PROJECT OVERVIEW

The Ache features lead radio single "He Does (Oh By the Way)," a cleverly penned, choir-assisted, celebratory reminder about God's role as a consistent provider and faithful friend. Heath co-wrote the song with Kyle Williams (We Are Messengers, TobyMac), who produced the majority of the album alongside additional production from Micah Kuiper (Jeremy Camp, Anne Wilson) and Cason Cooley (NEEDTOBREATHE, Ellie Holcomb).

ABOUT BRANDON HEATH

Five-time GRAMMY®-nominated, eight-time GMA Dove Award recipient and Platinum®-selling singer / songwriter Brandon Heath is poised to release his eighth studio record and second LP with Centricity Music, The Ache, later this year. Holding the tension of loss and longing, the album shares the intrinsic ache experienced this side of heaven and points listeners to the things that matter most to Heath — family, faith, community and his ultimate belief that there is life after death.

NEEDTOBREATHE

THE OUTSIDERS

BUY! HERE'S WHY!

- The return of the award-winning 2009 release.
- Available on CD and limited-edition translucent red LP.
- On tour throughout 2024.

Since 1999, the Grammy-nominated southern rock band NEEDTOBREATHE have quietly emerged as a dynamic force in music, from releasing their first album in 2001 to finding themselves playing arenas and receiving nominations for multiple Dove Awards, Grammys, and Billboard Music Awards.

After releasing two successful albums Daylight and The Heat on Atlantic Records, the band released their third album, The Outsiders, in 2009. The record quickly put them on the map, peaking at #20 on the Billboard 200 and at #2 on the Hot Christian Albums charts. Their single "Something Beautiful" crossed over to Triple A (#12) and "Hurricane" to the Alternative charts (#29). AllMusic gave the album four stars, claiming it "offer[s] up another collection of sweeping, reverent rock songs [and] flirts with touches of roots rock and traditional gospel, from the title track's powerful Southern stomp to the sheer power of Bear Rinehart's voice." The Outsiders won the Dove Award for Rock/Contemporary Album of The Year, and "Lay 'Em Down" landed honors as Rock/Contemporary Recorded Song of the Year. Two years later, the band would be on tour as the opening act for Taylor Swift's Speak Now world tour, as well as performing alongside acts including Tim McGraw and Train. Since the release of this landmark album, NEEDTOBREATHE has reached arena-sized proportions, headlining iconic venues such as Bridgestone Arena in Nashville, Tennessee, and four sold out shows at Red Rocks Amphitheater in Morrison, Colorado. The band most recently performed at the 2024 CMA Awards in Austin, Texas, with Jordan Davis, whom they also recorded an episode of CMT Crossroads with.

Now, over 15 years since The Outsiders was released and brought the band to greater heights, NEEDTOBREATHE are re-pressing the long sold-out record for the first time ever on translucent red vinyl.

Mutant, in partnership with WaterTower Music, are proud to present the premiere physical media release of Tom Holkenborg's explosive score to George Miller's latest wasteland epic FURIOSA: A MAD MAX SAGA. Tom Holkenborg's collaborations with the legendary George Miller [Mad Max: Fury Road, Three Thousand Years of Longing] have produced some of the most unique and powerful film music of the last decade. With FURIOSA, he takes the sonic landscape he created with the last film and shifts into higher gear. The loudest revving-engine of a score you've ever heard, absolutely pulsating with ferocity and white-knuckle tension.

"My collaboration with the incredible George Miller began over a decade ago with our work on Mad Max: Fury Road, a project that marked a pivotal moment in my career as a film composer." says Holkenborg. "Returning to this world to score the odyssey of Furiosa, an epic tale of survival, resilience and revenge has been just as eye-opening and gratifying. Furiosa: A Mad Max Saga is a testament to the vision of a singular film maker, whose pursuit of excellence always inspires me to push my creative limits."

2x CD set with liner notes by composer Tom Holkenborg and housed in a tri-fold sleeve designed by Mutant co-founder Mo Shafeek.

The Fall Guy is our favourite kind of movie - it's a love story not only between the film's two leads but also a love letter to the cinema. Its also a love letter to the people who risk their lives to tell us stories. That it's scored like a stadium rock anthem also helps.

Dominic Lewis has produced a soundtrack that makes you want to stand up and cheer in the theater and blast at full volume at home.

It is pressed on 2x 140-gram Black vinyl and features liner notes by the film's director, David Leitch, and composer, Dominic Lewis.

