Kissing DEATH

MOTHICA

SUMMARY

Death is an uncomfortable topic that most people avoid thinking about, but MOTHICA decides to dance with it. Vulnerably, she laments her personal battles with depression, addiction, suicidal ideation, processing her pain with lush soundscapes underpinned by funereal keys, heart-thumping hard rock guitars, and disarmingly catchy moments of pop catharsis.

After amassing hundreds of millions of streams and earning acclaim from the likes of Billboard, MTV, Teen Vogue, BuzzFeed, Alt Press, and more, she dives deeper into her powerful story with an audio/visual experience for her third album, KISSING DEATH, released through her own imprint Heavy Heart Records partnering with Rise Records/BMG.

Some career highlights include: her independently released "VICES" which skyrocketed to no. 2 on the Pop iTunes chart in 2020, her song "Buzzkill" about sexual assault with over 51 million Spotify streams, and her rendition of Bring Me The Horizon's "Can You Feel My Heart" is a crowd favorite with 25 million Spotify streams. In the last year, she toured North America and Europe with Coheed & Cambria and Halestorm, in addition to various festivals.

Yves 1st EP [LOOP] LOOP

The Beginning of the Journey: Finding the Voice of Yves

Yves, who announced her solo act away from her previous group LOONA last July, is finally announced her first EP [LOOP] as a solo artist under PAIX PER MIL after long preparation.

This album marks Yves' initial step in creating her world as a solo artist. Having adapted to team dynamics and structured systems for a long time, this album signifies her departure from a predetermined 'loop' of rules to explore and express herself through music. Consequently, this EP is raw yet bold, rugged yet honest, encapsulating gratitude towards fans who have believed in and waited for her.

The album [LOOP], overseen by MILLIC, the executive producer of PAIX PER MIL, includes comprehensive production, with IOAH contributing evocative beats and blah conveying lyrical beauty in one track each. All artists from PAIX PER MIL supported Yves and contributed to this album.

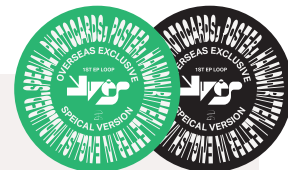

From folk to alternative R&B, the four tracks in the album showcase Yves' diverse exploration and discoveries. Listeners will encounter Yves' thoughts and emotions, previously difficult to express, imperfect yet promising, inviting anticipation for her future endeavors.

JERRY PHILLIPS

FOR THE UNIVERSE

1. Number One Girl
2. Treat Her Like She Was Mine
3. She Let Me Slip Right Through Her Fingers
4. Black Widow Eyes
5. I Like Everything I See
6. That's All Right
7. Good Side, Bad Side, Side Of Crazy Too
8. 24/6 Not 7
9. New Pair Of Everything
10. Specify

The myriad of stars that aligned to create Jerry Phillips' debut solo album, For The Universe, have been orbiting the rarified atmosphere of Memphis' Sam Phillips Recording Service—the namesake studio that Jerry's father built in the wake of his Sun Records success with Elvis Presley, Carl Perkins, Johnny Cash, and Jerry Lee Lewis—since its doors opened in 1960. The fact that it took 64 years for those stars to fully align is more a testament to Jerry's own unwavering path than it is being the son of the man who unleashed rock 'n' roll on the world.

The final piece of the puzzle fell into place when the studio acquired the original Spectra Sonics console from Stax Studio B, which had captured soul classics like Rufus Thomas' "The Funky Chicken" and much of the Isaac Hayes catalog. Jerry said, "I want to be the first person to record on the Stax console at Phillips." When it came time for the "shakedown session," Album coproducer Scott Bomar remembers, "we liked the results and that was the beginning of the record. Jerry's recording method was a window into what it was probably like recording at Sun—very live, off-the-cuff, and unrehearsed. It all had a real spontaneous feel and spirit."

