SLEEPING WITH SIRENS

with ears to see, and eyes to hear

SUMMARY

Sleeping With Sirens did it the right way. They've been touring non-stop and have been building their fan base one show at a time. Their debut album is selling more now than it did 8 months ago. This is a good thing. Their debut had a steady build with no "flash in the pan" gimmicks or trends. They've found their sound which is a mix of heavy melody while still remaining edgy and heavy.

BIOGRAPHY

Breaking Benjamin guitarist and solo artist Keith Wallen second solo album, Infinity Now, includes production and co-writing contributions from Kevin Thrasher (RIVALS, Jelly Roll) and work with Dan Braunstein (Spiritbox, Dayseeker) and Andrew Baylis (Sleeping With Sirens, Jelly Roll, Brantley Gilbert). Infinity Now extends a warm invitation into the singer/songwriter's heart and mind. Hard rock bombast meets intimate pensiveness via engaging songs like "Blackout," "Strings," and "Headspace Holiday." As guitarist for Breaking Benjamin, a solo artist or songwriting collaborator, the common threads through Keith Wallen's work are honesty, authenticity, and heartfelt spirit.

"As a musician you always want to keep in a state of evolution creatively, and sometimes it's not the most comfortable thing to go through. I really tried to explore all the things I wouldn't want to talk about and opened myself lyrically more so than in previous efforts." – Keith Wallen

Maurice White

Manifestation

As a teenager, Maurice White studied at the Chicago Conservatory of Music while playing in bands around town. Later, he became a session drummer at Chess Records where he appeared on records by Muddy Waters, Buddy Guy, Chuck Berry, Etta James and more! In 1966 he left Chess to join the Ramsey Lewis Trio, staying with them for the next three years and a series of album releases (and winning a Grammy for Best Rhythm & Blues Group Performance, Vocal or Group for their track, "Hold It Right There") until 1969, when he joined two friends, Wade Flemons and Don Whitehead to form a songwriting team. They moved from Chicago to Los Angeles and changed their name to Earth, Wind & Fire.

Earth, Wind & Fire sold over 100 million records, and won countless accolades: inclusion in the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, Songwriters Hall of Fame, Vocal Group Hall of Fame, and garnered four American Music Awards and seven Grammys (out of 17 nominations), including a Lifetime Achievement Award in 2016.

White was also a sought-after producer, player and songwriter. His credits include songs, albums and sessions for Barbra Streisand, Neil Diamond, Ramsey Lewis, Pieces Of A Dream, Minnie Riperton, Barry Manilow, Jennifer Holliday, Deniece Williams, The Emotions, Walter Hawkins, The Tubes, Atlantic Starr, and many, many more. His remarkable career included solo albums, music for feature films, television shows, and a Broadway play.

After releasing a self-titled solo album in 1985, while recording Earth, Wind & Fire's 1987 release Touch The World, White shared the producer chair with award-winning producer/songwriter Preston Glass. The result was a number one chart hit, "System Of Survival." From this successful start, Glass and White formed a songwriting bond that lasted for nearly 30 years and resulted in over 40 songs. Three years after White's untimely passing, 12 of those songs were released digitally as Manifestation.

Now, those 12 songs, along with six previously unissued tracks appear for the first time on CD (Digital also available), fully authorized by Kalimba Entertainment and in cooperation with Platinum Garage Recordings and SoulMusic Records. Newly remastered by multiple Grammy-winning Engineer Michael Graves, the musical spirit of Maurice White thrives as his final recordings are available again featuring new, insightful, and heartfelt notes from set co-Producer David Nathan. Manifestation is essential listening for fans of the lifelong work of the brilliant Maurice White.

With Love, Snarls

When producer Chris Walla (Tegan & Sara, Death Cab For Cutie) pitched the idea of Ohio-native band, Snarls, coming to his home in Norway to make their upcoming full-length album; the offer turned out to be one the band couldn't refuse. Despite touring the U.S. multiple times since their debut LP "Burst" in March of 2020, Snarls had not yet gotten an opportunity to go overseas as a band.