Hilton's last album, 2006's Paris Hilton, landed in the Top 10 on the Billboard 200 and featured the RIAA Gold-certified hit single, "Stars Are Blind". A music video for the album's focus track, "Bad Bitch Academy", will be released in September. In October, Paris will perform headline shows at The Palladium in LA and at Irving Plaza in NYC. iHeart will be running a month-long pre-promote campaign including broadcast, streaming, podcast, and editorial, focusing on Bad Bitch Academy. The campaign will feature liners from Paris on the song process (iHeart's campaign for lead single I'm Free drove 59M on-air impressions).

"I wanted this album to be an escape. To take people to a happy place where they can heal and party in equal measure. Where you can feel safe, feel empowered and most of all, be your own unapologetic icon." – Paris Hilton Collaborating once again with Black Acid Soul producer Chris Seefried, the pair produce a second album that not only embodies the freewheeling, emotive Lady Blackbird sound, but that also taps into deeply vulnerable lyrics that recount the singer's challenging ascent to musical stardom.

In taking charge of her own life and her own sound, Lady Blackbird walks a new path, making each note on Slang Spirituals a step in a radically different direction. Across 11 tracks Lady Blackbird puts her sweeping, cinematic vocal power to use on everything from the soulful orchestral fanfares of 'Let Not (Your Heart Be Troubled)' to the finger-picking folk storytelling of 'Man On A Boat', euphoric gospel empowerment of 'Like A Woman' and the seven-minute psychedelic soul instrumental of 'When The Game Is Played On You'.

Lady Blackbird will be touring the new album Slang Spirituals in Europe and the UK through 2024 and into 2025.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

RIAA Certified Gold®-selling Centricity Music band Unspoken releases its fourth, full-length studio album IV featuring their current radio single: "What He Says About You." This single follows three No. 1 Billboard radio songs, 11 Top 15 hits, over 350,000,000 on-demand streams and more than 152,000,000 music video views which the band has racked-up since its formation in 2014.

"There are one million voices vying for our attention. Social media, news, culture, peers, not to mention the voices in our heads. It's a struggle to hear the truth among the lies. We wrote "What He Says About You" with our daughters in mind, wanting to remind them that there's only one voice that really matters: the Voice of Jesus," says Mattson referencing John 10:27-28. "I don't know what voices you're hearing today, but the word of God always brings us back to reality in truth. You are loved, chosen and treasured. That is the truth. Don't give power to lies you may tell yourself or that are spoken over you, because truly, the only thing that matters is what He says about you."

"The world will tell us it doesn't matter what anyone else thinks about us, it only matters what we think about ourselves. But Paul shows us we can't even trust our own feelings," adds Lowry referencing 1 Corinthians 4: 3, 4. "Only through trusting what God says about us can we have true freedom from the lies others tell us and the lies we tell ourselves. And what does God tell us? As we place our faith in the finished work of Christ, the Father sees us and says, 'you are my beloved child in whom I am well pleased.'"

The new music follows Unspoken's God Help Me 2023 EP featuring the "God Help Me" music video that has that has been viewed more than 2.8M times on YouTube alone and 2019's Reason, whose title track became the band's biggest multi-format chart-topper to date. The album also produced a pair of Top 15 radio singles: "You've Always Been" and "Just Give Me Jesus."

ABOUT UNSPOKEN

Unspoken's music is as distinct as its roots. Its soulful, pop-flavored songs are led by the Adam Levine-esque vocals of Chad Mattson. Fueled by Mattson's transparency as a songwriter who has battled addiction and is now two decades into his sobriety, along with Jon Lowry (bass), Ariel Munoz (drums), and Matthew Calloway (keys), Unspoken has no fear of mixing it up, whether backed by a horn section, gospel choir or hip-hop rhythms. The band released its self-titled album in 2014 sparking two No. 1 Billboard radio hits, "Start A Fire" and "Lift My Life Up," which launched them into headliner tour positions. The band's sophomore album, Follow Through (2016), debuted at No. 7 on the Billboard Top Christian Album Chart while its album, Reason (2019), sparked the band's biggest, multiformat No. 1 hit so far, "Reason." Unspoken's Top 10 AC hits include: "Good Fight," "You've Always Been" and the iTunes Top Christian Song of the Year in 2012, "Who You Are." Having toured with TobyMac, Casting Crowns, Mercy Me, Big Daddy Weave and more, Unspoken band members are living out their mission to be unspoken testimonies to God's love and power, and to speak what oftentimes goes unsaid.

