GRAHAM NASH

NOW

NOW, the aptly-titled new studio album from legendary artist Graham Nash, is a stunning collection that stays true to his near six-decade mission: observing the human experience through the lens of a Northern boy and contributing a wealth of songs to the soundtrack of our lives.

The new songs on NOW are worthy additions to the canon of a two-time inductee into the Songwriters Hall of Fame, a body of work that American Songwriter magazine calls “just as significant today as they were when written some 50 years ago.” The new songs range from the intensely political rallying cry of “Stand Up” and scorching indictment of MAGA in “Golden Idols” to the bitterly ironic “Stars and Stripes.” As Nash says, “just tell me the truth, stop lying and stop trying to create division between people all over the world, just tell me the truth. The stars and stripes are waving, but they’re waving goodbye to the truth.”

There is the fervent hope that we are leaving the kids “A Better Life,” but there is also the messy ego-driven rock and roll parade recollection of “I Watched It All Go Down” (cf. “reflector shades and telegrams at dawn”). At the other end of the rock and roll spectrum is “Buddy’s Back,” a driving homage and celebration of the enduring influence of both Buddy Holly and The Hollies in Nash’s life, with Hollies co-founder Allan Clarke on harmony vocals. In fact, both Nash and Clarke have recorded this new song (with Nash reciprocating harmony on the upcoming Clarke version), which harkens back to that Christmas 1962, when they gave The Hollies its name.

Nash’s lifelong commitment to his work is unwavering. His inspiration is simple: “All the things we stood for, that love is better than hatred, that peace is better than war, that we have to take care of our fellow human beings, because that’s all we have on this planet—those things are still true today. I need to know that I’ve brought something into the world that was positive and not negative.”

ALCATRAZZ STORM BACK WITH NEW ALBUM “TAKE NO PRISONERS”

Alcatrazz are determined to make up for lost time, roaring forwards at warp factor 10 to deliver Take No Prisoners, their sixth studio album and the third in three years. Comprising of ten cracking, charismatic tracks, with each containing the unique fusion of classic American rock with the full grain hard-rocking attitude of British metal, Take No Prisoners sees Alcatrazz energetically soaring and exploring melodic progression with road-warrior riffs. Lead single and video “Don’t Get Mad...Get Even” sees the band collaborating with the legendary Girlschool in a full-force, head-banging fist-pumper, while “Little Viper” rides a scything guitar into a thunderous, Dio-like assault. The band also show their calmer, more expansive side with the epic “Strangers”, but when an album finishes at the burn point of “Bring On The Rawk”, there can be no question that Alcatrazz’s collective boot is repeatedly kicking serious ass!!!

Comprised of Doogie White (vocals), Joe Stump (guitars), Jimmy Waldo (keyboards), Gary Shea (bass) and Larry Paterson (drums), and with Giles Lavery and Waldo producing, Take No Prisoners is a loudly, and proudly classic rock album which draws on the Alcatrazz traditions of technically excellent screaming guitars, thunderous rhythm and the sort of vocals and overall aura that evoke prime Dio and Rainbow. And, of course, a primed and fully-tuned up Alcatrazz, whose career is fast taking on Benjamin Button proportions. The Take No Prisoners tour should be a lot of fun!

Take No Prisoners will be released on CD Digipak, 12” Black Vinyl, Digital Download and Streaming. Available to pre-order from February 3rd 2023.

THE UNDERTONES

The Undertones Transparent Green Colored Vinyl

Release Date: 5/19/23

Overview:

The Undertones formed in Derry, Northern Ireland, in 1975 and released their debut album The Undertones in 1979 which peaked at #13 in the UK Charts.

John and Damian O'Neill partnered infectious guitar hooks to '60s garage, '70s glam rock, with Feargal Sharkey's signature vocal quaver. Those qualities came together on their breakout hit "Teenage Kicks," whose simplicity harked back to '60s ideals of when the song was king.

This classic debut record infuses so much unabashed joy in two-minute three-chord pop songs, and there's little pretension in their unapologetically teenage worldview, that even the darker hints of life in songs like the suicide-themed "Jimmy Jimmy" are delivered with a sense of optimism at odds with so many of their contemporaries.

This reissue is the first time the bands critically acclaimed debut has been pressed on transparent green color vinyl.