Most importantly, Jerry's method served the songs, a ten-track tour-de-force ranging from full-tilt rockers to slow-burning country soul, all rife with chord changes that bring the listener a smile of comfortable familiarity while simultaneously tugging at the heart strings. The driving guitar and horn-blasting "Number One Girl" and its tender tremolo and organ-flavored follow-up "Treat Her Like She's Mine"—both of which could have been bookends of a post-Sun Jerry Lee Lewis album—set the stage for a Memphis-to-Muscle Shoals musical road map with enough tributaries to take in the West Texas tumbleweed vibe of "Black Widow Eyes," the smoldering Gulf Coast soul of "I Like Everything I See" and the harp-heavy blues rocker "24/6 Not 7," co-written with Austin honky-tonker Dale Watson. The Tennessee-to-Alabama highway is a road well-trod by Scott and Halley, whose production pedigrees reflect the respective locales. Similarly, the crack studio combo anchored by garage soul guitarist John Paul Keith proves perfectly comfortable dwelling on the edge of any musical cliff, as long as there's feeling in it.

Whether considering the past with bittersweet introspection in "She Let Me Slip Right Through Her Fingers" or the potential future with bar room intimation in "Good Side, Bad Side, Side Of Crazy Too" (where Jerry nods to his brief career in the wrestling ring by introducing himself with his nome-du-plume DeLayne Phillips), the songs just seem to get deeper and deeper, crescendoing with the taking-stock-yet-refusing-to-declare-defeat triumph of "New Pair Of Everything" ("I'm not gonna give up / No, I'm not goin' down / That don't mean my world / It ain't spinnin' 'round and 'round..."). The song's strident horn lines are the perfect set-up for a downshift to the swamp-rock swagger of "Specify," where Jerry signs off singing over a Pops Staples guitar riff that brings to mind one of his favorite Sputnik Monroe quotes: "Rough, tough and hard to bluff."

As soulful and southern as it is singularly spontaneous, For The Universe, like Jerry Phillips himself, brings to mind another quote, this one from Muscle Shoals country soul songwriter Dan Penn. "Somebody asked Dan one day, 'How would you describe the Memphis sound?' And he said, 'Well, we just don't let anybody tell us what to do.' And that's it!"

TGCD1

Street Date: 8/23/2024

Throbbing Gristle revisits TGCD1, long out of print, now available on CD for the first time in 25 years and on vinyl for the first time ever via Mute. This release includes the original sleeve notes by all the members of the band, uncovering the story and ethos behind TG's independent record label, Industrial Records.

Formed in 1975, Throbbing Gristle, aka Chris Carter, Peter "Sleazy" Christopherson (1955-2010), Cosey Fanni Tutti, and Genesis Breyer P-Orridge (1950-2020), fully delivered on punk's failed promise to explore extreme culture as a way of sabotaging systems of control. Their impact on music, culture, and the arts has been immeasurable and still felt today.

Originally released on Mute's imprint, The Grey Area, in 1986, TGCD1 comprises forty-two minutes of studio recordings captured at their own Industrial Records Studio on a TEAC 8-Track in 1979. Initially serving as an exclusive piece of unreleased material for TG's first-ever CD release, the record's dark and harsh droning sound stands as a significant chapter in their discography, showcasing the band during, arguably, their most formative era.

TGCD1 is reissued alongside The Third Mind Movements - both vital additions for dedicated Throbbing Gristle and industrial music fans.

The Third Mind Movements

Street Date: 8/23/2024

Throbbing Gristle unveils a brand new reissue of The Third Mind Movements, released commercially for the first time on CD and vinyl via Mute.

Formed in 1975, Throbbing Gristle, aka Chris Carter, Peter "Sleazy" Christopherson (1955-2010), Cosey Fanni Tutti, and Genesis Breyer P-Orridge (1950-2020), fully delivered on punk's failed promise to explore extreme culture as a way of sabotaging systems of control. Their impact on music, culture, and the arts has been immeasurable and still felt today.