White Noise & Lightning

The Best of

CONTINENTAL DRIFTERS

BUY! HERE'S WHY!

- 15-track CD/11-track LP collection of material spanning their career produced with full cooperation from the band.
- CD features a previously unissued 12-minute live version of "Who We Are, Where We Live"
- Packaging contains new liner notes from Sean Kelly—author of the upcoming band biography White Noise & Lightning: The Continental Drifters Story

"There have been plenty of unquestionably great bands throughout history, but a relatively small number of those bands have a real distinctiveness to their sound and makeup. Once you get to know the Continental Drifters, it becomes apparent that they possess that rare singularity."

—Sean Kelly from his liner notes

Periodically marketed as a "supergroup," Continental Drifters are simply just a congregation of like-minded musical souls, whose other bands just happened to include the Bangles, The dB's, The Cowsills, and more. From their debut single, "The Mississippi," through 1994's eponymous debut, 1998's Vermillion, 2001's Better Day, and Nineteen Ninety-Three (recorded in that year, but released a decade later), the Drifters' line-up may have been fluid, but their sound always instantly identifiable, comforting, and just plain fantastic.

White Noise & Lightning: The Best Of Continental Drifters paints the story of this super group. The 11-track LP and 15-tracks CD (featuring a previously unissued 12-minute live version of "Who We Are, Where We Live") follows the band's journey across their entire career.

Released in conjunction with Sean Kelly's White Noise & Lightning: The Continental Drifters Story (coming in date from Cool Dog Sound) which chronicles the 10-year journey of the Continental Drifters, following the band through years of cross-country moves, lineup changes, industry highs and lows, marriages, divorces, and dozens of songs.

Just as Kelly's authorized biography of the band tells the story of a critically acclaimed, commercially overlooked band that became so much more, White Noise & Lightning is not only a great place to start for the uninitiated, but is the perfect soundtrack for this legendary band.

EXOTIC THEMES FROM THE SILVER SCREEN, VOLUME ONE

by MICHAEL GIACCHINO

Mutant is proud to present Academy Award-winning composer Michael Giacchino's latest album, Exotic Themes for the Silver Screen – Volume 1, featuring iconic scores from Giacchino's extensive portfolio rendered in the retro lounge style of Exotica from the 1950s.

"It's no secret that we at Mutant are huge fans of Michael Giacchino," says Spencer Hickman, Co-Founder of Mutant. "We're excited to release a retrospective of his astonishing three decades as a composer. Rather than just curating a simple compilation of his previous works, Michael went back into the studio, rearranged and re-recorded every major theme from his career. These tracks have been recorded in an Easy Listening style inspired by such greats as Martin Denny and Les Baxter, creating not just a unique and incredible look back at some of the most beloved movie and television themes of the modern age, but also bringing a fresh, exciting take to the beautiful journey he has taken us all on with him. It feels like you are discovering these songs for the very first time: timeless, beautiful, and a joy to listen to. These newly recorded themes transport you to a far-off sunset, looking out at the ocean, complete with a cocktail in hand, providing a much-needed escape from the stress of modern times, and we can all agree that is something we all crave right now."

Exotic Themes for the Silver Screen – Volume 1 spans nearly two decades of Michael Giacchino's music, from his early video game scores to his television hits and blockbuster films. The album transforms these works through the lens of Exotica, replacing epic strings and thundering drums with vibraphones and marimbas.

"This album was inspired by the work of Arthur Lyman and Martin Denny," says Giacchino. "What would they do with the Star Trek theme? Or video games like Medal of Honor? It was a way for me to play in that world I loved so much growing up. I thought it would be fun to create a fantasy world, where this album was recorded back in 1967 and then lost, only to resurface today."

The album showcases Giacchino's unerring talent for melody, stripping down grand symphonies to their essential elements while retaining their aesthetic and emotional core.

"So much was rooted in the big orchestral sound, so it was really about scaling it back. The real trick is figuring out the little fun hooks and things you can add along the way. There were no rules; I was up for anything. It was a way to re-engage with the material and be creative in a new way."

