DANCE GAVIN DANCE

JACKPOT Juicer

BIOGRAPHY:

Jackpot Juicer may be Dance Gavin Dance's tenth studio album, but it's not a capstone—it's a launchpad.

Packed with gems of post-hardcore genius and produced by the legendary Kris Crummett (Issues, Sleeping With Sirens), the new record is the band's longest and most ambitious to date. Following the album's completion, the group received the tragic news that their dear friend and bass player, Tim Feerick, had passed away. As his final work, Jackpot Juicer has become a celebration of Feerick's remarkable musical spirit, and a way to honor his legacy for the five close bandmates: vocalists Tilian Pearson and Jon Mess, lead guitarist and songwriter Will Swan, drummer Matt Mingus, and the recently added Andrew Wells, who tackles both rhythm guitar and backing vocals.

With Jackpot Juicer, Dance Gavin Dance have expanded and refined their singular, genre-defining sound with a masterful blend of catchy hooks, punishing heaviness, and an off-the-wall sense of humor. From Swan's zany, electrifying riffs on "Cream of the Crop" to Pearson's aching vulnerability on "Swallowed by Eternity" to Mess' ferocious yet meticulous delivery on "Die Another Day," the new record finds each artist pushing their virtuosic skills to dizzying new heights. Indeed, despite the band's already storied past, one thing is clear: for Dance Gavin Dance, this is only the beginning.

BILLY HOWERDEL WHAT NORMAL WAS

SUMMARY

After all of these years, Billy Howerdel is ready to introduce himself. The vocalist, multi-instrumentalist, producer, composer, A Perfect Circle co-founder and guitarist projects facets of his personality onto a reflective ethereal canvas of living and breathing soundscapes. On his proper full-length solo debut, What Normal Was [Alchemy Recordings/Rise Records/BMG], he inhabits a space that's reverent of his past, present, and future simultaneously.

"This is me stepping back into my early teen self and making the record I would have made if I had the means and the knowledge when I first picked up a guitar—just in 2022," he explains. "It's that moment as a kid when you hear a record, close your eyes, and go somewhere else. During the making of this album, a global pandemic's chaos had a silver lining. It gave me time to tighten the songs into the place I'd hoped they could be. When I look back, I don't think I'd change anything about it."

Ultimately, this album is the best way to get to know Billy.

SELLING POINTS

- Billy Howerdel, better known as founding member and guitarist of A Perfect Circle, is back with his first solo single in 14 years. Now under his own name instead of the previously titled Ashes Divide project.

- Mixed by Matty Green (Dua Lipa, U2, Weezer)

PRESS QUOTES

"Record's great! If you're a huge fan of A Perfect Circle, you're gonna love it hands down. Has shades of A Perfect Circle in there but also a lot of his early influences really coming through like The Cure, Depeche Mode, Echo & the Bunnymen. Solid!" - Dan Carter, BBC Radio 1

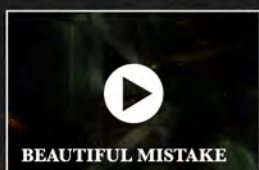

"Howerdel paints a haunting visual with a dark palette." - Loudwire

"...an ethereal, brooding and intensely stark creeper with gothic vocals and oodles of atmospheric textures." - Revolver

Originally signed to Roadrunner Records, the group also featured guitarists Jeffrey Kendrick and Evans Pitts, bassist Jon Miller and drummer John Boecklin. It's been a constant uptick for the Southern California quintet since they first blasted a hole through the zeitgeist in 2003 with their pivotal self-titled debut.

BARRY ADAMSON

Oedipus Schmoedipus

(Limited Edition White Vinyl)

Street Date: 7/29/2022

Mute releases a limited edition run of Barry Adamson's 1996 album, Oedipus Schmoedipus, out July 29th on white vinyl.

Oedipus Schmoedipus features collaborations with Pulp's Jarvis Cocker ('Set The Controls For The Heart Of The Pelvis'), Nick Cave ('The Sweetest Embrace') and Billy Mackenzie ('Achieved In The Valley Of Dolls'). This record explores the 'Oedipus Complex', with Barry describing it as "a sexual psychoanalytical journey examining mother and son relationships in a somewhat humorous, yet dark way."