THE UNDERTONES

Hypnotised

Red Colored Vinyl

Release Date: 5/19/23

Overview:

The Undertones formed in Derry, Northern Ireland, in 1975 and released their follow up album Hypnotised in 1980 which peaked at #6 in the UK Charts.

The themes on this title follow suit of their debut, focusing on teenage angst, boisterousness, and heart-break. Though Hypnotised is notably both lyrically and musically more sophisticated than its predecessor.

The album contains 14 punky pop classics, with a slightly tougher edge than the unfailingly sweet-natured debut. The giddy love rush of the title track is matched by some of Feargal Sharkey's most exuberant vocals, and the snotty "What's with Terry?" and "My Perfect Cousin" are yet more perfect slices of adolescent frustration.

This reissue is the first time the band's highest charting release has been pressed on red color vinyl.

SABBAT

Mad Gods And Englishmen

US Release Date: 05/19/2023

CD BOX SET 350 UNITS N. AMERICA

- ★ Studio albums back on CD for the first time in a decade
- ★ Live concert from Berlin released on DVD for the first time
- ★ Previously unreleased BBC radio session included
- ★ Berlin concert released in its entirety for the first time on CD

If the post-NWOBHM era threw up very little from the UK metal scene that could scare the world, then Sabbath were a shining, scarifying exception. From Nottingham, they were brave enough to ditch the cliches, and try a little experimentation and individuality in a music style that seemed, at that point, to be predicated on the obvious.

After two well received demos, Kerrang! magazine coverage and a session on BBC Radio 1's, Friday Rock Show they signed to Noise Records where they produced two landmark albums of their unique, Pagan thrash metal; 'History of A Time To Come' (1988) and 'Dreamweaver' (1988). The writing duo of vocalist and lyricist Martin Walkyier combined with the song-writing prowess of guitarist Andy Sneap (now a producer in his own right and guitarist in Judas Priest) were ahead of their time and created two of the most significant albums of the late 80's.

This box set contains both these seminal studio albums plus a recently found Radio 1 session that preceded them, unavailable since its original broadcast in 1987. Completing this collection is their historic performance at the Thrashing East Live concert in East Berlin from 1990, just as the iron curtain fell. It's presented here on DVD for the first time and also as an album of the show which is released in its entirety for the first time, including songs left off the DVD. This is all finished up with a double sided poster and book containing all of Martin Walkyier's eloquent lyrics from these songs.

VELVETEEN

Amidst the isolation of the past 2+ years, PONY's Sam Bielanski and their partner Matty Morand transformed themselves into songwriting machines. Thanks in part to their pandemic podcast project, 2 Much TV, which challenged themselves to write a new song every single week, they wrote over 100 new original songs - finding inspiration from hours of television, books, and self reflection, and constantly sharpening their songwriting tools with every new melody. The result is the band's second full-length studio album, Velveteen, featuring some of their most vulnerable to-date - 10 new stories about deep connection or longing for it, and embracing true authenticity, all wrapped in easily consumable pop hooks and infectious melodies.

"For me I have learned that we become our most authentic selves when we allow ourselves to be open and deeply affected by someone else" says Bielanski, reflecting on the songwriting process that also corresponded with a 9 month-long struggle with insomnia that also inspired the album's title.

"I listened to an audio book of the velveteen rabbit every night until I fell asleep. I became obsessed with the story but I never listened all the way through. The way I eventually interpreted the story was that it's the love that we give and receive that makes us real or whole. The one chapter I found especially heart wrenching is when the velveteen rabbit is trying to hang with the real rabbits of the forest, and through comparison he realizes he isn't as real as he thought he was. It was a good lesson for me even now because I'm constantly fighting the urge to compare myself to others. Your individual experiences make you who you are and nothing can change that. That's what I thought, until I finally listened to the entirety of the story and found out that at the end of the book a fairy turns the velveteen rabbit into an actual rabbit and then I got really confused."