Having reformed in 2004, Throbbing Gristle's The Third Mind Movements initially emerged as an exclusive release only available on the band's last ever American tour in 2009, before they split again in 2010. As the title implies, the album delves into the established connections between Throbbing Gristle and William S. Burroughs, particularly through the beloved cut-up technique, famously pioneered by Burroughs and Brion Gysin in 'The Third Mind'. The album travels through manipulated, time-stretched, and distorted samples, with rhythmical breakbeats and hypnotic oscillations of electronics.

The Third Mind Movement is released alongside TGCD1 - both vital additions for dedicated Throbbing Gristle and industrial music fans.

SWEDISH POWER ROCKERS DAMPF RELEASE SECOND ALBUM 'NO ANGELS ALIVE'

Swedish genre-blending power rockers DAMPF will release their second album, No Angels Alive, on August 23rd 2024 on Silver Lining Music. Led by singer/songwriter A-Tron (aka Martin Erikson – E-Type) and keyboardist/songwriter Beak, No Angels Alive is an all-in 10 song storytelling experience blending expansive yet tightly bound stylistic ingredients incorporating hard rock, thrash, melodic power metal and electronic edges.

Completed by Bhéara (aka Olivia Thörn on vocals), Haderajja (aka David Wallin on drums – Hammerfall), Bahari (aka Pontus Egberg on bass – King Diamond, The Poodles), Skaeggyxa (aka Love Magnusson on guitar – Dynazty), Sha-Zam's (aka Sam Söderlindh on guitar) and Arkoüda (aka Björn Åkesson, growl), DAMPF engage in a theatrical journey through the timeless historical corridors of human darkness. No Angels Alive plays like a grand collective performance piece, songs such as 'Masquerade' bring catchy melodic sensibilities to a gathering which also includes anthemic hooks such as 'Ghost', the thunderous twin-guitar attack of 'Heart Of Darkness', maritime singalongs like 'War With The World', and thrashy power gallops like 'Mists Of Avalon (Don't Wake Me Up)'.

MICHAEL HUTCHENCE

ONE WAY/SAVE MY LIFE

For fans of INXS, Michael Hutchence and 80's Rock!

Michael Kelland Hutchence was the co-founder, lead singer, and lyricist of the rock band INXS from 1977 until his death in 1997. The band sold over 50 million records worldwide and was inducted into the ARIA Hall of Fame in 2001.

A decade or so after Michael's death a number of unreleased ideas surfaced in a tape locker in London. This was material Michael's IP company had financed and that he had been developing for his solo endeavor. In going through the ideas, it became apparent this would be something worth exploring, starting with "Friction" and what became "One-Way". Producer Danny Saber (Rolling Stones, Ozzy Osbourne, Madonna, Seal, etc...) began the process of producing finished masters.

The result is this Limited Edition Red vinyl picture disc with the aforementioned "One Way" and b-side "Save My Life". This is a true piece of musical history and will forever solidify Michael Kelland Hutchence as the brilliant singer/songwriter he is.

For fans of Hard Rock and Metal!

Zero One Zero is a no nonsense American Hard Rock Band. There comes a time when enough is enough and you want to take your music back! Rock music has turned into a bland cookie cutter version of its former self. Zero One Zero is going against the norm and providing a valuable service. The Band is Rob 'Boots' Zawisza – Vocals, James Ferrentino – Guitars, Mark Ahles – Drums, Marc Russell – Bass. The bands latest release Traces Of Yesterday was produced by Grammy Award winner Paul Nelson (Johnny Winter). As the band explains, "We were approached by Paul in December of 2020 as he wanted to produce a record with us

After hearing our second studio album Full On. We were honored to have a Grammy Award-winning Producer and talented musician find interest in us. We all met at his studio, The Music Room in February of 2021 and worked out the details of what would become our third studio album, Traces Of Yesterday."

Unfortunately, Paul passed away suddenly in March of 2024 but not without leaving his mark on Traces Of Yesterday. With standout tracks like the first single "You Knock Me Out" and follow up "I Am Calling". Zero One Zero is now about to take their spot in Hard Rock as a force to be reckoned with.