After a 13 hour flight and an hours long drive led them to the middle of nowhere in Surnadal, Norway, they hunkered down to track what would become their sophomore LP "With Love," at DreamFarm Studios.

"With Love," (releasing May 3rd via Take This To Heart Records) is an album that does not pull its punches. The urgency on the album combined with Walla's lavish soundscape production that balances high-powered guitars with ethereal vocal harmonies constructs a sound uniquely their own. Do yourself a favor and listen with headphones.

While "With Love," mostly wades in the waters of indie pop, the album dips its toes in the deep end of a heavier alternative rock vibe. Their single "Heavy Drinker" utilizes concise pop song writing, big hooks, and fuzzy riffs, while exploding into the triumphant "Oh Yea, Oh Yea, Oh Yea" emphatic chorus. "Driving Faster" tones it back with minimal percussion and acoustic guitars that create a lush landscape of sounds while singer Chlo White beckons "Driving faster, will you race me?" as she ushers to her lover to meet up with her as soon as possible. What encapsulates this album so beautifully is their near 8 minute closing track "Ur Song / Lovers Of Valdaro," which would feel right at home on a Death Cab album.

For Snarls there is no sophomore slump, only a continuation and building upon what they've always done since the bands inception: create truthful, honest, heart on a string indie-rock that speaks not only for them, but to them, in a way that only Snarls can convey.

PAUL WESTERBERG & GRANDPA BOY

➤ STEREO/MONO ➤

180 GRAM DOUBLE VINYL

Paul Westerberg, the legendary musician known for his work with The Replacements, embodies a dynamic dichotomy in his music, much like the distinction between stereo and mono sound. Basically, Stereo and Mono reflect both sides of Westerberg's musical personality. Ironically, Stereo is the darker, more subdued and introspective half. Most of its dozen tracks are downbeat country waltzes, built around Westerberg's lazy strumming and world-weary vocals, backed by bare-bones instrumentation. Drums don't appear at all until nearly halfway through the record and only a few songs — like the slow-burning No Place For You and the kiddie-rocker Mr. Rabbit — could be termed “rockers.” And with titles like Got You Down, Nothing to No One, Don't Want Never, Call That Gone? and Let the Bad Times Roll, you don't need Dr. Freud to tell you this disc is dominated by depression, desperation, divorce and drugs. But just because Paul is down doesn't mean he's out.

Luckily, the set's other record Mono rescues the mood. Originally released in the U.S. a couple of months ago under Westerberg's musical alter-ego Grandpa Boy, its 11 tracks are a joyous set of loose-limbed guitar-rock. Tracks like I'll Do Anything, Eyes Like Sparks and Knock it Right Out shuck and jive to choppy riffs and swaggering Stones-rock rhythms. Others like High Time, Silent Film Star, Kickin' the Stall and AAA lightly swing to the strummy grooves and ringing chords that defined the rockier moments of his previous discs. Taken together, they're the closest Westerberg has come yet to recreating the tipsy abandon of The Replacements.

ALKALINE TRIO

FROM HERE TO INFIRMARY

LIMITED EDITION BLACK & RED SPLATTER

"FROM HERE TO INFIRMARY" by ALKALINE TRIO is a pivotal album that encapsulates the band's signature blend of punk rock energy and dark, introspective lyricism. Released in 2001, the album marked a significant moment in the band's career, solidifying their standing in the punk scene. The album's title hints at themes of morbidity and the precariousness of life, which are recurrent throughout the tracks. Matt Skiba's raw vocals, coupled with Dan Andriano's bass lines and Derek Grant's drumming, create a dynamic musical landscape. Standout tracks like "Private Eye" and "Stupid Kid" showcase the band's ability to craft catchy, yet emotionally charged songs. "FROM HERE TO INFIRMARY" stands as a testament to Alkaline Trio's ability to navigate the complexities of punk rock, leaving an indelible mark on the genre and influencing subsequent generations of musicians.