Exotic Themes for the Silver Screen – Volume 1 includes an array of reinterpreted pieces from Michael Giacchino's career. Highlights include 'Primordial Forest' from the 1997 video game The Lost World: Jurassic Park, 'Life and Death' from Lost, the theme from Ratatouille, 'Roar!' from Cloverfield, 'Enterprising Young Men' from Star Trek (2009), 'A Man, A Plan, A Code, Dubai' from Mission: Impossible - Ghost Protocol, and a Super 8 suite.

Featuring package design by Luke Insect, and liner notes by Charlie Bridgen.

Mutant is proud to present the premiere physical pressing of The Octopus Project's score to The Zellner Brothers' latest film - Sasquatch Sunset. David and Nathan Zellner's feature may be devoid of (human) dialogue, but it is packed with gorgeously photographed vistas, lush forest and rivers - all underscored beautifully by long-time collaborators The Octopus Project. The film captures beauty and cruel realities of nature colliding in haunting and occasionally psychedelic ways. And thanks to the lush, poetic and inventive soundscape presented on this album, the film remains an unparalleled and unique artistic vision.

"We're so excited to continue our collaboration with the Zellner brothers - this is the fourth feature of theirs we've worked on and each has been a journey into a totally unique world, perhaps Sasquatch Sunset most of all." says The Octopus Project "A film without human dialogue leaves a lot of space for score in the storytelling, and it was a real treat to use that space to explore these character's minds through music. We tried to bring the same balance of pastoral naturalism and insane psychedelia to the score that the Zellners brought to the images and are so thrilled with the way it turned out."

INTERNATIONAL POP OVERTHROW

As is the norm, Bash assembled a stunning and diverse array of talent that span the traditional definitions of pop, with a keen eye on rock & roll.

—Brett Callwood, LAWeekly.com

Omnivore Recordings and The International Pop Overthrow Music Festival are proud to present International Pop Overthrow: Volume 25, a 3-CD compilation featuring 69 tracks by artists from all over the world who have played the International Pop Overthrow festival—along with some who haven't.

The IPO compilation series goes back as far as the 1998 when Volume 1 was a single disc. Since then, the compilation had expanded to two discs the following year, and then three discs in 2002 for Volume 5, and it has remained a three-disc set since that time. International Pop Overthrow: Volume 25 showcases artists from around the world from different countries, doing just about every sub-genre of pop music, including power pop, pop/rock, folk/pop, psychedelic pop, garage, indie-rock, modern rock, etc., making it one of the most well-rounded compilations available to the general public.

Although the International Pop Overthrow festival is essentially a showcase for unsigned bands, the compilation has featured some signed acts, and some who have gone on to be signed. These include:

- Jason Falkner
- Brendan Benson
- Roger Joseph Manning Jr.
- Peter Holsapple
- Shoes

Among those acts on Volume 25 include:

- Van Duren & Good Question

THE BIKERIDERS

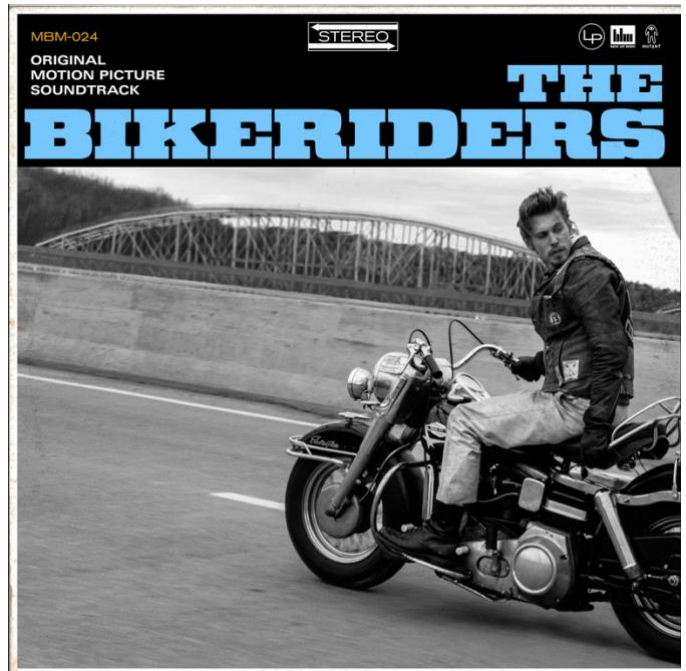

ORIGINAL MOTION PICTURE SOUNDTRACK

Mutant, in partnership with Back Lot Music, are excited to present the premiere physical release of the soundtrack to Jeff Nichols' film The Bikeriders.