OVERVIEW

Pink Bubbles Go Ape is the fourth studio album by legendary German power metal band Helloween, released in 1991. It marked the departure of original guitarist Kai Hansen, with Roland Grapow replacing him. Musically it was written with a softer, less epic, and sometimes humorous approach, which would be later fully implemented in the band's following album Chameleon (1993). It spawned the hits singles 'Kids Of The Century' and 'Number One'.

Now as part of the 40th anniversary of the band, this classic has now been remastered and the original artwork restored.

Mutant, in partnership with Hollywood Records and 20th Century Films, is proud to present the premiere physical edition of Mark Korven's terrifying score to THE FIRST OMEN. Combining the inventive and dynamic instrumentation he is best known for, Mark Korven (THE WITCH, THE LIGHTHOUSE) has created a truly unsettling and powerful score to this new chapter to the legendary series. Jerry Goldsmith's Academy Award® winning score for the original 1976 classic THE OMEN is a totemic work of horror cinema. The film is the only time a horror film has ever won an Oscar for its score. Korven clearly knows he has big shoes to fill, because he takes his scoring style to powerful new heights with this brilliant work. It helps that Mark Korven is one of our favorite working composers. His score to THE FIRST OMEN is an incredible achievement and a fitting inclusion in one of the most important legacies of Horror filmmaking. A lot has changed since 1976, but one thing that hasn't is that horror scores deserve to be played as loud as possible, on vinyl, from your home stereo. Pressed on two 140gram vinyl discs, housed in printed inner sleeves, contained within a die-cut jacket.

The score features all-new music from acclaimed composer Joby Talbot and songwriter Neil Hannon. Composer Joby Talbot says: "Paul King is a director who puts music front and center. I'm grateful that he gave me so much room to really explore the musical possibilities of the beautiful and exciting world he created."

Songwriter Neil Hannon says: "To be allowed to stir some of my own imaginative ingredients into Paul's fantastical recipe is one of the honours of my life. To get to work with my old friend and collaborator Joby Talbot again was a joy, and reminded me of what a genius he is. And for my humble songs to share the stage with two Newley-Bricusse classics I grew up adoring is something I could only have dreamt about. AMORPHIS has brought us closer to the Finnish national epic, the "Kalevala", toured the world several times, received countless gold records and managed to achieve success after success with their unmistakable mix of metal, folklore and rock.

With their fateful thirteenth studio album »Queen Of Time«, the band provided a groundbreaking epic about the rise and fall of civilization.

Attentive listeners may have expected a further rise in the level of heaviness after the release of their last record (culminating in 2015 in the phenomenal and acclaimed »Under The Red Cloud«), but AMORPHIS has changed the game once more. The band, which in recent years has refined and improved its iconic style, now opens a breathtaking new chapter. One thing is already certain: AMORPHIS has never before told their stories of the thousand lakes as complex, as enthralling, as inventive and monumental as on »Queen Of Time«.

Guesting on the album is the likes of Chrigel Glanzmann (ELUVEITIE) on pipes, laryngeal singer Albert Kuvezin and saxophonist Jørgen Munkeby, plus an orchestra and a choir (a novelty for a band now in their 30th year)! These elements deliver a dramatic and cinematic depth to the sound, making everything even more epic, even deeper, and even more meaningful than ever before. Most importantly, these additions do not steal the show from the archaic magic that is AMORPHIS.

And that is just the beginning. The entire album is a ride at full speed through archetypally Finnish metal witchcraft; a dark, mysterious, melancholic evening around the campfire. The fabulous melodies in the fast-paced 'Message In The Amber' are as Nordic as they can be, in 'Daughter Of Hate' aggression and black metal screams unite with oriental melodies into a fire signal of the downfall with dark choirs. 'Wrong Direction', on the other hand, is gentle in nature and intentionally reduced. But just because AMORPHIS now has choirs and strings it does not mean that they completely overburden their sound. 'We Accursed' comes with full energy: Subtle Ennio Morricone flair, majestic, sublime, elegant - already a future classic in the live set! And then, of course, there's the overarching 'Amongst Stars', another anthem with the fabulous Anneke van Giersbergen contributing a guest appearance.

