsulates the modern Renaissance artist: prolific, talented, and undaunted by new ideas.

JOE HOUSEROCKER GRUSHECKY A JOE GRUSHECKY ANTHOLOGY

Joe Grushecky grew up in the coal mining town of Biddle, Pittsburgh, but after seeing The Beatles on The Ed Sullivan Show—he soon had a guitar in hand, and a future in Rock ahead of him.

Joe worked as a Special Education educator by day, while his band, Iron City Houserockers gigged by night. They were signed in 1979 by Steve Popovich to his Cleveland International (home of Meat Loaf, Jim Steinman, Ronnie Spector). From the first album Love's So Tough through the present day, Joe solo, and with various incarnations of the Houserockers, journeyed through albums filled with hard-edged rock with lyrics true to their Pittsburgh Steeltown roots. Albums have included productions and contributions from Ian Hunter (Mott The Hoople), Mick Ronson (David Bowie), Steve Van Zandt, Bruce Springsteen, Steve Cropper (Booker T. & The MG's), and many others.

Throughout the 40 years of Joe's career, he has always balanced his passion for caring for those in need with delivering blistering, energetic rock, while simultaneously breaking boundaries on other fronts. Currently a Board Member on the Light Of Day Foundation, Joe continues to rock the house at the annual Light of Day benefits.

Houserocker: A Joe Grushecky Anthology covers 40 years of performances from Iron City Houserockers, Joey G., Joe Grushecky And The Houserockers, and under his own name.

Newly remastered by multiple Grammy-winner Michael Graves, and co-Produced by Joe's son and current Houserocker Johnny Grushecky, and multiple Grammy-winner Cheryl Pawelski, Houserocker: A Joe Grushecky Anthology's packaging includes photos from across the years and comprehensive liner notes from Mike Ragogna with Joe, and special Track-by-Track remarks from Grushecky himself. Houserocker: A Joe Grushecky Anthology is the ultimate look at the hardest working band in Rock and Roll and Pittsburgh legend, Joe Grushecky.

BUY! HERE'S WHY!

- First-ever career-spanning, 2-CD/Digital collection from the legendary Pittsburgh Rock and Roller!
- Features contributions from Steve Cropper, Ian Hunter, Bruce Springsteen, Steve Van Zandt, Mick Ronson, Ellen Foley, and many more.

Mervin Mayo God Did It

Mervin Mayo, the Richmond, VA cop who went viral in 2020 with millions of views of him seated in uniform, playing a portable keyboard, belting out gospel songs at a church rehearsal, is releasing his new album, 'God Did It.' This nine-track delivery pairs his raspy sandpapery tenor with bold messages of faith, heightened by retro R&B flavors. Mervin's captivating tenor fluctuates between tender high notes & gritty low ones filling your ears with hues of treasured soul men such as David Ruffin, Bobby Womack, & The Dells' Marvin Junior. All of what Mayo presents comes with a palette of classic soul & 90s R&B colors, saturated with a passionate message of inspiration!

Although Mervin Mayo is a relatively new artist, his Luminate Data history is 4 Million Streams On-Demand & 3 Million per Streaming Programmed ATD. God Did It is his debut CD on Tyscot Records!