Based on the 1968 book of the same name by Danny Lyon, The Bikeriders takes viewers deep into the inner circle of the rowdy, dark and uncompromising midwest motorcycle clubs of the 1960s. The soundtrack that surrounds it is an exciting compilation of rockabilly, blues and rock and roll classics, that places you deep into the period of freedom, Americana and anarchy.

The 1960's are still one of the most important periods in music history - where rock, pop, soul, blues and early seeds of punk ruled the radio. This compilation, curated by Nichols, captures the essence of this beautiful and turbulent time in our history - one that soundtracked the jukeboxes, radios and inner-lives of some of one of America's most fascinating counter-cultures.

Featuring hit songs from Muddy Waters, Gary U.S. Bonds, The Sonics, The Stooges, Dale Hawkins, The Staple Singers, Mickey Murray, The Shangri-Las, and more, this limited edition physical release features liner notes by the film's writer / director Jeff Nichols, and is pressed on 140g vinyl.

Side One

1. Lonely Room - performed by Mickey Murray
2. I Wanna Holler (But the Town's Too Small) - performed by Gary U.S. Bonds
3. Out in the Streets - performed by The Shangri-Las
4. My Babe - performed by Dale Hawkins
5. Raunchy - performed by Bill Justis
6. Mama Talk to Your Daughter - performed by Magic Sam
7. Mannish Boy (Electric Mud Version) - performed by Muddy Waters

Side Two

1. New Orleans - performed by Gary U.S. Bonds
2. Masters of War - performed by The Staple Singers
3. I'm Going Home - performed by The Sonics
4. I'll Never Learn - performed by The Shangri-Las
5. Down on the Street - performed by The Stooges
6. Treat Him Right - performed by Mickey Murray

PROJECT OVERVIEW

Drifters seeking Hollywood happiness, minor prophets preaching to folks who won't listen, working class sages, and incarcerated saints – Marigold by The Hillbilly Thomists is filled with characters making their way through this valley of tears. It's a folksy down-home Folk album with tight vocal harmonies, jumpy banjo picking, and jangly dobro slides that point listeners to practice patient hope amidst the choking thorns of life and that whoever you are and whatever path you're traveling on, it's the Lord who justifies.

About The Hillbilly Thomists

The Hillbilly Thomists are a band of friars of the Order of Preachers. After playing music together for several years, in 2017 they released The Hillbilly Thomists, their eponymous debut album, which reached #3 on the Billboard Bluegrass chart and mostly consisted of bluegrass standards and Americana favorites. In 2021, they released their second studio album, Living for the Other Side, released on the feast of St. Thomas Aquinas (the original Thomist). A year later, they published a third record, Holy Ghost Power, which peaked at #5 on the Billboard bluegrass chart. In the wake of that release, the friars embarked on The Old Highway Tour, taking them through eight cities from NYC to Cleveland, OH, including a stop in Nashville to perform at The Grand Ole Opry House. Proceeds from album sales, donations, and merchandise sales support the formation of friars at the Dominican House of Studies in Washington, D.C., where the Hillbilly Thomists first came together.

Re-issue of Toshio Matsuura's 2017 cult jazz / dance classic LOVEPLAYDANCE.

A project is focused on covers, putting classic or influential tracks in a new context. This new edition includes a cover of the Rotary Connection's classic "Black Gold of the Sun" featuring Cuban singer Daymé Arocena and her prodigious Havana-based players. as well as the high energy re-lick of Byron Morris and Unity's 'Kitty Bey', a classic at Gilles Peterson's seminal afternoon session at Dingwalls in the 1990s - neither included on the original vinyl LP.

Casting musical cornerstones in a fresh light, the TOSHIO MATSUURA GROUP features Tom Skinner (drummer for Smile, Sons of Kemet amongst others) as its musical director, as well as some of the UK's most exciting jazz-influenced musicians. Drawing on years of surveying and curating different corners of music, Matsuura deftly combines this talented pool of players into one singular, wide-ranging album. A co-founder of Japan's United Future Organisation (aka U.F.O.),

This new record sees Matsuura reconnect with long-standing friend and collaborator Gilles Peterson. Releasing the album via Brownswood Recordings in the UK, it's a continuation of a relationship which started as a bridge between London's then-blossoming jazz scene and Tokyo's new musical vanguard of the early '90s. This album continues that two-way dialogue between Japan and the UK. The scope of the music reflects the breadth of Matsuura's interests. It ranges from Bugges Wesseltoft's Detroit-influenced, dancefloor-minded jazz, stretched out into a more meditative contemplation, to Flying Lotus' LA-rooted, Brainfeeder beatmaking, translated from laptop-to-live, given a new, equally idiosyncratic lease of life. Elsewhere, Carl Craig's iconic 'At Les' is taken in a looser direction, the overtones of euphoria cast in a different hue.