Founded in 1990 in Helsinki, Finland-based melancholic metal masters AMORPHIS wrote music history, incl. classic albums like f.e. their debut »The Karelian Isthmus« (1992), their breakthrough »Tales From The Thousand Lakes« (1994) and »Eclipse« (2006), their first album with the new vocalist Tomi Joutsen, which marked the beginning of a new era in the band's history.

Regardless of their relentless touring schedule, they secretly returned to the studio to write and record their forthcoming, twelfth record with famous producer Jens Bogren (SOILWORK, KREATOR etc.) at his Fascination Street Studio in Örebro. The result of this two-month recording session is once again a heavy, melodic statement, called »Under The Red Cloud«.

During the recordings, the sextet was joined by some famous guest musicians: Chrigel Glanzmann (ELUVEITIE) played flutes on 'The Four Wise Ones', 'Death Of A King' and 'Tree Of Ages', Martin Lopez (ex-OPETH drummer) played percussions on 'Death Of A King' and Aleah Stanbridge (TREES OF ETERNITY) sang guest vocals on 'The Four Wise Ones', 'Sacrifice' and 'White Night'.

The whole recording process was a time full of extremely intense work for AMORPHIS. “It was the first time, that I woke up at 08.00am to start recordings. They went on until 06.00pm in the evening - every day! But the result was definitely worth it,” the guitarist continues. “It was a great experience and Jens made us playing more aggressive and working really hard“, drummer Jan Rechberger adds. Jens Bogren also handled the mixing and mastering of »Under The Red Cloud«.

A perfect example for the variety and feel is the first single 'Death Of A King'. It starts with an oriental melody & crashing drums, and has a lot of dynamics. The follow-up 'Sacrifice' is more upbeat and relies more on the soaring lead melody, like the opener 'Under The Red Cloud', which starts with a tension-creating piano intro. The title track flows over into the double bass-dominated and one of the most aggressive songs on the album - 'The Four Wise Ones'. Finally, the closing track 'White Night' marks a kind of summary of the album, because it contains some trademarks of other songs like an oriental feeling or driving double bass drumming at the end. So it's a worthy last chapter of the story, AMORPHIS are telling us this time.

Stress Dolls is the moniker of Buffalo, NY native Chelsea O'Donnell. On her album O'Donnell reflects on the moments and feelings that have stuck with her throughout her life; from the anguish caused by health complications explored in "Body" to a love-hate relationship with isolation touched upon in "Alone" to the endless yearning that falling in love can bring considered in "Close Enough," O'Donnell brings each song to life with catchy melodies and a voice so unique you'll want to hear it for yourself.

Currently, Stress Dolls takes on several forms live: solo with O'Donnell and her acoustic guitar; as a duo when joined by longtime collaborator Sally Schaefer on violin; or as a band when combined with members TJ Luckman (bass), Jordan Smith (lead guitar), and Josh English (drums).

Cissy's Musical Story Box

ANIMAL TALES

For Children's Stories and Classic Tales

Welcome to Cissy's Musical Story Box "Animal Tales," a collection of timeless short stories that appeal to the inner child in all of us. They are narrated by Cissy Croat, and are set to amazing musical creations. The stories take place all over the world, telling captivating tales of exotic animals and how they've evolved into the beautiful and fascinating creatures they are today.

The idea for Cissy's Musical Story Box, came about one evening during a seemingly normal conversation between the creators about spending time with their children. They both felt that the audio versions they had heard were often boring and set to music that is nearly unbearable. So they set out to create something that had some cool music to listen to and an animated voice telling the story.