THE STAPLE SINGERS AFRICA 80

The Staple Singers emerged into the public conscious in the early 1950s and over the course of their influential career, transformed how listeners experienced Gospel music. During the Civil Rights movement, Roebuck "Pops" Staples discovered that their music could both enlighten and inspire a new generation. Signing with Stax Records, they began to rule not only the Gospel charts, but the Pop and R&B ones as well, with hits like "I'll Take You There" (which topped both the Pop & R&B charts), "Respect Yourself," "Touch A Hand, Make A Friend," and more. After Stax closed, they moved to Curtis Mayfield's Curtom Records and 1975 saw them hit #1 on both the Pop & R&B Charts again with "Let's Do It Again." Three additional albums for Warner Bros. closed out the decade. (Expanded editions of Let's Do It Again (1975), Pass It On (1976), Family Tree (1977), and Unlock Your Mind (1978) are available from Omnivore Recordings)

An international tour sponsored by the U.S. Government found the Staples performing across the continent of Africa in 1980. The set included recent and classic hits like "Let's Do It Again," "Respect Yourself," standards "Will The Circle Be Unbroken," "Come Go With Me," choice covers like "Ease On Down The Road" from The Wiz, and the Bacharach/David classic, "A House Is Not A Home."

Now, with restoration and mastering from multiple Grammy-winning engineer, Michael Graves, Africa '80 presents a look into this ever-evolving musical and National treasure. New liner notes from Tim Dillinger-Curenton contextualize the band's story, legacy, and detail the tour and recording. Africa '80 delivers a snapshot of this powerful group on tour for the first time on the African continent.

Let's Do Rock Steady (The Soul of Jamaica)

US Release Date: 05/10/2024

The immediate successor to ska, the soulful, melodic sound of rock steady first developed during the long hot Jamaican summer of 1966 and reigned supreme thereafter for two glorious years before finally being superseded by the more energetic style of reggae.

Despite its relatively brief period as the island's national sound, the rhythms of many of its biggest hits have continued to influence and inspire music-makers to the present day, resulting in renewed interest in the sub-genre among record buyers in recent years.

This superb 2xLP vinyl collection features 24 of the most popular recordings of the rock steady era, including the UK hits, '007', 'Train To Skaville' and 'It Miek' and The Maytals' anthemic dance-filler, '54 46 That's My Number'.

Pressed on high quality 140gm vinyl and presented in a stylishly designed sleeve, the album not only provides the ideal introduction to this hugely popular and influential sound, but is also a must for established fans of the Jamaican sub-genre, with many of the tracks appearing on vinyl for the first time in decades.

Five Ways To Say Goodbye

Street Date: 5/10/2024

Melbourne music legend Mick Harvey unveils his latest solo album, Five Ways to Say Goodbye, via Mute.

Five Ways to Say Goodbye marks Harvey's fifth solo album, featuring an introspective blend of originals and covers brimming with wistful acoustic rock gems. The record includes Harvey's translated reworking of Marlene Dietrich's 1950s ode to Berlin, "A Suitcase in Berlin" ("Ich Hab' Noch Einen Koffer in Berlin"), which was released as a standalone single in 2023, hinting at the forthcoming album.

In true Mick Harvey fashion, the album pays homage to fellow Australian musicians with covers of songs by Ed Kuepper - "Demolition"; Fatal Shore - "We Had an Island"; David McComb - "Setting You Free"; Lo Carmen - "Nashville High"; and The Saints - "Ghost Ships." These tracks sit alongside a cover of Lee Hazelwood's "Dirtnap Stories" and Harvey's rendition of Neil Young's "Like a Hurricane."

Following on from the collaborative album Phantasmagoria in Blue with Amanda Acevedo, who also lends her voice to "Dirtnap Stories" on this record, Five Ways to Say Goodbye adds to Mick Harvey's extensive repertoire, affirming his significant contributions to music.