Since lending his talents to Magazine and Nick Cave & the Bad Seeds, Barry Adamson has released a series of solo albums ranging in different musical genres. Viewed as the finale of an "unconscious trilogy" following Moss Side Story and Mercury Prize nominated Soul Murder, Oedipus Schmoedipus showcases its composer's embrace of various styles, moving between ambient electronics, cool jazz and elements of hip-hop.

Limited to 1,000 copies worldwide.

LITTLE CAESAR

THIS TIME IT'S DIFFERENT

For fans of Little Caesar, Tora Tora, Rhino Bucket and Hard Rock!

Little Caesar is most remembered for their version of the soul music song "Chain of Fools", a 1989 hit single from their self-titled debut album. John Kalodner did A&R work for the group, and Bob Rock (Metallica, Motley Crue, etc...) produced their debut self-titled album, which was released in 1990 to positive reviews.

On the strength of the singles "Chain of Fools" (a cover of the Aretha Franklin song) and "In Your Arms", Little Caesar hit number 139 on the US Billboard 200 in 1990. Lead vocalist Ron Young made a brief cameo in James Cameron's Terminator 2, as the biker thrown through the window of the bar by Arnold Schwarzenegger.

"This Time It's Different" was originally released in 1998 and is a collection of previously unreleased studio recordings and live performances from the band's heyday. This album also features former John Lennon and David Bowie guitarist Earl Slick. It has now been re-mastered and repackaged for this re-issue, which now features never before seen pictures and brand new artwork. This is the third in a series of reissues coming through the bands new imprint label Dirty Deeds Records.

The band has since reformed for some live shows in 2001, and released their comeback album, 'Redemption' in 2009, and continues to release new music and tour.

HEAVY GUS

NOTIONS

The debut album
featuring members of
THE LUMINEERS
and
BLIND PILOT

HEAVY GUS formed in 2020 in the high desert of Bishop, California. Led by singer/songwriter/guitarist Dorota Szuta, the band includes multi-instrumentalist Stelth Ulvang of The Lumineers and percussionist Ryan Dobrowski of Blind Pilot.

The band took shape during the pandemic when songwriting couple Ulvang and Szuta (a marine scientist who also has a background in music playing with Laura Gibson and Gill Landry) took a socially distanced road trip to Nashville — picking up Dobrowski in Colorado along the way — to record at The Creative Workshop. The resulting collection of songs blur the lines between grungy garage band fare, hazy desert surf, and dreamy, sun-soaked indie rock. Their debut offering calls to mind everything from Meat Puppets and The Breeders to Yo La Tengo and Acetone in its artful balance of hope and fatalism, loneliness and desire, strength and vulnerability. And while all three bandmates came to HEAVY GUS from very different worlds, they fit together like puzzle pieces here, bound by the kind of love and trust that can only grow from years of deep kinship.

NOTIONS was engineered and mixed by Parker Cason (Margo Price, All Them Witches, Coin) and mastered by Pete Lyman (Chris Stapleton, Jason Isbell, Brandi Carlile).

Time Flies, is an extraordinary collection that fuses intimate subject matter and upbeat guitar-led rock with irresistibly catchy electronic elements. In the half decade since her acclaimed 2016 album Wild Things, Pip has gone through a personal transformation.

Pip has openly struggled with mental health, anxiety and depression for a long time and, after dealing with severe postnatal depression + a serious skin cancer condition which has thankfully seen a full recovery, was able to successfully procure the right balance of therapy & medication which is so individually specific. When she embarked on writing songs for this new record in 2019, there was a sense of freedom in the work. "I was feeling pretty grateful to be alive and making music, so I felt like I didn't 'care' anymore - not in a bad way, I just stopped overthinking it."

Time Flies was produced with a host of incredible collaborators including, LA songwriter and producer Tommy English (K.Flay, Carly Rae Jepsen, Kacey Musgraves, Adam Lambert, Broods etc), Auckland based Josh Fountain (Leisure, Benee), Jeremy Toy (Leonard Charles, She's So Rad), Sydney's Chris Stracey (Bag Raiders, Paloma Faith, Diplo.) and Jono Sloan (Empire Of The Sun, PNAU)