They're touchpoints which hint at interests in the different, diffuse corners of electronic music, and how they connect to jazz and improvisation. Featuring an all star line up of some of the best players London has to offer the personnel line up including Nubya Garcia, Yazz Ahmed, Yussef Dayes and more.

Like many of his generation, Lefto has gained a global following because of his radio shows. Broadcasting on the likes of Kiosk Radio, The Lot Radio and the late Worldwide FM from his base in Brussels and several shows on NTS, he's become an international beacon of good taste whether dropping jazz, electronica, techno and house or hip hop.

Appearing as a special guest on live shows from Robert Glasper, Thundercat and touring with Badbadnotgood just to name a few, he's been praised for being consistently ahead, devoted to the future of music, not waiting for the next thing — he seeks it out.

No wonder he is affiliated to many international labels like Brownswood Recordings, Ninja Tune, R&S Records, Boiler Room and Red Bull Music. Lefto's biggest personal achievement is a remix album for Blue Note, but he also released productions on International Anthem, Heavenly Sweetness, Bastard Jazz Records, has a Serato record, and curated compilations for Gilles Peterson, Universal, BBE and SDBAN.

Famed for taking his crowd on a journey from Jazz to anything he likes, and blessing sound systems around the globe with regular nights in Japan, South-Korea, USA and Europe, he also curates his own nights in Belgium, is a resident at Horst Festival and hosts a stage at one of Belgium's biggest festivals, Dour Festival.

His new album "Motherless Father" shares his personal journey of abandonment as a child to becoming a parent himself.

'Motherless Father' draws heavily from jazz, and features electronic elements, live instruments and both naturalistic and distorted vocals - MixMag

ALKEMI is an album that strives for the “golden formula”, the ideal harmony between Jazz and its Pop, Latin, Caribbean, Urban, and Modern counterparts in Afro-Latin culture and brings Daymé out of her comfort zone in order to show her versatility and underline this new phase for Dayme opening up to a broader audience with her sound.

Produced by the quintessential latin urban fusion producer Eduardo Cabra (28-time Latin Grammy and Grammy winner combined), AL KEMI is an ode to sound experimentation and a tenacious discourse that stands out for its history of resistance, strength, and pride. The participation of other important figures of Latin music such as Vicente García and Rafa Pabón complement the sound experience of the album and exalt the figure of Daymé as the leading figure of the Afro-Latin movement. Finally, the emotional framework of the album integrates a narrative that stands out for its strength, sensuality, joy and nostalgic character that invites dance and movement.

Press Quotes:

“The prodigious jazz singer came to embrace her inner pop star on a new album made with Visitante from Calle 13” New York Times

“Alkemi is also an expansion into R&B, bossa nova, funk and neo-soul, providing a richly layered backdrop for Arocena’s powerhouse vocals to take center stage” NPR

“Alkemi veers into Latin pop with 10 tracks of ear worming hooks, synth melody and snapping electronic percussion” The Guardian oreglo is made up of c-sé (keys), Linus Barry (guitar), Nico Rocco (drums) and Teigan Hastings (tuba), who all met growing up in London. Across the 'Not Real People' EP, oreglo showcase their innovative take on multiple genres: freewheeling through heavy rock riffs to drill-inspired percussion and breezy reggae, the quartet have cultivated a unique sound that acts as a melting pot of all the sounds they know and love from London.

This eclectic approach is perhaps displayed best on new single 'peck', a sprawling seven minute odyssey. "'peck' is about the feeling of being pecked on the cheek by a crush. on the outside you're trying to play it cool but on the inside your feelings are exploding," the band explain.

'Not Real People' also features the previously released singles 'levels' and 'J.A.C.K.', and four new tracks including 'comet' featuring breakthrough London-based singer-songwriter Bel Cobain. oreglo share: "Not Real People is a reflection of our growth from adolescence into adulthood living in London. Our feelings of alienation, identity and love. Sonically this EP represents our exposure and interests in all genres."