After their first recording session, they knew they could create an audio version of Rudyard Kipling's Just So Stories and Aesop's Fables that would be exciting and pleasurable for both children and their parents. The stories told in "Animal Tales" are great for young children, all the way through adulthood.

They tell unbelievable folk tales set to incredibly imaginative music that emphasizes the attributes of the stories' characters. They are engaging, entertaining, and truly enjoyable to listen to. Cissy along with Charlie Calv (Angel) and some accompanying guitar from Jimmy Leahey (Dennis DeYoung) have created a delightful collection of narrated, musical stories that leave the listener feeling an overwhelming sense of innocent curiosity and childlike happiness.

NEKTAR

MISSION TO MARS

For fans of Nektar, Van Der Graaf Generator and Progressive Rock!

Formed in Germany in 1969, Nektar favored extended compositions and concept albums over the constraints of pop. They were among the progenitors of the progressive rock movement of the 1970s as well as the jam-band scene that arose in the late 1990s. Their sound traveled well to the States, where they enjoyed Top 40 success with "A Tab in the Ocean" (1972) and "Remember the Future" (1973). Nearly 20 albums and a half-century later, the band's artistic and personal charisma has earned them masses of devoted fans.

As they began the next 50 years of their career, they kicked it off earlier this year with "Journey to the Other Side – Live at The Dunellen Theatre June 10, 2023". Capturing the band with a 2CD/DVD set clocking in at over 2 and 1/2 hours and spanning the band's entire career with classics like "Remember the Future Parts 1 & 2", "A Tab in the Ocean", and the last to have primary member Ronnie Howden who died suddenly at the ripe old age of 78 on September 29th, 2023.

Now Nektar is broadening their horizons with the first in the "Mission To Mars" trilogy. Their first to feature new drummer Jay Dittamo, alongside longtime members Ryche Chlanda (guitars), Kendall Scott (keyboards), and original members Derek "Mo" Moore (bass) and Mick Brockett (visual environment).

From the rocking title track "Mission To Mars" to the beautiful "I'll Let You In", Nektar covers all of the prog rock bases while venturing into some new melodic territories.

For fans of John Lee Hooker, Blues Brothers and Blues Rock!

David "Lefty" Foster has been captivated by music, particularly the blues, since his professional singing career began at the tender age of 14. Almost three decades on from their last release, Acid Jazz forefathers Galliano are back with news of their new LP 'Halfway Somewhere' which is being released on Gilles Peterson's Brownswood Recordings on 30 August.

Born out of London's underground clubs and warehouse parties of the mid to late eighties, with the debut single on the Acid Jazz label in 1988, Galliano came out of a culture that spanned music, dance, fashion, art, design, and the written word.

When they arrived as the first act on Gilles Peterson's Talkin' Loud label in 1990 with 'Welcome to the Story' (produced by Chris Bangs who invented the term Acid Jazz) dressed in Gabicci sweaters, beads and skullcaps they captured a scene built on re-invention. "We were all playing around with what we could get our hands on whether that was a seventies book on Jamaican style or old Last Poets and Watts Prophets records," says Gallagher. "We'd been recycling things for a few years but suddenly everything had coalesced and you've got an amalgam that seemed quite solid."

For their first album since 1997, Rob Gallagher and his partner, vocalist Valerie Etienne, are joined by Galliano stalwarts Ernie McKone on bass, Crispin Taylor on drums, and Ski Oakenfull on keys (with guests including saxophonist Jason Yarde and percussionist Crispin 'Spry' Robinson).

Where the old Galliano recycled records they heard at clubs, today they are responding to the kaleidoscopic global jazz scene - from Total Refreshment Centre in London to International Anthem in Chicago. More than forty years since they came together, Galliano are still only 'Halfway Somewhere', but listening to the album they are obviously having fun getting there. "I think the stars have to be aligned when you redo things," says Gallagher. "Coming at it from this door is very different to the door we came into back then. But once it's existing it is something. But I'm still not sure what that something is."