THE HIGHER

Elvis In Wonderland

(Music only on side A1-5):

The Higher rode the wave of pop-rock stardom in the early 2000's after sharing the stage with emo greats including Panic! At The Disco, Taking Back Sunday, Motion City Soundtrack, Silverstein, and more. Their unique brand of rock fused with a hint of groove landed their fan-favorite On Fire LP a #9 spot on the Billboard Heatseekers Charts, on heavy rotation on multiple MTV channels, and on the radar of top tastemakers including SPIN, Kerrang!, Fuse, and more. Now the Epitaph Records alumni are taking everything they know from the major stages of their early days to shine brighter than ever for their 2022 comeback. They are poised to share their first release since 2009, the Elvis In Wonderland EP coming out on October 14, 2022 via Secret Friends Music Group / Take This To Heart Records / Parting Gift Records. The new tracks encompass their rejuvenated sound and fresh era fusing elements of dance pop, emo, and R&B with a pop-punk edge. With Seth Trotter on vocals, Reggie Ragan on guitar and vocals, and George Lind rounding out the lineup on drums, The Higher is prepared to soar once again.

Elvis In Wonderland is produced by Mike Pepe and mastered by Mike Kalajian. EP art direction by Andrew Cook.

Day-Glo (Based On A True Story)

Street Date: 5/19/2023

Mute is excited to announce the repress of Erasure's Day-Glo (Based On A True Story), available May 19th on black vinyl. Follows the sold out first pressing, originally released on August 12th, 2022.

Day-Glo features 10 songs, each created using elements from The Neon universe. Familiar but unexpected, the songs bear little resemblance to the original album, although echoes of The Neon can be heard from time to time. The album is an alternative look at Vince and Andy's world, and marks the closure of this chapter of The Neon.

Vinyl includes large format 4 page booklet.

Lisa Gee

SHUT IT DOWN

For Fans of Joan Jett, Lita Ford, and Hard Rock!

Singer, Songwriter, and Classically Trained Multi-Instrumentalist Lisa Gee wrote her first song at the age of 4, and music has been her passion as far back as she can remember. When not prolifically writing music, over 200 songs and counting, she is taking to the road on either her 1980 Harley Davidson Low Rider or 2016 Indian Chief Vintage.

'Shut It Down' is her first ever EP and it is co-written and produced by legendary drummer Carmine Appice (Vanilla Fudge, Ozzy Osbourne, Blue Murder, Rod Stewart, etc...). The line-up is rounded out by the rich guitar rhythms and masterful leads of Don Mancuso (Lou Gramm Band, Black Sheep), and the driving bass of James Lorenzo (White Lion, David Lee Roth, Megadeth).

The EP is mixed by Pat Regan (Deep Purple, Saga, Mr. Big, etc...) and starts with the very catchy and retro "Love Thing" and Lisa states, "Love Thing" is one of my faves - it's about that universal crazy-crush feeling we've all experienced when we realize we're totally infatuated with someone new." There is an incredible version of the Montrose classic "Bad Motor Scooter" and the EP closes out with driving title track "Shut It Down".

Buckle up and get ready to take a ride with the ever fun and loveable Lisa Gee!

NINA SIMONE

Nina Simone And Her Friends (2021 – Stereo Remaster)

Release Date: 5/19/23

180 gram black vinyl

Mastered by Kevin Gray

Originally released by Bethlehem Records in 1959, NINA SIMONE AND HER FRIENDS was a compilation album comprised of the few remaining, unreleased tracks from the Little Girl Blue recording session plus songs recorded by two other former Bethlehem artists, the powerhouse jazz vocalist Carmen McRae and the elegant song stylist Chris Connor.

As Daphne Brooks explains in the release's brand new essay, "Bethlehem clustered their work—tracks that had previously appeared on the label's Girlfriends compilation—together with the younger, upstart Simone's and essentially offered up a collection of songs that span a range of genres— folk, jazz, pop song staples, and torch song laments, plus a couple of provocative original compositions by McRae and Simone. Each track is a reminder of the clear-eyed independence, verve, and confidence of three artists whose music, taken together, brims with the majesty and the assured talents of the late 1950s women artists who led with conviction and invention as musicians and song interpreters."

Featuring a new stereo mix by four-time Grammy winner Michael Graves and mastering by Kevin Gray. Includes new essay by author of Liner Notes For The Revolution, Daphne A. Brooks.

Tracklist:

1. Nina Simone – "He's Got The Whole World In His Hands"
2. Chris Conner – "Someone To Watch Over Me"
3. Carmen McRae – "Old Devil Moon"
4. Nina Simone – "I Loves You, Porgy"
5. Chris Connor – "I Concentrate On You"
6. Carmen McRae – "You Made Me Care"
7. Nina Simone – "For All We Know"

9. Carmen McRae – "Too Much In Love To Care"
10. Nina Simone – "African Mailman"

FEATURING

"Calor"

Memphis soul and salsa sensibilities come together in Making Movies' approach to a classic love song, featuring organist Rev. Charles Hodges (Al Green) and the vocals of the Sensational Barnes Brothers. Featured in a PBS music documentary AMERI'KANA.

"Porcelina" (feat. Tennis)

The breezy cha-cha gets lost in the clouds until a Serge Gainsbourg-esque interruption with special guest Alaina Moore (Tennis) gets it back on track.

"Sala De Los Pecadores"

Electric guitar and acordeón lead this edgy cumbia dance-track for the depraved. A FilmQuest 2021 "Best Music Video" nominee.

In 2018, Tommy made the great album, Accomplice One, a series of duets with musicians great and varied, and all at his level. It's a concept that worked, as the range of artists reflected Tommy's expansive love of all kinds of music, including Rodney Crowell, Mark Knopfler, Amanda Shires, Jason Isbell, Jerry Douglas, Jake Shimabukuro and more. Each of his accomplices seemed as inspired by his energy and passion as much as Tommy was by theirs, and he played with effortless grace.

Now in 2023 comes the long-awaited sequel, Accomplice Two. It shares the same exuberance, diversity, and sense of adventure as the first album, with a great range of artists. This album features rock legends Michael McDonald, Jorma Kaukonen, and Little Feat; bluegrass superstars such as Billy Strings, The Del McCoury Band, Sam Bush, Jerry Douglas, Sierra Hull, and David Grisman; country icons such as Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Jamey Johnson, and Raul Malo; and guitar heavyweights like Yasmin Williams, Larry Campbell, and Richard Smith. The first single "White Freight Liner Blues" features the recent Grammy Award Winner and claw hammer guitarist, Molly Tuttle.

DANIEL BLUMBERG

GUT

Street Date: 5/26/23

Mute is excited to announce the release of Daniel Blumberg's brand new album GUT, out May 26th on black vinyl and CD.

GUT is an unflinchingly raw and personal album from the Ivor Novello winning musician and composer. It is a suite of six songs performed entirely by Blumberg comprising an extraordinary, soaring vocal take and an unconventional palette of bass harmonica, Steinberger e-bass, synthesizer and electronic drums. The album makes reference to the intestinal disease Blumberg has suffered over the last few years, its songs tracing a body stripped back and rebuilt: renderings of pain, frustration and fatigue in ballads made of sinew and bone.

New York director and actor Brady Corbet (Vox Lux, Childhood of a Leader) has made a film to the album shot on 16mm, which will be released at a later date. Corbet won the Best Director award at the 72nd Venice International Film Festival and received an honorable mention at Sundance for Short Filmmaking.

GUT is Blumberg's third solo record on Mute following the release of Minus (2018) and On&On (2020), as well as his award winning score for the film The World To Come (dir. Mona Fastvold, 2021).

THE HORSE MATTHEW HERBERT X LCG

Matthew Herbert is an award-winning composer, artist, producer and writer whose range of innovative works extends from more than 30 albums (including the much-celebrated Bodily Functions) to scores for Oscar-winning films (A Fantastic Woman) as well as music for the National Theatre, Broadway, TV series (Noughts and Crosses, The Responder for BBC), games (Lego) and radio. He has performed solo, as a DJ and with various musicians including his own 21 piece big band and 100 piece choir all round the world from the Sydney opera house, to the Hollywood Bowl and created installations, plays and opera.

The album, released by Modern Recordings BMG worldwide, will be one continuous piece of music, made with a complete horse skeleton, 30+ musicians, bone flutes, horse skin drums, original mechanical instruments, pelvic lyres, electronics, cement mixer.

With an exploration of music's origins and rhythm in particular at its heart it will begin quietly and slowly and gradually accelerate throughout, getting bigger and faster until by the end it is in a kind of frenzy. The orchestration will include the bones from a horse skeleton, flutes made from its bones, the traditional instruments of the London Contemporary Orchestra, and sampled recordings of a horse's life.

It will demonstrate, through the choice of sounds, the story of music from its distant origins in the form of bone flutes (similar to the oldest musical instrument), via more traditional musical instruments to cutting edge electronics and sampling. The opening horse bone flutes, made by Henry Dagg, will be played by Shabaka Hutchings. The final electronics will contain instruments and techniques developed by some of the UK's most interesting musical inventors.
